Aldermen Vacillate In Granting Gas Station Permits At West Newton

Break Rule Observed For Years In Granting Permit When No Plans Were Filed

The feature acts on the program given by the Newton Board of Aldermen on Monday night were contentions stunts performed on the granting of permits for gasoline filling stations. The weaving back and forth of some of the Aldermen on these matters reminded one of that intricate quadrille, "The Lancers," popular in the gay 90's. They were hither on the attitude they took on one station, and thither on their attitude on another.

The gadding on gasoline started when the report of the Licenses Committee on the petition of the Crane Puller Company for a station at 44 Chestnut street, West Newton was presented to the Board for action. Of the seven members of the Licenses Committee, six voted favorably on this petition. They were Aldermen Hawkins, Holden, Hill, Farrell, Sprout and Temperley. Alderman Smith was the only member of the committee to vote against this petition. He took the floor and said that he would refrain from explaining his stand until the report of the Licenses Committee on the petition of the Bachrach Realty Associates for a station at 973 Watertown street was presented. He said although this petition had been before the committee for a much longer time than the Crane Puller petition, no action had been taken on it until just before the regular meeting. He commented that some of the committee members who opposed the granting of the Bachrach petition were in favor of the later petition for the station on Chestnut street, and he wanted the Board to hear their arguments.

Alderman Farrell of Ward 3 then took the floor. He was one of the two members of the committee who opposed the Bachrach petition. It was the first time that Alderman Farrell had taken the floor since he became a member of the Board on January 1st. Prior to the meeting on Monday night he had maintained a discreet silence. He is engaged in the gasoline and oil business and he quoted data gathered by "experts" of the big gasoline companies to prove that it is necessary for a gasoline selling station to get the business of supplying 400 automobiles in order to pay. It has been estimated that there are so many filling stations in this city, that each would have but 235 cars to fill, if the total number of automobiles in the city constituted their source of business. Mr. Farrell argued that seven owners of independent gasoline stations in West Newton objected to the Bachrach station because it would injure their business through added competition, and their protests should be heeded. He stated that at the present time the City of Newton is employing more men than are needed, just to keep them employed, and he contended that the permit should not be given to the Bachrach Realty Company because there are too many filling stations in the city already.

Alderman Smith said that the Board of Aldermen has never guaranteed to petitioners of gasoline filling stations the sale of any specified number of gallons, and that the proposed station will be operated by an independent owner. He stated that the Bachrach Associates are heavy taxpayers and entitled to consideration. Alderman Hawkins said that the station will cause two old wooden structures on Watertown street, near Washington street, to be removed and improve the neighborhood. Alderman Hill, who was the other member of the committee to oppose the petition, said that there are six stations nearby and it does not add to the looks of a city to have too many stations. Alderman Bowen said that any new business meets with objections from competitors, but this is no reason why the Aldermen should turn down a petition. He stated that the old buildings the station will cause to be removed are fire hazards.

Alderman Gallagher said that several years ago the Board of Aldermen was blessed with a Licenses Committee which was of quite different mind regarding gasoline stations. This committee passed a resolution which would prohibit new filling stations located within a half-mile of any existing station. Gallagher then said, "Now, filling stations are so thick, they are like bootleggers at Newton Upper Falls. We have gas stations enough for 100 years."

Alderman Ball said that when the former Board of Aldermen passed the resolution to limit gasoline stations, all the members so voting, except former Alderman Earle and himself, reversed their stand at the next meeting and voted to grant a permit for a station on Centre place, Newton. He said former Alderman Favinger raised the issue that a permit for a station ought to be granted in any business zone unless some valid objection presented itself. Ball stated that the people of Newton, commenting on the many gasoline station permits which have been granted, are asking "Is any money being paid for these permits?" He said he knows this is not the case as he has served with 65 aldermen during the 10 years he has been on the Board, and he is sure none of them gruffed. He referred to the gasoline alley on Needham street at Newton Highlands.

Alderman Temperley said he tries to be consistent and while he agreed with Alderman Farrell that there are too many gas stations, we can't deny a man the right to use his business property unless it is shown that a station will be a detriment to health or traffic, or a fire hazard. He said some ordinance should be passed to limit the number of stations and called attention to the ordinance proposed by the Planning Board, which is printed elsewhere in this week's GRAPHIC. Socony Permit On Comm. Ave. Is Refused Aldermen Turn Down Petition For Gas Station

At the meeting of the Aldermen on Monday night the petition of the Standard Oil Company of New York for a permit to extend a non-conforming use by enlarging the gasoline selling station at 558 Commonwealth avenue, Newton Centre, was refused.

This matter had caused considerable concern to a large number of Newton Centre residents. At the hearing on this petition before the Aldermen a few months ago the case for the petitioner was argued by distinguished counsel, former Attorney General Herbert Parker, and many citizens of Newton Centre were present to protest. The Claims & Rules Committee of the Aldermen, one of whose functions is to consider such matters, made report at the meeting on Monday night. The committee was split on the petition. Three of the members who were present when the committee acted on the matter voted adversely on it. They are Aldermen Sprout, Chandler and Murray. Two members, Aldermen Grebenstein and Smith voted in favor of the petition. The other two members, Aldermen Bowen and Harte were absent.

Alderman Grebenstein, who is chairman of the committee explained his attitude at the Board meeting on Monday. He read a lengthy typewritten statement, which was, in substance, a repetition of the argument offered by Attorney Parker at the public hearing. It contended that the petitioner asks for no new use; only a continuance of an existing use in an altered and improved building. It stated that the petitioner wishes to alter the building for the better and competent utilization of a present authorized use through structural and arrangement better suited to the location, and more capable of responding to the requirements of public convenience. Mr. Grebenstein said that he is interested in the protection of the zoning ordinance as it affects public welfare and property rights. He asserted, as had Mr. Parker at the hearing, that long before the zoning ordinance, this locus was used not only for a gas station but also as a garage repair shop. As a matter of fact, there has not been a garage repair shop at this locus. The business conducted at the store where the gasoline has been sold, has been that of an automobile accessory store, with tire and oil service. Mr. Grebenstein stated that the property where the proposed station would be located is assessed for $2 per foot, while adjoining properties are assessed for only 30c per foot. He argued that the station would be more attractive than the stores now on the property and he concluded by asserting, as had Attorney Parker, that the petitioner can make the change even without the permission of the Aldermen, and needs only a permit from the Buildings Commissioner of Newton. The City Solicitor of Newton, Mr. Bartlett, rules otherwise.

Alderman Smith said that he favors the petition because the existing station is a nuisance and traffic hazard. Much of the time automobiles are parked double in front of it. The proposed station would overcome this condition and be an asset to the community. The tennis courts nearby would be disposed of in the future, and it is not probable that a good zoning ordinance would be enacted. He said this site is far better suited for a filling station than is the site at the corner of Willow and Centre streets, where the Board recently granted a permit. Alderman Hawkins took the floor to favor the petition and he read the preamble to the zoning ordinance which says, "To promote the health, safety, convenience and welfare of the inhabitants to lessen the danger from fire and to improve the city the use and construction of buildings are hereby restricted and regulated." Mr. Hawkins said that the granting of the petition would be in accord with this preamble. Alderman Temperley facetiously asked Hawkins if he is a member of the Claims & Rules Committee? Temperley's query was based on the fact that it has been a practice of the Board for members of the committee involved to first speak on a report emanating from their particular committee. Hawkins is not a member of the committee.

Alderman Pratt called attention to the fact that the filling station at 558 Commonwealth avenue has done a little business through the medium of a couple of small portable tanks, placed on the sidewalk, and that the principal business of the place has been automobile accessories. He said that while there was a division of sentiment among Newton Centre people regarding the station on Willow

Red Cross Not To Join Chest This Year Officials Feel Action Will Not Harm Progressive Movement

At the meeting of the Executive Committee of the Newton Chapter of the Red Cross held on Wednesday, the 21st of September, it was voted that, for the time being, the Chapter remain outside of the Community Chest which is beginning to function in Newton.

This does not mean that the Red Cross is out of harmony with the Community Chest organization, but simply that the nature of the Red Cross organization is such that it does not lend itself easily to participation. The two principal reasons behind the decision are the following:

- (1) the Red Cross is a national organization with fixed financial and organizational responsibilities to National Headquarters. These obligations could not be properly fulfilled if the Newton Chapter merged with any other organization.
- (2) participation in the Chest would mean discontinuance of the Red Cross Roll Call which has been conducted for the past fifteen years between Armistice Day and Thanksgiving Day throughout the country. This Roll Call is much more than a money collection of $1.00 memberships—it is a true call to the colors of every man, woman and child in the country. This Roll Call is an expression of loyalty and unselfish support—the spirit behind the Red Cross organization.

Community Chest officials were consulted before the Newton Chapter made its decision and the decision was made only after it was felt by those interested in the Chest that the non-participation of the Red Cross would in no way harm this very progressive movement.

The Newton Chapter of the Red Cross intends to co-operate with the Community Chest in every way possible and trusts that it will have many opportunities of doing so.

ANNUAL FIEDLER CONCERT

The Stearns School Centre announces its annual Fiedler concert to be held this fall on Sunday, Nov. 13, at three o'clock in the auditorium of the Newton High school. This concert will be by the Boston Cymantetta with Arthur Fiedler conducting. A large number of local people who are sponsoring music in various ways are interested in the coming event. The committee in charge includes Mrs. William E. Pones, Mrs. Carlos Montanari, Mrs. Eben H. Ellison, Mrs. Harry Stebbins, Mrs. Cecil W. Clark, Mrs. Edwin P. Brown, Mrs. Sydney Harte, Mrs. M. M. Allen, Miss Grace Weston, Miss Eugenia Bradshaw and Miss Lucy Cobb.

street, all residents of Newton Centre are opposed to the petition for the station on Commonwealth avenue.

Alderman Bowen said that the zoning ordinance was passed to provide restrictions for structures to be subsequently erected and to protect property rights acquired before this ordinance went into effect. The proposed rights of owners of the use of those holdings was established when the zoning ordinance went into effect, are entitled to more consideration than are objections of persons to alterations on buildings where such property rights have been existing. For this reason, Mr. Bowen said he would vote in favor of the petition.

Alderman Smith said that Bowen's attitude made the Claims & Rules Committee three to three on the matter and he moved that it be referred back for further consideration. His motion was lost. He then raised a Charter Objection. President Collins ruled that the objection was not in order and stated that the City Solicitor agreed with him on the ground that the matter had been before the Board at a previous meeting. He reminded the members that it would take a two-thirds vote to grant the petition. Alderman Holden said that City Solicitor Bartlett would rule that it is within the province of the Aldermen to grant or reject the petition. Alderman Smith next tried to block action on the matter by contending that five members would raise a Charter Objection. President Collins ruled this attempt of Smith's out of order by saying that this action can only be taken when a Charter Objection has been made at a preceding meeting by one member.

Alderman Ball asked for a rollcall vote on the matter. The aldermen who voted to sustain the majority report of the committee and refuse the petition were: Ball, Chandler, Collins, Farrell, Harte, Hill, Howlett, Murray, Holden, Pratt, Sprout and Temperley. Those who voted in favor of granting the petition were: Bowen, Floyd, Gallagher, Grebenstein, Hawkins, Jamieson and Smith.

Planning Board Would Restrict Gasoline Stations Five Hundred Feet From Public Buildings and Parks

The Planning Board of the City of Newton at its meeting on September 27th passed the following resolution: "That the Zoning Ordinance be amended to provide that no gasoline filling station, or vehicle service station, or service building shall be placed within 500 feet of any park, parkway or playground, or land upon which a church, school or public building owned by the city is located. And that such structures and buildings as now exist within such limitation shall not be enlarged or extended."

This resolution was presented to the Newton Board of Aldermen at its meeting on Monday night. It was referred to the Claims & Rules Committee and a public hearing assigned on it at the meeting of the Board of Aldermen to be held on Monday night, November 7.

FEW MEN GET WORK ON TURNPIKE

Few hopes were raised in the breasts of hundreds of unemployed men in this city, Wellesley, Needham and Natick recently when they registered as applicants for work on the section of the Worcester turnpike which is being constructed between Wellesley and Natick. Part of the cost of this job is being paid by Federal funds in connection with the emergency projects to relieve unemployment. A representative from the State Employment Bureau came to the various places named and registered hundreds of men as applicants for work on this job. It was stated that about 500 men would be employed on the project. As in other street construction jobs, comparatively few men were hired; machinery and trucks are doing the work.

FLAG POLE BREAKS—KNOCKS WIRES DOWN

The flag pole at the Peirce School grounds on Austin street, West Newton snapped at its base on Wednesday and fell across Austin street. It tore down electric and telephone wires. The accident occurred shortly before the pupils left the school at noon. The policeman on traffic duty kept the children away from the fallen wires which were soon repaired.

NEWTON POLICEMAN GETS MEDAL FOR BRAVERY

Patrolman Charles Cody of the Newton police was awarded a medal on Monday by the Massachusetts Humane Society for his action in rescuing a boy from drowning at North Scituate on July 18th. Cornelius Walraven of Jamaica Plain, who also assisted in the rescue, was likewise awarded a medal. Cody was on his vacation and was with the boy, fishing off the rocks at the seashore, when the youngster fell into deep water. Cody jumped in and kept the boy afloat for about 20 minutes. The boy slipped off Cody's shoulders and Walraven, who happened along at an opportune moment brought the nearly drowned lad ashore.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

NEWTON TACKLES EVERETT IN ANNUAL GRIDIRON BATTLE

Tomorrow afternoon on the Everett High School football field Newton High and Everett High will stage their annual gridiron battle. Regardless of the form or early season scores of these two teams the intense rivalry between the two schools sends both elevens into the game practically even. On paper Everett is the favorite but the vast improvement in the Newton defense between the Arlington and Cambridge Latin games promises to break up the Everett offense on the slightest occasion. This strength upon the defense should keep the score of the game down unless the nervousness which the inexperienced Newton eleven has shown at times upsets them. This inexperience has handicapped the development of the Newton eleven in an offensive way, but each game has taught its lesson and if the Newton attack clicks as it should the Gildea coached outfit may experience some surprises.

The Newton team last week, strengthened by the return of Kevorkian and the transfer of Houghton from end, provided the orange and black outfit with a pair of tackles who were immense. Both are big rugged boys and will undoubtedly carry much of the burden of the defense. The Cantabs found it much more difficult to penetrate the center of Newton's line than did Arlington and Everett may also find it difficult. Either Dick Francis or Charlie Thompson will start as the Newton pivot with the odds in favor of the former. Bevan and Rich will start as guards with the former replacing Bill Conway who is shaking off a severe cold.

On the ends Coach Sanborn will have Teddy Johnson and Finberg who are steadily improving. Little Eddie Grethe who took the field at left end against the Cantabs and showed considerable promise is expected to share in turning back Everett on the wings. The return of Captain Warren Huston to the backfield will strengthen the Newton team immensely. Against Cambridge nervousness and uncertainty was apparent without the presence of an experienced directing head. Huston, one of the headiest players in school football, and a triple threat as well should be able to make the Newton offense go. His mates in the backfield will be York, whose play stood out for Newton against the Cantabs, "Red" McCarthy and Miller.

Everett already has state championship aspirations, having won both of its games to date. Its opening victory was against Providence Commercial by a 38 to 0 score. Last Saturday in the final seconds of play a forward pass enabled the Gildea outfit to upset the strong Salem team by a 6 to 0 count. Incidentally Everett might be rated as but one touchdown better than the Newton eleven through the fact that Salem defeated Cambridge Latin by one touchdown, as did Newton while Everett proved to be one touchdown better than Salem. But this sort of calculation seldom proves accurate as in a football game anything is apt to happen. Last year Newton was by far the underdog in the Everett game and played the Gildea outfit to a standstill only to lose by a 7 to 6 score when the mistake of the quarterback in calling a trick play a second time resulted in an intercepted pass for the Everett touchdown.

Regardless of tomorrow's score it should be one of the best football games of the day and one which may prove the making of the Newton eleven.

Gilligan at Yale
Joe Gilligan is a promising candidate for understudy to Bob Lassiter in the Yale backfield this fall. With Lassiter on the injured list for a time Gilligan and Dugan are being given plenty of opportunity to show their ability for the call as relief for the Eli star.

Newton Police Win

The Newton Police golf team defeated Worcester police on Tuesday on the Brae Burn course, 17½ to 12½, in a return match. Worcester won the first match with a 4-point margin with Newton having a final edge of one point in the totals of the two matches.

Is Basketball Candidate

Robert Jensen of Newton is a candidate for a forward position on the Northeastern University freshman basketball team, which began practice last week Friday.

Harrington Stars

Boston University won its first opening game of the season in several years last Saturday with a 13 to 6 victory over New Hampshire University. In the line the play of Dan Harrington of Newtonville, veteran lineman, stood out. He played guard on offense and roving centre on defense and he was almost always in to make the tackle or assist his mates and seldom was put out of the play.

NEWTON TOPS CANTABS WITH YORK'S 60 YD. RUN

Newton High opened the 1933 Suburban League football season in a successful manner last week Friday with a 6 to 0 verdict over the Cambridge Latin high team on the latter's field. Newton's score came midway of the first period when Palmer York ran back a Cambridge punt for 60 yards through the entire Cambridge team. Receiving the kick on his 40-yard stripe, 20 yards in from the sidelines, he eluded the ends and tackles who bore down upon him. York circled his way to the left and with Houghton and Kevorkian cleaning out a couple of would-be tacklers the Newton back, who is a sprinter on the track team, flashed down the line for the score.

Newton presented a vastly improved defense over that which was defeated by Arlington the previous week but the Newton offense was marred by frequent fumbling which almost cost the victory. Of the nine local fumbles but two were recovered, resulting in numerous Cantab opportunities. On each occasion, however, the Newton team stiffened to withstand a none too strong opposing offense. Cambridge also fumbled five times.

Cambridge outrushed the orange and black but when things were darkest, Kevorkian and Houghton, the Newton tackles, broke up the play almost before it started. In the final minute of the game came the Cantab's most serious threat. York intercepted a Cantab pass on the home team's 35-yard line to give Newton an opportunity but two incomplete passes and a line play cost Newton five yards and forced York to kick. His kick was a beauty and came to rest on the Cambridge 5-yard line but Newton was offside and the ball called back. York's second kick went over the goal, to give the Cantabs the ball on their 20-yard line. Mixing line plays and passes on one of which Newton interfered, soon carried Cambridge to Newton's 11-yard line where it was first down. Sticking to line plays the Cantabs tried for the score. On the first play Kevorkian was on the runner for a yard loss, on the next Houghton duplicated, and the third Kevorkian was through again to nail Carchia for another yard loss as time expired.

Langdon Powers, Newton Centre youth on the Dartmouth varsity, scored one of the Green's touchdowns last Saturday in the 32 to 0 defeat of a stubborn University of Vermont team. GOLFERS HONORED AT DINNER PARTY

Quimet, Guilford and Blaney Tendered Dinner At Woodland Club

Francis Ouimet, Jesse Guilford and Bill Blaney, local golfers who made such a fine showing in the recent national amateur championships tournament at Baltimore were honored at a golfing party and dinner at the Woodland Club this week. The affair was a combination event of the Woodland and Brae Burn Country Clubs, as Ouimet and Guilford represent the former and Blaney the latter. About two hundred friends were present to honor the trio.

Previous to the dinner an informal four-ball tournament was held on the Woodland course. Guilford chalked up an eagle on the 18th hole after a flashy mishit shot of 125 yards to give him and his partner, Ouimet, a best-ball score of 67 duplicating the gross score posted by Blaney and a Brae Burn clubmate, Rutherford Ainslee. The latter pair were the match victors having a 2 and 1 margin over the home club pair. A two-stroke handicap for Blaney and Ainslee gave the Brae Burnites the low net honors by a single stroke over J. W. Gahan and H. D. Sargent.

At the buffet dinner the gathering was addressed by Talbot C. Chase, retiring president of the Mass. Golf Association; Charles H. Cross, incoming president; Leon B. Rogers, president of Brae-Burn; Henry A. Wentworth, M. G. A. Secretary; Art Ross, Bruin's hockey manager; A. Linde Fowler, Bill Cunningham and Dan MacDonald, sports writers; Matt W. Emerson, president of Woodland, acted as toastmaster.

Special prizes in the tournament went to Ben Rae and Ted Learnard who had the most 4's while there was a tie for the most 6's between Wentworth and Herbert Cole of Brae Burn and H. M. Biscoe and Ripley Dana, also of Brae Burn.

Aldermen

Grant Gas Station Permit

Gallagher's statement about the large number of bootleggers at Upper Falls, Temperley said he thought he was well acquainted with that village, but did not know of the prevalence of bootleggers there. He remarked that he supposed Gallagher spoke with authority, as one who knows. On a voice vote the Board voted to grant the permit to the Bachrach Associates.

Having granted the permit for the station at 975 Watertown street, the Aldermen next considered the petition of the Crane Puller Company at 44 Chestnut street, West Newton. This locus is at the big wooden barn formerly owned by the late William H. Mague and now owned by his estate. It is leased by the Crane Puller Company. At the meeting of the aldermen on September 12th a hearing was held on this petition. It was favored by Thomas McEnaney and John McEnaney of Highland street, West Newton who told the Aldermen that they were to start an automobile service station at the place and wanted the gasoline station in conjunction with it. Alderman Hawkins of the Licenses Committee said that there is a sidewalk pump at 44 Chestnut street, but the permit to use it for the public sale of gasoline expired several years ago. He stated that this pump would be moved back 10 feet so that cars would not be filled on the sidewalk. He did not say that on October 7, 1928, the then Licenses Committee, of which he was a member, turned down a petition for a permit to sell gasoline from this pump, because it has been the policy of the Aldermen in Newton for years not to grant permits for sidewalk pumps.

Alderman Smith explained why he opposed the granting of this petition. He said the locus has neither the proper width nor depth for a filling station. It is located next to a blind bridge over the railroad, it is at the foot of a steep grade, almost opposite the new branch library, near one of the most beautiful churches in the city, and close by the Peirce School, with many small children passing by. In short, the locus has about every disadvantage and objection that a filling station could have. He stated that Alderman Farrell showed his inconsistency by favoring a permit for this station under such conditions, while he opposed the permit for the other station in a far more suitable locus.

Alderman Farrell gave his reasons for favoring the permit for the Chestnut street station. He said that Mr. McEnaney, the real petitioner, had formerly been employed at the Pan Am Station at the corner of Chestnut and Washington streets; had built up the business there until an average of 800 gallons of gasoline were sold daily, and the services of his sons needed to assist him. Then, he was discharged by the big oil company, and his customers suggested he start a station of his own. The only available site is the locus at 44 Chestnut street. Alderman Harte asked if the Planning Board would approve of this station. Alderman Smith answered that it is in direct variance with the ordinance asked for by the Planning Board.

Alderman Bowen inquired if the plans of the proposed station allow for cars to be driven off the street? Alderman Hawkins answered that if the pump is moved back 10 feet, cars will be serviced in the driveway. President Collins of the Board interposed to remark that City Clerk Grant had informed him that no plans had been filed for this proposed station. Alderman Hawkins admitted this to be so, and he also admitted that the locus for this station is so small that cars would have to be backed out, if driven onto the driveway. Alderman Ball asked Hawkins if plans are not supposed to be filed and the latter admitted this to be so, but he stated that as this permit would be a renewal, the committee did not insist on plans. Alderman Bowen said that it should be made certain that cars will not be filled while on the street or sidewalk, and he commented that the location is not a desirable one.

The Board then voted to grant the permit, thus breaking a practice of years which had refused permits to gasoline stations where the locus does not permit of proper entrance and exit facilities; not granting until plans were filed showing the location of tanks, pumps and driveways, as well as other appurtenances.

Police News

Francis Tully, Jr., of Arlington Road, Brookline was found not guilty of driving while under the influence of liquor in the Newton court on Friday. He was found guilty of drunkenness and fined $10. Tully was arrested on the night of August 10th on Boylston street, Newton Highlands. The arresting officers testified that when they arrested him he was not driving the car, but was standing alongside it. In court the same day John Phelan of 337a Beacon street, Somerville, was fined $5 for using profanity. Patrolman McCormick testified that Phelan resorted to cuss words when he was cautioned for driving a truck at too high a speed. Philip Haller of Worcester was fined $5 for not stopping before entering a through way.

Frederick L. Crawford of 274 Newbury street, Boston, formerly of Newton was arraigned in the Newton court last Friday charged with larceny of $600 from Alice Cassidy of Boston. It is alleged that he borrowed the money from the woman and gave her a mortgage on an automobile which he claimed to own. She did not record the mortgage and it is charged that the car was not the property of Crawford. His case was continued to October 7.

Joseph Guillette, 54, no home, no employment and only $5 remaining, not desperate and decided that he would get board and lodging in jail. So he waited until he saw a policeman approach at West Newton Square and then hurried a stone through the window of an unoccupied store. The idea was successful. In the Newton court last Friday Judge Bacon sentenced Guillette to two months in jail.

Richard Hoover of Forest street, Watertown, was arrested Friday night at West Newton by Patrolmen Barry and Hayden charged with driving under the influence of liquor. He was observed driving his car in an uncertain manner along Commonwealth avenue. He will be tried on October 14.

J. B. Hunt, manager of a chain grocery store at 2091 Commonwealth avenue, Auburndale, which was robbed on the night of September 17th, went to Boston on Tuesday to view two white men and a negro who were arrested in that city. It was thought they might be the trio who held up Hunt and his assistant at the Auburndale store. Hunt could not positively identify the suspects.

George Newton of 240 Hunnewell street, Needham was arrested early Sunday morning by Patrolman Lupien, charged with driving while under the influence of liquor. He will be tried on October 10.

Two boys who had run away from their homes in Brooklyn, New York were apprehended by Newton police on Watertown street, Newtonville late Monday night. The pair, John Tringone, 16, and Domenic Nortamasso, 14, were trying to find the home of a relative of Tringone's. They were taken to police headquarters and their relatives notified.

While Fred Scribner of Needham street was on duty as keeper of a store at West Newton on Monday, someone stole his car while it was parked on Davis street. Another car stolen on Monday was that of Joseph Hickey of 181 Commonwealth avenue. This was taken about 2 a. m. while parked in front of Hickey's home.

The house at 373 Commonwealth avenue, Newton Centre, formerly the residence of the late Joseph H. Donovan, was broken into and looted recently. The burglary was discovered by Patrolman Frank Cain when he found a cellar door at the house open the first of this week. Donovan's widow remarried, and during the past year she died. On September 12th his foster daughter, Grace A. Donovan married Dr. Joseph Donovan of Peabody. The couple are in Europe on their honeymoon. It is supposed the burglar, or burglars entered by using a duplicate key. There has been litigation over the Donovan estate, and a significant feature of the looting of the house is that papers important in the litigation were stolen from a filing cabinet, while jewelry was not taken by the thieves.

At the regular assembly on September 29 Mr. Charles R. Spaulding, Director of Instrumental Music, told the school about classes in instrumental music that are open to pupils. He was assisted by soloists from the high school who played selections on the cello, violin and cornet.

PROF. AND MRS. H. H. POWERS OBSERVE GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Professor and Mrs. Harry H. Powers of 82 Church street, Newton observed their golden wedding anniversary on Tuesday, October 4. The observance was informal, no invitations having been sent out. About 150 friends visited them at their home on Tuesday afternoon and evening and they were the recipients of numerous gifts, including a profusion of flowers. Mr. Powers was born at Hebron, Wisconsin 73 years ago. He graduated from the University of Wisconsin in 1882 and in October of that year was married to Mary J. Montague of Oconomowoc, Wisconsin who was a graduate of Ripon College. She is a year his junior in age.

Professor Powers taught at Oberlin and Smith Colleges and at Leland Stanford and Cornell Universities. Thirty years ago he came to Newton and started the Bureau of University Travel, the pioneer in its field, and combining travel with education. The Bureau owned the yacht "Athena" which carried its tourists on trips to Mediterranean and Oriental countries until this boat was sunk by the Germans early in the World War. Prof. Powers also instituted the "University Prints," reproductions of classic subjects. Mr. and Mrs. Powers have one son, Joseph H. Powers of Grasmere street, Newton.

REDUCTION OF SERVICE

The Boston Elevated feels the sting of the whiplash of the Public Utilities Commission in its report that major reductions can be made in the cost of management and operation, thereby reducing the deficit at which this company operates annually. The El is planning to issue a report within a few weeks answering the charges made in the Commission's report, showing where expenses have been cut down six million dollars and the working force from 10,000 to about 7,000 in several years. While naturally everyone is interested in keeping public costs at a minimum we do not hesitate to state that any reduction in the Elevated service will be viewed with disfavor. Many thousands from this vicinity who are dependent upon this method of transportation will be affected.

AND THE POSTOFFICE, ALSO

Speaking of reduction of service; the reduction and changes in the postoffice department are seriously affecting Newton citizens. A few months ago, in Newton and other cities and towns on the edge of the Boston Postal district, but not in Boston proper, the service was reduced by inaugurating a two-trip per day schedule instead of two and a partial trip each day. A few weeks ago the afternoon delivery was advanced nearly an hour. Both of these changes together have slowed up the delivery of mail considerably. Many Newton business men find that mail which should reach them earlier does not arrive until the following day. Incidentally the collection of mail after six o'clock in the evening is also often delayed through the practice of taking this mail to the South Station office for sorting. How long are Newton merchants and citizens going to tolerate the present situation?

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. Bentley

Taking too much for granted is as dangerous for the motorist as taking too much of something else.

Rush Hour Fun

They say that the Kenmore Square extension of the Boylston Street Subway will reduce the running time for cars. I hope it will also reduce the standing time for passengers. Keeping on my feet and rocking around, while dangling from a strap, is wholesome exercise before dinner each evening. As long as this indoor gymnasium idea is maintained I wish the Elevated might be induced to add some features such as medicine ball. If that was done I could vary the evening's rush hour program.

While clinging to a strap I have often caught sight of a friend or acquaintance some distance down the car. Now I have to be content to nod my greeting. If there was a medicine ball handy I could toss it to him and then the time would slip by, for the other passengers would probably be glad to join in. We might choose sides, the front end against the rear end. The conductor, standing in the center would be a perfect referee. He could also hold the stakes. If passengers on smoking cars of railroad trains indulge in this while traveling from Boston to Boston they cannot be patrons of the trolley introduce some innocent pastime? I don't care for cards myself and would welcome physical exercise, providing it was not too vigorous.

The home-going experience of the early evening begins with a scramble in the subway. Then you quiet down to a mere balancing act. If, after the squeezing process, you could keep on with something like medicine ball it would be better than merely remaining in one place and trying to maintain your equilibrium.

One could keep in trim, too. I feel sure that instead of dreading the return journey to Newton in the dear old electric—the word "old" is appropriate anyway—I would look forward to a rollicking forty minutes of good clean fun. After they get the subway extension opened I think I shall offer my suggestion to the Elevated trustees.

Candies, Old and New

There are candy-eaters and there are those who dare not eat it for fear of putting on weight. A third group is made up of those who nibble now and then, saying, "I know I ought not to do this, but I can't resist—it looks so delicious." All in all, children, women and men in the United States, during 1931, spent more than $20,000,000 in casual candy purchases, according to the State Department of Commerce at Washington.

I wonder if the public appetite for confectionery has grown or whether the fancy and quality of doing up sweetmeats is responsible for the wide increase in sales. Strikes me that there has always been something tempting in the appearance of candy, although the desire for it is largely individual. Take old ladies who like their molasses peppermints. They still exist. I met them long ago and I still meet them. Hard candy is their preference. It is probably the purest of all with the favoring generously bestowed by the candy-maker.

Now that we are on the subject of flavors, I wonder if tastes differ as they did when I stood chin-high to the candy case and squandered pennies to satisfy my longings. Will somebody please tell me if they remember when we used to buy a stick of striped candy with a tiny hole in the center through which you could suck the juice of a lemon? Come on now, 'fess up.

Some of the kids in those days were keen for anything in which there was anise. I loathed it. The thought of it makes me want to put my tongue out and make faces. I could stand licorice in small amounts. Occasionally I indulged in a licorice spree and created constipation at home when I returned smeared all over.

Sassafras never aroused my enthusiasm. As I recall, it was necessary for me to acquire a taste for it. Check-bermy, now known under the more dignified name of wintergreen, was, and still is, my favorite. There are other outstanding flavors but I still prefer the plain class old-fashioned molasses and in the fancy stuff bitter-sweet chocolate.

Occasionally I run my eye over the candies on sale for juvenile customers today. I want to see if they still have any of those things that appealed to me in my boyhood. Most of them have disappeared. At least, they are not now offered in the same form as in bygone days. Jelly beans, I notice, are still obtainable, but then I was never very strong for them. I fall for things that sell "two for one cent" or "one cent apiece." They must be around somewhere, but in Newton it seems that the children are more flush than in my kid days. Everything seems to be five cents—that's the minimum. I remember when a cent or two cents was something to spend on candy. Now a five-cent coin is the smallest you dare offer a child. Progress, I suppose.

Before setting this matter of candy-adding aside I must note some interesting statistics supplied by the Federal Government and which show that in 1931 the sales in the United States of five and ten cent package candy amounted to more than 53,000,000 pounds and this represents a gain over the preceding year. Regardless of my failure to find children buying one-cent candy, the official statement from Washington says "the sale of penny candies is being well maintained."

Point of View

One of the things that has pleased the human race for centuries and still has a strong appeal is viewing the landscape from a great height, and if no such place is obtainable then the highest point in that immediate vicinity. Sunday afternoon, in my boyhood days, was frequently selected for extended strolls. Sometimes several of us would accompany our fathers for a stretch of four or five miles—the objective being a hill. From its summit we would look off, and, if it was a particularly clear day, find landmarks in an adjacent city or town. Maybe we would be able to gaze for a longer distance and observe some conspicuous building not a few miles away. There was always a thrill about it.

The other day I joined a friend for one of those long-range sight-seeing rambles. It was a perfect day for such an outing and it was with considerable satisfaction that we ascended a hill from which we could see Boston Harbor on the southeast, Norfolk and Suffolk counties in the other directions. I think I ought to remind those who go in for some diversions that it is well if you are equipped with a set of field glasses. And by the way, make sure you have an adequate glass. For instance, I had borrowed a set of military glasses from a regular army officer. They were splendid as far as they went. I could see beautifully for a thousand feet or so, but beyond that—well—not so good. They were made for viewing military maneuvers and were precisely what their name implied—field glasses. You've got to get good ones from which to view long distances, or a spyglass or telescope. With a glass that brings the hills and rivers closer and still clearly there is no more inviting pastime, providing one is keen for that sort of thing.

People gather on hilltops to view the eclipse, to see a conflagration in a distant city or merely to enjoy a cloud effect or sunset. I am in favor of that sort of thing, but I am willing to admit that many people do not care for it. They think it a waste of time and energy. Their outlook is similar to the stage joke I once heard. A young woman and her escort were looking down from the Woolworth building. Said the man, viewing the marvels of the city below, "Isn't it wonderful down there! At this the young woman tossed her head and replied, "If it's so wonderful down there what did you bring me up here for?"

Now that you are home from your vacation, remember that the Newton Welfare Bureau families need furniture and wearable clothing.

About Town

By Edw. H. Powers

We have received complaints from residents of Waban, Upper Falls and other South Side sections concerning the condition of Boylston street between Woodward and Elliot streets, where much traffic crosses. They contend that gravel should be placed at this crossing so that automobiles will not have to be driven into a deep depression. The "dip" that endangers automobile springs and axles has been existent now for weeks. It should not be allowed to remain for other weeks, and probably months. But, what can people expect when the policy of giving public contracts to lowest bidders at figures which preclude proper consideration for public convenience, or decent wages and working conditions for those employed is followed.

The Newton Board of Aldermen at its meeting on Monday night sheaved other disregard for the restrictions which have been insisted on by this Board and preceding Boards since the problem of gasoline filling stations arose about 10 years ago. Although the Newton aldermen cannot be accused of having been niggardly in granting permits for such stations, they have at least shown some measure of regard for the rights and safety of the public. They have not granted a permit for a filling station operating a sidewalk pump during the past 8 or 10 years. They insisted that stations should have sufficient area to provide for adequate entrance and exit facilities. They have insisted that plans be filed before a permit would be granted—plans showing the location of pumps, tanks, drives and lights.

But, on Monday night the Aldermen voted to grant a permit for a filling station at 44 Chestnut street, West Newton at a locus absolutely unsuited for such a business. This location is next to a blind bridge over the Boston & Albany railroad; it is at the foot of a steep grade; it is almost opposite the West Newton library and near the Peirce School. Four years ago the Licenses Committee of the Aldermen turned down a petition for a filling station at this site. And two of the members of the present committee, Alderman Hawkins, the chairman, and Alderman Temperley, were members of that committee and cannot help but knowing the objections which caused them at that time to vote against a station at 44 Chestnut street. It was admitted on Monday night that automobiles would have to back out of this station; that there is not sufficient space for a proper drive.

The amazing thing in connection with the granting of this permit is that it was granted without a plan of the proposed station having been filed. And this was done by a Licenses Committee and a Board of Aldermen which in past years, even within past months, have consistently refused to consider the granting of permits because proper plans were not filed. A committee which compelled applicants for permits to file second and third petitions because proper plans had not been filed. And the chairman of the committee explained this apparent laxity on the ground that it was a renewal of a permit and not a permit for a new station, although he was one of the members of the 1928 committee who had voted against granting a permit on this locus. And the committee and the members of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night let down the bars on gasoline station restrictions in the face of a resolution which they had received from the Planning Board of this city asking that added restrictions be placed on the granting of permits for gasoline filling stations in the Newtons. We don't blame the man who sought this permit. Although the peculiar phase of this matter is that the permit was not issued to him. Neither will it revert to the company from whom he rents the locus. It becomes the possession of the owners of the property. The Board of Aldermen of Newton can't be charged with consistency, or with proper regard for the safety and convenience of the public or the future welfare of the city when its members act as they did last Monday night.

Alderman Gallagher at the meeting of the Board on Monday night asserted that bootleggers are numerous at Newton Upper Falls. It does not seem probable that a member of the city government would publicly make such a serious statement unless he has some knowledge of facts. A member of a Board of Aldermen because of his office possesses certain police powers. This being so, why doesn't the alderman co-operate with the Newton Police Department to end the alleged condition at Upper Falls?

Now that Al Smith and Governor Roosevelt have "kissed and made

Have You A Good Voice?

IF NOT, WHY NOT?

A good voice is everyone's birthright, but through neglect or misunderstanding of how to use the voice, it may soon become a poor interpretation of the individual. On the stage, platform, radio broadcasting, or every-day conversation the voice is of first importance, transmitting the essence of mind, through speech, so as to produce the most satisfactory results.

COMING EVENTS

New England Conference

October 18th, 19th, and 20th are the dates of the New England Conference, of State Federations of Women's Clubs, to be held at Whitefield, New Hampshire, in the Mountain View Hotel. Complete details of the program have already been given in this Column. Those motoring to Whitefield may secure a Conference Pennant by sending 15 cents to Mrs. Clifton L. Thornley, 103 Marbury street, Pawtucket, R. I.

Plans have been made for running a special train on the Boston and Maine direct to Whitefield, round trip $7.90, provided there is a guarantee of 100 persons. Reservations should be made direct with Walter H. Woods Company, 80 Boylston street, Boston, sending check for this amount before October 11th. If there is not a sufficient number to guarantee the train by that date, the money will be refunded, and each individual will be obliged to make her own arrangements. It is planned that such a train would leave Boston at 8:20 a. m., Tuesday, the 18th, and return on Thursday, the 20th, at 2 p. m., from Whitefield.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

Mrs. Vincent P. Maloney has charge of the Rummage Sale to take place at the Newton Centre Woman's Club from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m., on Saturday, October 8th. This Sale is sponsored by the Ways and Means committee of the Club and will be their first activity of the season.

The Club Year Book is soon to be issued and promises a most interesting program for the opening meeting on Friday afternoon, October 28th. Members plan on making this meeting one of full attendance.

Waban Woman's Club

Although the regular meetings of the Waban Woman's Club do not commence until the last of the month the various committees are busy with plans of work and of courses to be given through the coming year. The Education committee joins with the Newton Highlands Woman's Club in sponsoring a course of six lectures on Sex Character Education, by Gertrude Hasbrouck, at the Work Shop, Newton Highlands. The first lecture will be given on Tuesday afternoon, October 11th, at 3 o'clock, for which no admission fee will be charged. At this time Mrs. Hasbrouck will outline the material which she will present in the following lectures, which will be held on consecutive Thursday mornings at 10 o'clock, beginning October 20th. Mrs. Hasbrouck, former executive secretary of the Child Welfare Association, has had wide experience in child welfare work and is a capable and convincing speaker.

Newton Community Club

The opening meeting of the Newton Community Club will be held in the auditorium of the Underwood School on Thursday, October 13th, at 2:30 o'clock. There will be a brief business meeting, at which the president, Mrs. Daniel M. Goodridge, will preside. Following the business session, there will be a Musical, the artists being J. Liebovici, first violin at Boston Symphony Orchestra; Cyrus Ullian, well known pianist and teacher; and Mr. Yves Chardon, cellist. A well-balanced and interesting program of modern, classical, and romantic music will be enjoyed.

There will be a Reception to the president and officers of the Club, and also the committee chairman. Tea will be served by the Social committee under the direction of Mrs. Ralph M. Patterson.

The program gives promise of a delightful afternoon to members and their guests.

Newtonville Woman's Club

The Legislative committee of the Newtonville Woman's Club is sponsoring a course of lectures which will be given by Miss Lisette F. Henderson, LL.B., on "Law in Everyday Life." Miss Henderson is a member of the Massachusetts Bar and is at present practicing law in this State. The first of the series of seven weekly lectures will be held on Thursday, the 13th, at 10:30 a. m., at the home of Mrs. Percy E. Woodward, of 125 Highland avenue, Newtonville. This course is offered to Club members at a fee of $3.25, or for 50 cents for a single lecture. The substance of these lectures should interest every woman, as the talks will pertain to the affairs connected with the incidents of everyday life, and Miss Henderson presents this subject not only forcefully but in a most enlightening way. Anyone interested in joining the Class may enroll by telephoning Mrs. Charles E. Beatty, N. N. 2755-W, chairman of the Legislative committee.

A novel feature is being planned by the Ways and Means committee of the Club, under the direction of Mrs. Elliot B. Hansen. An "Informal Coffee" will be served at the Club House, on October 14th, from 10:00 a. m. to 1 p. m., to which Club members are invited to come and bring their friends, for a social hour and refreshments when shopping in the square.

Senator Walsh comes not as a member of either the Republican or the Democratic party but as one closely in touch with affairs at Washington and to present them in an interesting and enlightening manner.

Guest tickets may be procured at the door.

State Federation

FALL MEETING. Mrs. Frank P. Bennett, president of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs, will preside at the Fall Meeting which will be held on Friday, October 14th, at the Community Auditorium of the Municipal building, at Framingham. The principal speaker will be Dr. Clarence Cook Little, director of Roscoe B. Jackson Memorial Laboratory at Bar Harbor, Me., and Mrs. Herbert Y. McMullen, chairman of the department of International Relations of the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

Simplicity and economy will be the keynote subjects of the meeting, the morning session opening at 10 o'clock, and the afternoon session at 2 o'clock. Besides the usual features and business routine, the invocation will be given by the Rev. William Allen Knight, pastor of the Plymouth Congregational Church.

Mr. Charles A. Potter, chairman of the Board of Selectmen of Framingham, and Mrs. Burr Jay Merriam, president of the Hostess Club, will bring greetings from Framingham, to which Mrs. Bennett will respond. The reports of the Biennial Convention at Seattle will be given by Mrs. Charles R. Story, of Brockton, reporting the morning sessions; Mrs. A. Melville Graves, of Lawrence, the afternoon sessions; Mrs. George H. Ball, of Lynn, the evening sessions; Mrs. H. D. Hall, of Worcester, "Play Day"; and Miss Betty Button, of Framingham, reporting Junior activities. The address by Mrs. McMullen, greetings from Mrs. Carl L. Schrader, General Federation director for Massachusetts, a report on Club Histories by Mrs. Frederick Glazier Smith, chairman of the Federation Memorial committee, and closing announcements by Mrs. Leon M. Conwell, chairman of the Resolutions committee, will complete the morning session.

At the afternoon meeting at 2 p. m., Mrs. George F. Schroeder, State chairman of Music, will present Mr. George Millrod, young American violinist, in a solo program, accompanied at the piano by Miss Ethel Hutchinson. Mrs. Selden E. James, director of the Twelfth District, and Miss Alice F. Thus, editor of "Federation Topics," will be the opening speakers for the session and will be followed by Dr. Little who will have for his subject "A Plea for a Return to Simplicity."

Presentation of new club joining the State Federation will be followed by the report of these committees: Credentials, Mrs. Florence G. Morse, chairman; Meetings, Mrs. John A. Jennings, chairman; Platform, Mrs. A. Wilson Lincoln, and Mrs. Conwell on the final report of the Resolutions committee.

Luncheon reservations which must be made by Monday, October 10th, are in charge of Mrs. B. J. Whitmore, Dennison avenue, Framingham. Ample provision is being arranged for parking space near the auditorium.

RADIO. Features to interest Clubwomen have, truly, been most successfully concocted this season by the radio director, Mrs. Charles Fuller. As though the Personality Clinic were not enough to make every Clubwoman in the State listen to learn how to become so charming and alluring as to gain every advancement and heart's desire, there has been found another appeal to attract the listener—this, too, perhaps in self-interest. Clubwomen of talent are contributing their offerings—musical, authorship in story of poem, and other entertainment. From them may be gained talent for Club meetings. There will be, too, selection of radio talent for such Club programs, as well as information as to out-of-the-ordinary Club activities. Clubwomen who share their talents, co-operating with the State Federation so generously for their weekly broadcasts, may find themselves blessed in return, for from these there may come recommendation of talent to the radio bureau. And a bright chairman may find she has wished upon herself new club honors, when her brilliancy comes into the line of observation.

"Working Together Is Progress," which has been taken as the general topic for the directors of the State districts, may, accordingly, become the slogan for these weekly programs in a much more general sense.

"Listening-In-Groups," which became last year a popular Saturday morning diversion of Clubwomen who form friendly groups to enjoy the State Federation's broadcasts, just as there has been the custom of groups forming for "bridge," promise to be an even more popular method of "get-together" among women living near one another this coming season. These groups have been in the habit of sending in "monthly comments" to WBZ, a constructive suggestion scheme that should assist in making programs more pleasing, as well as be a source of satisfaction to the talking and to the radio director, if praise is spoken.

On Saturday morning, over WBZ, at 11:30 o'clock to 12 noon, on October 15th, Mrs. Thomas J. Walker, first vice-president of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, will speak on the subject "Getting Together." Music will be furnished by Miss Elva Boyden, Contralto, of Brockton, accompanied by Marion Leach Pulsifer, also of Brockton. Another speaker will be Mr. John Scully, Superintendent of the Brockton Schools, in the Personality Clinic, on the topic "The Value of Personality Through the Eyes of a Superintendent of Schools."

The program for tomorrow, the 8th, was announced in full last week in this Column, and should be well worth listening to. Mrs. Baker's topic, "Art as Applied to Personality," should be one of the noteworthy ones of the Personality Clinic, or Personality Course might be a more apt term, it seems to your editor, in these educational days of courses and study groups, to improve one's mind, figure, or wits.

Earle Brackett, president of the Club, spoke a few words of greeting, and then Mrs. Thayer introduced the speaker of the afternoon, Mr. Paul W. Dempsey, Superintendent of the field station of the Massachusetts State College at Cedar Hill, Waltham. Mr. Dempsey discussed "Putting the Garden to Bed," and answered the many questions in a helpful and entertaining manner which were asked of him.

At the close of the meeting each member received a little blue spruce tree with the compliments of Mr. Peter J. Mezzit, of the Weston Nurseries. Mrs. Waters was assisted by a committee which included Mrs. Frederick Cole, Mrs. Edgar Hay, Mrs. Joseph McDonald, and Mrs. Harry Wells.

Under the able leadership of Mrs. Thayer the members of the American Home department are looking forward to a pleasant and profitable year.

Newton Federation

That there is a busy season ahead for the officers and committees of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs was evidenced on Monday afternoon, October 3rd, when Mrs. Samuel N. Braham, president of that organization, met with several of the chairmen of Federation committees at her home, 187 Park street, Newton. Mrs. Arthur W. Lane, of Auburndale, chairman of the Civics committee, answered a number of questions in regard to the new Community Chest, and other branches of the Federation work were discussed in an informal manner.

Plans are now being formulated for the Fall Meeting to be held November 14th at the Second Church in West Newton, when the morning session will be devoted to Round Table conferences on Departmental work. This will be followed by a luncheon, after which there will be an afternoon session with speakers. This Fall Meeting will be patterned to a considerable extent on a similar one held last year which proved very helpful, and regarding which there were many favorable comments.

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

The first meeting of the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club was held Monday evening, October 3rd, in the Club Rooms of the Emerson School. The Club welcomed as its first guest of the new year, Mrs. Frank P. Bennett, State Federation president. Mrs. Bennett gave a very friendly talk on "State Federation Work" and presented her three main objectives which she hopes to see manifested among the clubs throughout the State this year. First, Mrs. Bennett would like to have every club member become an interested reader of "Federation Topics," the official bulletin of the State Federation. Second, she hopes that the Federation can further its payment of the State Forest at Petersham. This was a worthy undertaking and all who have visited the Reservation feel very proud of it. Third, Mrs. Bennett hopes that many clubs will participate in the contest for beautifying the ugly and bare spots throughout our cities and towns. Although Mrs. Bennett had not visited the Club before, she made herself one of the Club's own members through her fine spirit of friendliness which was appreciated by all.

Selections were played on the marimba by Mrs. Bessie E. Marshall, of Newton Upper Falls. Ice cream and cake were served by the Hospitality committee under the leadership of Mrs. Percy Marden. The first meeting was a real "get-together" and the Club entered the new year with renewed ambitions and hopes of achievement.

Newton Highlands Woman's Club

The regular meeting of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club was held on October 4th in the Congregational Parish House. The Club was very fortunate in having Dr. Samuel Macaulay Lindsay, (Continued on Page 10)

WARNS OF BATTERY FAILURES

"With the approach of cooler weather, and the possibility of sharp temperature drops at most any time," says Mr. Philip Bram, of 252 Walnut street, Newtonville, local Exide Dealer, "car owners should consider the condition of their battery."
"Any battery in reasonably good condition," continued Mr. Bram, "will function as long as the weather is warm. But let a real cool night come along and the heavy summer grade oil used in most cars stiffens almost unbelievably. This throws a heavy strain upon the battery when the starter is used and often results in battery failure."
"In previous years, right at the start of frosty weather, we have been called upon to render emergency battery service which, in almost all instances, could have been avoided by a timely check-up of the battery's condition. Hard summer driving bears down on a battery and oftentimes it needs only a cold snap to take it for the count."
"For the motorist who wants to avoid delays and sometimes costly repairs, we suggest that he have his battery inspected regularly and prevent cold weather battery failure."

Rotary Club

The meeting of the Newton Rotary Club on Monday of this week at the Woodland Golf Club was the 500th meeting of the local organization. Edwin O. Childs spoke briefly on the meaning of the event as five charter members present were recognized. There were Edwin O. Childs, Walter H. Gregg, Thomas L. Goodwin, Fred H. Howe, Jr., and George J. Martin. Out of respect to the passing of the late William Donnelly, a former member the club rose in silent tribute.
Edgar T. Manning was introduced by Secretary Lyscom A. Bruce, Jr., as the guest speaker. Mr. Manning, who has done considerable research work on the lines of development of the dirigible for commercial purposes, gave an interesting talk on that subject. He sketched the development of lighter-than-air craft since the use of the balloon in the Civil War and the construction of the first Zeppelin and the present dirigibles for military purposes. Prior to the economic interruption of business plans had been made for the construction of a huge dirigible for commercial use over the Atlantic. When conditions warrant these plans will be completed. This "ship" will carry about 85,000 pounds of payload or cargo in addition to between 80 and 100 passengers and 25,000 pounds of mail and express. It will have eight engines and will have a cruising range of about 10,000 miles. If the improvement of the Diesel engine is sufficient to warrant the installation of this type of power it will be employed in order to reduce the fire hazard which is always present in gasoline burning engines. The United States, being the only country which has a commercial supply of helium, this country should lead the way in the introduction of commerce in the air. Such a ship as described can make the eastward crossing of the Atlantic in about two days and the westward crossing in about 3 days. It is a feasible and practical find and while not adapted for overland hops where the distance is considerably shorter it is ideal for long hops over water. The dirigible does not compete with the aeroplane through the fact that the aeroplane has a much smaller cruising range. Mr. Manning predicted that we would have a transatlantic line in operation within the next decade.

NEWTON DRAMATIC CLUB

"Command Performance" is the title of a very gay and romantic comedy with which the Newton Dramatic Club will open its season Wednesday evening, November 10, at the Newton Centre Woman's Club Hall. This group of players during the past two years has built up a reputation which guarantees the character of the coming performance. The Club is not a closed organization but aims to act as a clearing house for the best of Newton's histrionic talent.
"The Command Performance" tells of the extravagant fortunes of a young actor in a Moldavian troupe who by sudden reverses of fortune finds himself in a far country suing for the hand of a Princess.
Robert Currier and Rosalind Harris will play the leading parts. Mrs. Ellis Spear, Jr., will act the role of the Queen of Moldavia, and Major Arthur Hitchcock will interpret the King of Wallachia.
An initial informal social gathering of those who have acted for the club to meet Mrs. Everett W. Varney, the executive director, and the members of the board will be given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Addison C. Burnham on Bracebridge Road on Saturday evening, October 15th.
The following representative group of patrons are sponsoring the season: Mayor and Mrs. Sinclair Weeks, Mr. and Mrs. Carl M. Bigelow, Mrs. Elias Bishop, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Chouteau Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Addison C. Burnham, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Capron, Mr. and Mrs. Eben Ellison, Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Estabrook, Hon. Mrs. Fred T. Field, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Greene, Mr. and Mrs. Henry I. Harriman, Mrs. John Lodge, Miss Caroline A. Lovett, Mr. and Mrs. S. Hardy Mitchell, Mrs. and Mrs. Albert W. Muther, Mr. and Mrs. Howard North, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Spear, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Stebbins, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Sweet, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil B. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert F. WOMEN'S CLUBS

Pastor of the Brookline Baptist Church, as guest speaker. Dr. Lindsay has become an increasingly popular lecturer. He possesses a wide knowledge of world affairs and is well equipped with information on the latest developments in Europe, having spent the past summer there.
His subject was "Whither Europe." He talked most interestingly on the political, economic and social conditions as they exist today in England, France, Germany, Spain, and Russia.
Referring to England, he commented on the Gold Standard, Tariff, Unemployment, and the recent change in the English Cabinet. He also discussed Russia's Economic Condition and the Five Year Plan; the coming election in Germany; the military objective of France, and the outcome of the revolution in Spain.
Mrs. Ralph Lewis, the Club's State Federation secretary, graciously addressed the members, in a most eloquent manner, on the Annual Meeting of the State Federation, at New Ocean House, Swampscott, held May 18th to May 21st inclusive.

Newtonville Woman's Club

The Newtonville Woman's Club members who attended the Annual Reception and first formal meeting held in the Club House, on Tuesday afternoon, the 4th, were most appreciative of the work accomplished by the various committees. The combined efforts of the House, Drama, Hospitality, Conservation, and Social committees made possible the very successful reception which opened the year for the Club. Chairmen of these committees were, respectively, House committee, Mrs. Edwin P. Cawley; Drama, Mrs. Percy E. Woodward; Hospitality, Mrs. H. Clayton Pearson; Conservation, Mrs. Perez B. Howard; Social, Miss Mary Rolfe in place of Mrs. Harold B. Billings who is ill.
Due to these committees, new curtains were made for the Social Hall and for the stage. The Conservation committee, besides the floral decorations which added an attractive note to the room, gave two beautiful arbutus trees which have been planted in front of the Club House. Ten ivy plants were also given by this committee, one of which was planted by Mrs. Louis Green on the opening day. The Hospitality and Social committees welcomed the guests and served delicious refreshments during the social hour. Too much praise cannot be given the chairmen and their committees for the time and labor they put forth making the Club House an attractive background for the Club's first reception there.
An added attraction to these decorations was the fireproof cyclorama which adorns the stage in the main lecture hall. This was the donation of a friend.
Miss Artiss deVot entertained delightfully on the harp, first giving a group of selections, and then playing during the reception.
Against a beautiful background of flowers and palms the officers welcomed the guests. Receiving were Mrs. Herbert F. Blair, president, were the vice-presidents, Mrs. Robert C. Kelley, Mrs. Mervin S. Giles, and Mrs. Bion Weatherhead; also Mrs. Edwin P. Craine, chairman of the House. As guest of honor, Mrs. Seldon E. James, director of the Twelfth District, also received with the officers. Presiding at the tea table were Mrs. William L. Vosburgh, Mrs. Royal T. Lapham, Mrs. A. William Krause, and Mrs. Ralph W. Conant.
Following such an enthusiastic opening day, the Club now looks forward to a year of service and of helpful co-operation from every member.

About Town

By Edw. H. Powers

What doth it profit if a milk company equip its wagons with rubber-tired wheels, and the drivers of these wagons continue to wear leather heels on their shoes? Especially leather heels with metal plates attached. Why not rubberize the whole delivery equipment, including the horses' shoes?

BUILDING REPORT

The report of the Public Buildings Department of Newton for the month of September shows that 52 permits were issued during that month for construction and alteration work with an estimated cost of $75,505. Sixteen permits were issued for private garages to cost $6575; 5 permits for single dwellings to cost $20,350, one permit was for the branch bank building of the Newton Trust Company at West Newton, estimated to cost $20,000; 27 permits were for alterations on buildings. For the first nine months of 1932 the number of permits totalled 385 and the estimated cost of work done under them $922,920. For the corresponding period in 1931 the permits totalled 702 and the cost $4,243,621; in 1931 there were 811 permits and the cost was estimated at $4,196,573. These comparative figures tell why unemployment in the building trades has steadily increased.

Several Injured in Car Collision At Newton Sunday

Drivers and Owner To Answer Several Charges

A serious automobile accident occurred on Center street, Newton, opposite the Harriman estate about 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon. As a result of the accident six boys who were riding in one of the cars involved, an old touring car, received injuries; one boy getting a broken leg. They were taken to the Newton Hospital for treatment. Another result of the accident will be the arraignment in Newton court of the drivers of the two cars and the owner of one of them. One of the cars was owned by Mario Corsi of Wood avenue, Hyde Park, and driven by Denacio Tambascia of 24 Green Court, Nonantum. The other car was owned by Fred Tiberio of the Charles River Country Club and driven by Frank DiCarlo, 16, of 34 Beecher Place, Newton Centre. According to the police, Tambascia and DiCarlo, who are friends, were fooling while driving along Center street, and were cutting in front of each other. Finally, the cars became entangled and the occupants of DiCarlo's car thrown out and injured. They included Augustino DiCarlo, 9, and Mario DiCarlo, 10, brothers of the driver; Frank DellaRocca, 10, 20 Beecher Place; Dante Cassinal, 12, 360 Langley road.

Motorcycle Officer Dowling reached the scene and charged Tambascia with posing as Castagno Tempesta of 61 Green street, and producing the latter's license. Tambascia appeared in the Newton court yesterday charged with giving a false name, driving without a license and driving to endanger. Corsi was arraigned charged with allowing an unauthorized person to drive his car. Corsi was also charged with driving after his license had been revoked, and with going away after an accident without revealing his identity. It is alleged that on October 4th, at New Centre, Corsi's car hit a boy, and another young man claimed to have been driving it. Their cases were continued until October 21. DiCarlo will be charged with driving to endanger the lives and safety of the public.

Car Burned After Crashing Into Pole

Box 445 was pulled at 2:32 Wednesday morning for a fire in a Chevrolet cabriolet which caught ablaze after it had crashed into an electric light pole opposite 200 Lexington street, Auburndale. The car was registered in the name of James J. O'Connell of 24 Westminster avenue, Watertown. O'Connell was later arrested by Patrolmen Foley and Gaquin, charged with drunkenness. He was later released.

Local Boy Scouts Reorganize For The Coming Year

Troops Start Work With Able Corps of Leaders

A new Troop, No. 22, has been developed at Newton Corner, meeting in Grace Church and sponsored by that organization. It is what is known as an "open church Troop," being open to any boys of the community regardless of religious affiliation. It meets Friday evenings with Scoutmaster Benjamin Fawcett and Assistant Scoutmaster Robert Young. The Chairman of the Troop Committee is Mr. Albert S. Partridge. All three of these Scouts have taken the training course "Back to Boyhood."

Troop No. 6, Newtonville, has been started at the Frank A. Day Junior High School. The Scoutmaster is Chester Hill, formerly a Scout of the Council and until recently Assistant Scoutmaster of Troop 3, Nonantum. The Assistant Scoutmaster is William Bradford Gove, formerly a Scout, who has recently had training in the internationally known Gilwell system, having attended the course given at Ontario, the Canadian Gilwell, this last summer. The Senior Patrol Leader is Lloyd Walker, Eagle Scout, formerly of Troop 1, Newtonville. The Chairman of the Troop Committee is Dr. Waldo Walker.

Both these Troops are receiving full co-operation of existing Troops in those villages and are making good progress. Very soon they will be registered and be officially received into the membership of Norumbega Council, Boy Scouts of America. Superintendent John Lund of the Newton Schools, formerly connected with the Boy Scout organization in Norwalk, Connecticut and very keen about the program, was unanimously elected to membership on the Executive Board of the Council at its recent meeting. Mr. Lund has expressed great interest in the training program of the Movement.

Troop 4A, during the temporary absence of Mr. F. E. Lichtenhaer, is under the acting Scoutmastership of Dr. Clinton M. Pope.

Troop 5, Center, is happy in the return of Mr. John Hitchcock, who was a former member and rose to Eagle rank while in the Troop. He has been in Hawaii for three years and has returned to enter M. F. T.

Troop 7C, West Newton, is now in charge of Scoutmaster Vincent Kern and has started an energetic training program after completion of reorganization of the Troop.

Troop 9, Waban, has just signed up Mr. Leslie St. Lawrence as an Assistant Scoutmaster. Troop 10, of the same village, has added Mr. Karl Harris to its Scouters rolls, in a like capacity.

Troop 11, Newton, now has Dr. Ralph Bischoff as Scoutmaster. The Troop is developing an active camping program and is planning a Troop Camporee at Nobscoot Reservation very soon.

Troop 19, Centre, has Mr. Charles Leeds, a graduate of West Point and a former Scout, as Scoutmaster.

Troop 20, Centre, has a new Assistant Scoutmaster in Mr. Walter Brandt, an Eagle Scout in Newton, and the Senior Patrol Leader of Norumbega's World Jamboree Troop in 1929. Commodore William V. M. Fawcett is now Skipper of Ship 13, Seascout Division, with Mr. Donald Curtis as first Mate. Don is a former Newton Scout and Seascout, having attained the highest Seascout rating, that of Quartermaster, while in the Ship. He is a Princeton graduate and a student at the Harvard Law School. Last week-end the Skipper with his Mate and Junior Staff were in Duxbury at the home of Mr. C. J. A. Wilson, new Chairman of the Ship Committee. There they became better acquainted, and their work was the development of a year's program for Ship 13.

Mr. John Kent, formerly Chairman of Ship 13 Committee and with whom the Ship made excellent programs, is now Portmaster of the Council, with the assignment of visiting other ships in this vicinity and of doing research on a younger boy Seascout program.

Mr. Morgan H. Harris continues as Vice Commodore of the Council. On October 12th, the Seascouts with Skipper Fawcett went to Camp Mary Day for their usual good turn; they hauled the big float on shore for the winter and stowed away the row-boats.

Rest Association Has Had a Very Successful Season

Now Starts Drive to Finance Further Work

Mrs. E. Hoyt Weston of Waban is launching the annual drive for membership in the Mothers' Rest Association of the Newtons on Monday, October 17th. She will be assisted by the village chairman: Mrs. Edward A. Andrews of Newton Centre, Mrs. Chester Churchill of Waban, Miss Margaret Haskell of Auburndale, Miss Margaret Dowse of West Newton, Mrs. Frederick Tennant of Newtonville, Mrs. Robert F. Estabrook of Newton, Mrs. Thomas Lanman of Chestnut Hill and Mrs. Thomas Goodwin of Newton Highlands. Mrs. Earle E. Tilton of Newton Centre is treasurer of the association. The membership fee for one year is $2.00, which is used for the running expenses of the Rest for mothers and children in Oak Hill Village.

The past season proved to be one of the most successful and beneficial in the career of the Rest, due to the unusual number of needy cases. One hundred and thirty-two mothers and 209 children were guests for two weeks, each. A matron, who is also a registered nurse, was in charge and she was assisted by a kindergarten and a nurse. Weight charts were kept by the latter and all but three of the visitors gained during their stay. Two babies were christened. Religious services and entertainments were provided, doctors' services were available, all of which is volunteer work on the part of many interested in the Rest. Out of the many articles donated by society throughout the Newtons, every prospective mother was given a layette, children were given dresses or rompers. Many letters of deep appreciation have been received by the matron from the mothers after their return to their homes.

The noteworthy charity depends upon a large membership fund to carry on the much needed work and a generous response is anticipated this coming winter.

The Junior Mothers' Rest Club is sponsoring a charity bridge as its fall activity to be given at the Charles River Country Club at 2 p. m., Monday, October 24th. Mrs. Austin C. Benton is in charge of arrangements and will be assisted by Mrs. John U. Lemmon, Jr. Mrs. Worthing L. West, Mrs. Robert C. Bray and Mrs. Walter McGill. The Sans Noy Gown Show will stage a style show and later tea will be served. There will be a prize at each table.

One Hundred City Employees To Be Laid Off

No More Work For Them

One hundred employees of the Newton Street Department will be laid off when they complete their duties tomorrow morning. In compliance with Civil Service laws the "seniority rule" will be followed in laying off these employees. The reconstruction of streets, so that they can be accepted by the city, has largely declined in volume this year. Most of this type of work has been done under the so-called "Betterment Law" after property owners on streets had petitioned for the improvements and the Board of Aldermen had voted to accept such petitions. There are many accepted streets in the city badly in need of reconstruction. If the City Government decided to put these streets in proper condition and the taxpayers were willing to pay for such improvements, ample work could be provided for the employees of the Street Department.

NEWTON HIGHLANDS MAN HONORED

Charles W. Hawkes of Saxon road, Newton Highlands, has been awarded the silver trophy at the Advertising Convention now being held in New York city. The award was made for the best mail advertising campaign using letters as the medium. Mr. Hawkes will also bring home another cup, the Jack Carr Silver Trophy, presented for excellent letter writing.

Interesting Old Report on Newton Schools of 1802

Shows That School Problem Was Always Vexatious

The GRAPHIC received this week from Mr. George W. Jackson of 34 Ballard street, Newton Centre the following letter:

"Editor Newton Graphic: I found among my papers the enclosed report of a committee on the school questions in 1802, which may be of interest to you. Evidently this problem has always been before us."

The report, written on foolscap paper was inscribed by a good penman, and it is well preserved. It reads as follows—

"Report of a Town Committee made November 4, 1802."

We the subscribers being a committee appointed by the Town of Newton to prepare a general plan for the regulation of schools, do report as follows:—

1. That, whereas the number of scholars in some of the District Schools is so great as to exceed the ability of a Master properly to instruct them all, your committee thinks it advisable that some convenient time to build another school house; but as the present expenses of the Town are so very great that we conclude they will not immediately agree to the building of such a house, it is thought best to recommend that on any day in which the Scholars exceed sixty, the Master shall be excused from teaching all beyond this number who shall be unable to spell and read words of two syllables.

2. That, whereas the committee consider it advisable that due provision shall be made for the instruction of young children in the first elements of common learning, they recommend that one-fourth of the money appropriated for schooling be devoted to the support of Women Schools.

3. Your committee recommends that the School Committee be empowered to fix Women Schools in such places as shall promote general instruction through the Town and that the money appropriated for the purpose be divided according to their best judgment without being confined to the present school districts.

4. Your committee recommends that the School Committee act jointly and separately in providing Masters and Mistresses for the Public Schools.

5. That it is the opinion of your committee that the general diffusion of school learning through the town requires a more equal proportion of money among the respective schools, and that a committee be chosen to determine the proportion of the different Districts.

6. They do also recommend that the respective Winter Schools be annually and invariably examined twice, VIZ—once soon after opening by at least one Committee man and one Minister, and the last time near the close of each School by the School Committee and the Ministers at large.

7. Your committee is of opinion that in token of Reverence to the Divine Author of Religion to impress revealed Truth early in the Mind and to enable the scholar to read the Scriptures with propriety, a portion of the Scriptures be read at least once daily in the schools by those of the First Class.

8. Your committee recommends that the Law of the Commonwealth requiring of Masters the communication of moral instruction to their scholars be complied with on the part of the Masters.

9. Your committee recommends that all scholars be provided with books most essential to instruction; and that the School Committee provide from time to time at the expense of the Town such books for those whose parents in their opinion are unable to procure them.

Newton, 20th, April, 1802.

In Town Meeting Nov. 1st, 1802, voted to accept the above report.

Further Plans Of New Community Chest Outlined

In Additional Announcement By Pres. Rogers

Further plans of the Newton Community Chest, looking beyond the forthcoming campaign in which all the operating expenses of all the member agencies are to be raised at one time, were made public today in a statement by Leon B. Rogers, President of the Chest. Mr. Rogers' statement follows:

"Since the formation of the Newton Community Chest was announced last week, we have received a great many inquiries asking for further information as to our work and plans. This wide interest is encouraging, and in answer to a large number of these inquiries I should like particularly at this time to set forth in greater detail what I consider to be the fundamental purpose of the Community Chest.

"The Community Chest is not another welfare agency. It is a federation of existing agencies, organized in the belief that by working together they can better serve the interests of the whole city. Every one understands the meaning of 'teamwork.' The chief purpose of the Community Chest—and that means the common purpose of the agencies which make up the Chest—is better teamwork in Newton.

"There has been much valuable co-operation among our various welfare organizations, both those which deal directly with suffering and want and those which may be grouped as character-building agencies because they deal with the problem of building sound future citizenship—never a more vital problem than now. But if much has been done, how much more can be done by joining forces for this very purpose. This, I believe, is the great opportunity before the Community Chest. It will be a focal point, a clearing house, a co-ordinator, and a source of practical help in enabling Newton's welfare agencies to do what every one of them wants to see done; namely, the rendering of relief and human service for the greatest possible good of the greatest possible number.

"This function of the Community Chest does not apply only to our own members. One of the largest problems which these particular organizations face is that of finding the necessary financial support to carry on their activities adequately; and the Chest will help them with this problem by conducting a joint campaign for maintenance expenses, eliminating so many separate appeals to the public-spirited citizen. This is one function of the Community Chest. Important as it may be, I believe it is secondary to the function of the Chest as a year-round co-operative and co-ordinating unit. We shall be at the service of any and every organization in Newton which is doing good work and which can make use in any way of our facilities, regardless of whether or not that organization is a member of the Community Chest.

"I might point out that one of the most important factors in the work of the Mayor's Relief Committee—and that work has attracted attention not only throughout this state but beyond—has been the close co-operation between the Committee, all the City Departments, and the welfare organizations. This has made it possible to get full information in each case, to eliminate duplication of relief, and hence to do the greatest good with the funds available. To develop

Aldermen Hold Special Meeting To Aid Jobless

Make Appropriation of $3,000 for Relief Committee

A special meeting of the Board of Aldermen was called on Monday night by Mayor Weeks for the purpose of passing an appropriation of $3000 to provide work for some of the unemployed men in this city. The work will be done under the direction of the Mayor's Relief Committee and those employed will work in improving the Hawthorn Street Playground at the boundary of Nonantum and Newtonville. The Relief Committee has been able in the past to finance the work done under its auspices by funds contributed by citizens. The treasury of the committee is about depleted; hence it was necessary to have this appropriation taken from the City Treasury.

Newton Centre Traffic Officer Struck by Auto

Traffic Officer Richard Clancy, whose post is at the intersection of Beacon and Centre streets, Newton Centre, was hit by a car on Monday afternoon while on duty. He signalled a car operated by Mrs. Huldah Foster of Manning street, Needham, to stop while he directed children from the Mason School to cross the street. The car struck him in the back and he was thrown to the street. Clancy was taken to his home following the accident.

Cannot Operate Lunchroom at New City Hall

The well equipped cafeteria at the new city hall may remain idle. It can't be conducted by any lunch room company. Neither can it be operated by any private individual as a business. The new city hall is in a private residence zone and City Solicitor Bartlett has ruled that no business can be conducted within City Hall. It was proposed that the City Hall Associates, which includes in its membership most of the clerks at City Hall, might hire some person to operate the cafeteria, along the lines of an officer's mess. The officers of the City Hall Associates are reluctant to assume this responsibility as it is doubtful whether or not the cafeteria would do enough business to be a paying proposition.

The Newtonville Improvement Association has given its attention to the matter of keeping any business away from the vicinity of the new City Hall and War Memorial, so the ruling of the City Solicitor is in accord with the effort to prevent the intrusion of business into Newton's new and expensive civic area.

that idea and spread its benefits and keep at it is an example of what the Community Chest is perfectly fitted to do and definitely plans to do. "We are organized for service—wherever we can serve. Our interest is to advance all along the front the work that is carried on through the generosity of the public to the end that this city may be a better place in which to live and work."

Weeks Junior H. S.

On Tuesday the pupils of the school were given the opportunity to hear Miss Lewis, national representative of the Junior Red Cross, who spoke on the work which the school children over the world are doing through the Red Cross. During her talk Miss Lewis exhibited articles made in Japan, Alaska, Lapland, Czechoslovakia, Lithuania, and other countries. These articles were exchanged for articles sent by American groups to foreign countries.

Miss Lewis pointed out how many articles of use in the hospitals can be made at practically no cost. To illustrate this fact she displayed dolls made from old stockings, toys from inner tubes, and checker sets from slabs of wood and old broom handles. She stressed the importance of this type of exchange in promoting a more friendly feeling among the youth of the nations.

From October 10-17 a drive for contributions to the Junior Red Cross is being conducted through the home rooms. Every room 100% in membership is entitled to the issues of the Junior Red Cross Magazine for a year.

Every morning pupils who would benefit by a mid-morning lunch because of underweight or fatigue are afforded a ten minute period for such use. The lunch consists of milk or cocoa and crackers. Some needy children are provided free milk from Red Cross funds. Pupils enjoy the few minutes of relaxation and improved gains in weight have been shown in many cases.

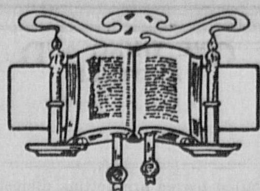

The Student Council announces the election of the following officers: President, William Diman; vice-president, Harvey Cibel; Capt. Boys' Student Patrol, William Bradley; Capt. Girls' Student Patrol, Betty Tobin; secretary, Rosetta Warren.

The Week's Band has thus far appeared before the student body on three occasions. At the first meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association, parents and friends will have an opportunity to enjoy hearing this ever-growing organization.

Last year the membership increased from forty-two to eighty-two. This year, in spite of losing twenty-five members, seventy have been enrolled.

NORUMBEGA DISTRICT COUNCIL OF RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

The Norumbega District School of Religious Education opened its Fall term on last Monday, October 10, at the Newtonville Methodist Church, with an attendance of seventy-five, coming from twenty-two churches. Next Monday is also regarded as "Registration Night," and it is expected that many more will avail themselves of this opportunity.

The Assembly next Monday will be devoted to a social period, for the purpose of getting better acquainted. Future Assembly periods are to be varied in nature, featuring pictures, stories, and materials for temperance education.

The Executive Committee of the District is to meet on Thursday evening, October 13, at the Newton Methodist Church. A new member of this committee, selected to represent Newton Corner, is Mr. George A. Rawson of the Immanuel Baptist Church.

RECEPTION AT CENTRAL CHURCH

On the evening of October 7th, a delightful reception was given in Social Hall of Central Church in honor of Rev. and Mrs. R. S. Merrill and the newly installed director of religious education, Mr. Ernest Kuebler and Mrs. Kuebler. The rooms were gaily decorated with autumn leaves and flowers arranged by Mrs. Fred Rust. Presiding at the table were Mrs. A. T. Hill, Mrs. W. E. Strong and Mrs. J. D. Bennett. Mrs. A. H. Deatur was hostess and assisting her was Mrs. G. A. Keil. Miss Eleanor Lord, cellist, Miss Jean Kenway, violinist, and Miss Virginia Kenway, pianist, played as the guests were assembling. Mr. McCormick, moderator of the church, presided. Musical selections were rendered by Mrs. Mae Ford, soprano, Mr. Alfred Gruhn, tenor, and Miss Lillian West, accompanist. Informal talks were given by Mr. Merrill and Mr. Kuebler.

Mr. Merrill announced the beginning of the midweek meetings which will take place every Thursday evening. He hopes to make these occasions informal discussions of Old Testament themes studied with the reconstruction of their historical backgrounds. The singing will be led by Mr. Ernest Nichols. Mr. Merrill also announced that a Bible class for men has been organized and that one for women is being considered.

HOSPITAL AID TEA

Mrs. Ashley Day, Jr., is opening her home on Sargent street, Newton, for a White Elephant Tea for the Newton Hospital Aid Benefit Shop, on Tuesday, October 18.

Each guest will be admitted by presenting a "White Elephant" and these gifts will be on sale after the tea in the recreation room of Mrs. Day's home.

Mrs. Talbot, the president of the Hospital Aid, will assist Mrs. Day with the Board of Directors of the Benefit Shop and a group of young girls from the Newtons and Wellesleys.

The Benefit Shop was originally started as an activity of the Hospital Aid to raise money for the hospital. After paying the $25,000 pledge, so strongly had the Shop become entrenched in the community that it was decided to continue it indefinitely and many expensive pieces of equipment have thus been added to the hospital. Some of these are to be found only in hospitals much larger than the Newton and they have made possible treatment in active emergencies in our own hospital which would otherwise have necessitated sending patients to the larger institutions. These include apparatus for extreme cases of pneumonia as well as for infantile paralysis.

Warren Jr. H. S.

The assembly program for October fifth opened with a number by the band, which was directed by Mr. Towser. Three soloists were introduced from the High School and Junior High. The first, Betty Joyce, gave a cello solo. This was followed by Warren MacMath, who rendered a trumpet solo. The last, Gladys Watts, played on the clarinet.

The musical program closed with a number by the band. Mr. Spaulding then spoke concerning the various musical organizations and opportunities for study in our school.

Homeroom 209 gave a short program on Columbus. It included a summary of the life of Columbus, and two poems, "Columbus," spoken by Mary Josephine Ryan and Betty Brackett.

The girls have started soccer practice for the year and the color teams have been playing against each other in the gymnasium classes.

Police News

James McLaughlin of East Springfield street, Boston was fined $100 in the Newton court on last Friday. He was also fined $10 for drunkenness and $5 for driving without a license. He was arrested on the night of September 1st, after the car he was driving had hit a traffic signal at Newton Centre.

In court the same day autoists fined for speeding were—Mabel Phalen, Chiswick road, Brighton, $10; Frank Murphy, Dorchester, $20; Leslie Snowden, Jr., Wakefield, $5; James Coveney, Jr., 663 Boylston st., Newton Centre, $5; Frank Ketter, Dover, $5; Marie Nichols of Weston was also charged with speeding. She wasn't fined. Her case was placed on file. Two others charged with violating traffic laws whose cases were placed on file were: John Freese of Framingham, charged with driving on the wrong side of a street; and Dorothy Peters of Brighton who drove the wrong direction on a one-way street. John Sargent, Natick was fined $5 for not slowing down at a street intersection; William E. Harris of Boston was fined $5 for passing another car on a curve; Chester Nye of Needham was fined $5 for speeding and another $5 for driving on the wrong side of a street.

Early on the morning of September 23rd, an automobile crashed into a pole at Lexington street, near River street, West Newton. Patrolman William West of the Newton police, whose home is nearby, heard the crash and rushed out. He found James J. Hill of Massachusetts avenue, Cambridge standing on the left side of the car, and standing at the right of the car were Al Marsters, former Dartmouth football star and Elizabeth Selfridge, a nurse at the Danvers State Hospital. The three were injured and were taken to the Newton Hospital. Hill, who was least injured, was arrested after receiving treatment and charged with driving while under the influence of liquor. His case was tried in the Newton court last Friday before Judge W. Lloyd Allen. Marsters testified that he was the one who had been driving the car, instead of Hill. Judge Allen found Hill not guilty.

John Hoye of Orchard avenue, Auburndale, was fined $20 in the Waltham court on Monday for operating an unregistered motor vehicle on a public highway. For operating an uninsured vehicle he was given a suspended jail sentence of 30 days. Serg. Chisholm of the Metropolitan police was the complainant. He testified that Hoye drove a truck along Park avenue, Weston, for a short distance between the Blake estate and the Blake farm. The truck is owned by Stephen FitzGerald who runs the farm and employs Hoye.

Freeman Higgins of Washington, D. C., was arrested at 2:40 a. m. Sunday by Patrolmen Marden and Mooney charged with driving while under the influence of liquor. He was arraigned in court on Monday and his trial continued.

An automobile owned by Mrs. Grace Glover of Oakwood road, Newtonville, was stolen Saturday afternoon while parked on Madison avenue. It was found abandoned the next day on Rowena road, Newton Centre. A car owned by Ralph Evans of Dorset road, Waban, was stolen on Friday while parked on Whitney road. It was found the following day on Parker street, Newton Centre.

AUTO ACCIDENTS

Cars driven by Henry Piepiora of 124 Gold street, South Boston, and John Beattie of Hopkinton collided at Union and Beacon streets, Newton Centre last Friday afternoon. Boynton, who is 72, received injuries to his legs and hips. He was taken to the Newton Hospital. Ramsdell reported that he had halted his car on Walnut street, as he reached Beacon street, and after he started was forced to drive rapidly to avoid being hit by a truck.

NEWTON'S COMMUNITY CHEST

The organization of a Community Chest in Newton should prove a valuable step toward more efficient consideration of the charitable organizations of Newton. We do not mean to infer that until now these same organizations did not use efficient methods and means in the soliciting of contributions to carry on their valuable work. On the contrary there has been little, if any, ground for criticism in this respect. However, the formation of the Community Chest, which will make one financial drive for all of its member organizations, serves more as a clearing house or a centralization of such activities and puts it on a more highly organized plane. We understand that persons who desire to do so have the privilege of stipulating which individual organizations are to receive their contributions. This is a desirable feature as, while each member organization is a most worthy charity, it is easily conceivable that there are some persons who wish to aid certain ones and not others. From another angle of the contributors' point of view they will be called upon for a single contribution for the year instead of having to respond to a number of separate requests from each of the organizations. The Community Chest is a movement that should be accepted by each and every citizen as one which is worthy of every consideration.

About Town

By Edw. H. Powers

The Boy Scouts are doing good work in serving as traffic officers near schools in the Newtons. But, apparently, all of them have not a proper knowledge of signals. The other day we observed a juvenile traffic officer signalling automobiles to stop by facing the side of the street and holding his arms horizontally in the direction of approaching cars.

The reservation along Commonwealth avenue, recently graded and seeded at considerable expense, has had signs on it telling persons not to cross the freshly seeded ground. The other afternoon we observed a boy alight from one of the busses bringing pupils from the Newton High School deliberately ignore the signs and walk across the reservation near Central street, Auburndale.

Will White, for years manager of Norumbega Park, died on Wednesday at New Bedford following a long illness. Frail in physique, Will was strong in spirit and ever-ready to devote his time and energy to assist in any worthy cause. His memory will be cherished by the many friends he made in the Newtons.

Accidents have been occurring too frequently at the intersection of Beacon and Walnut streets. This section is wide open on all four corners and the unobstructed view gives no excuse for collisions at this place. The responsibility for collisions occurring there should be determined by the police and the offenders brought into court.

The police of Wellesley have started to prosecute persons who ride bicycles in that town after dark without carrying a light, as the law provides. This law has been in existence for many years but has been disregarded by nearly all bicyclists and ignored by the police. That it should be enforced will receive a "Yes vote" from any motorist who has had narrow escapes from running down bicyclists at night. The police of Newton should emulate the police of Wellesley in enforcing this law.

A barber shop at Newton Corner has a sign in the window which reads "All Hair Cut 40c. Plus Music." The music comes via radio. Just what connection there is between a hair cut and music we don't know. Most barbers in the past have given free gab with hair cuts, but this music stuff is new. It would be appropriate if "blues" music came over the radio while a bald-headed man got a hair cut. Most bald-headed men feel blue when they pay anything for having the few hairs on their dome shortened.

Why isn't it reasonable to expect that over twenty persons will be killed each week by automobile accidents in Massachusetts when judges fine reckless motorists who pass cars on blind curves, or who drive on the wrong side of the streets only $5 for endangering the lives of others?

If you crave a narrow escape from death or serious injury just try to make a left turn onto Washington street from a side street during the heavy traffic periods of the day or night. With many motorists operating cars along Washington street at speeds of 40 miles an hour and more, and refusing to slow down when they see a car emerging from a side street, it is a hazardous task for anyone to drive onto this speedway.

How would you like to be an unemployed man with a wife and several children to support and get relief by slaving for a contractor on a public work at the munificent wage of 30 cents per hour? "God Save the Commonwealth of Massachusetts" if the policy of giving contracts to lowest bidders is continued, when such bidders pay their workers a wage that will reduce them to the status of a Mexican peon or the former Russian serfs. And the purchasing power of workers so paid will rapidly restore prosperity.

Do you wonder that racketeering and crime increase when heartless business can wreck banks, reduce thousands to poverty and want, and because they have powerful political affiliations escape prison sentences?

CRAWFORD GETS 18 MONTHS SENTENCE

Frederick L. Crawford of Newbury street, Boston, formerly of Newton, was sentenced by Judge Hammond in the Superior Court at Cambridge yesterday to serve 18 months in the Middlesex County prison for the larceny of $600 from Alice Cassidy of Carver street, Boston. He borrowed the money from the woman after he had brought her to Newton and showed her an expensive automobile which he falsely claimed was his property. She took a mortgage on the car, but did not record it.

MEN'S EDUCATIONAL ASS'N HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING

The Fall meeting and dinner of the Newton Men's Educational Association was held Wednesday at the Charles River Country Club.

As guests of the 79 school men were the members of the Newton School committee. Short talks were given by Chairman Tracy, Mr. Church, Mr. Butts, Mrs. Cornell, Professor Mather and Mr. Fernald. Supt. John Lund finished up the evening with a very helpful informal chat, in which he well demonstrated his leadership.

The retiring president, Elmer Ellsworth, brought the evening to a close with election of officers for 1932-33. They are: Russell V. Burkhardt, president; vice president, Forrest F. Paige; secretary-treasurer, Abner H. Bailey; executive committee, Elmer E. Ellsworth, Charles W. Peterson, and Simon Surabian.

Rotary Club

Robert Huse, editorial executive of the New England Council, was the guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Newton Rotary Club on Monday at the Woodland Golf Club. The New England Council, was organized several years ago through the combined efforts of the governors of the New England states. Its main purpose is to promote the business prosperity of the New England states. Much has been accomplished for the farmers. Mr. Huse commented upon the large proportion of income which agriculture and dairy farming bring to the eastern section of the country. At present the Council is using its efforts and influence towards the consideration of budget and taxation problems of various towns and cities which need attention.

If a competent and experienced staff of leaders; but also, under the direct supervision of Mr. Johnson and Mr. Kuebler, a well balanced program of week-day work including a supervised play period, definite service handwork projects, dramatics, story and discussion periods, pictures, and worship.

Through the week-day program the boys and girls are brought in contact with Christian Leadership, in a program varied and enriched by the best materials and activities that can be gathered.

Further information concerning enrollment and program may be secured from either director.

Chance for Reform

All sorts of stories are heard about savings in postage now that the cost is three cents instead of two for the ordinary letter. Big utility concerns are sending bills out through a system of messenger delivery. Post-cards are more commonly used. A bright idea of writing a letter on a large envelope and expecting it to go through the mails for less money seemed for a time successful until a ruling came from Washington that it couldn't be done. People who used to mail their checks to tradesmen and other stories decided to pay the bill over the counter. All very good ways in which to save.

Still, there is one type of individual who hasn't been discouraged. I refer to the stamp-collector. That ingenious person continues to pursue his steady course. It doesn't seem any more difficult to him or her to ask for the loan of a three-cent stamp than a two. "Do you happen to have a stamp?" is a question that seems to come as regularly now as of old. And the familiar apology, "Now, don't forget, I owe you for this," has the same ring of a promise that will never be fulfilled. O well, there are some habits that are hard to shake.

Home Town Happenings

Something like "Newton Inanities" would perhaps have been a better title but it isn't pleasant to contemplate these examples of stupidity at one's very door no matter how trifling. However, they have come to notice and they'll never leave my head until I tell somebody. So, why not you?

The nomination papers of the Republican candidate for Attorney General were in circulation in this our own beloved city. One citizen, who was duly approached and asked to sign, questioned the man with the paper. He wanted to know what it was for, when the primaries were to be held and a lot of other things. All this was furnished him and he thereupon announced, "Well, I have never heard of the office of Attorney General and I don't know Joseph E. Warner. What does the Attorney General do and what kind of a man is Mr. Warner?" Just to show you how this incident ended, the patient solicitor explained the whole business and the doubting voter, after checking up to his own satisfaction, signed the papers.

The next tale comes from the owner of a small orchard. You can imagine what a time she has had protecting her property which is, unfortunately for her, located not far from a schoolhouse. The orchard-owner asked the youngsters if they wouldn't be patient until the apples were ripe and they refused to accept the suggestion. She thereupon requested the police to help her protect the trees. Somehow cooperation was not forthcoming and the woman, assisted by the other members of the family, was successful in preventing the complete ruin of the orchard. Eventually there were apples, enough for the use of the household, so the good lady, thinking she might have been severe with the youngsters, offered them some.

Most of them showed their gratitude by taking one bite and throwing the rest of the apple at the good natured family dog. The dog resented the assault and barked. This frightened some of the children who ran away and complained to the police that the woman was keeping a biting and barking dog. They didn't explain their presence on the woman's property. Down came the police to warn the woman that her dog must be restrained.

"But these children have no right on my property," said the woman. "They are trespassing, aren't they?" To which the alert policeman replied, "That doesn't make any difference. If your dog bites any one of those kids you'll have to go to court."

The third example is almost pathetic. A man who had bravely accepted business losses and kept right on taking good care of his wife and children, even to the extent of borrowing on his life insurance, was visited by an old friend of the family. The latter inquired for the health of the entire household and, being told that all were blessed with sound minds and bodies, exclaimed, "Doesn't seem to me that the depression has hit you folks. How did you escape?"

In Case You're Running

Call it depression or whatever you will, it's the fashion nowadays to hang on to nickels and dimes a little longer and forever, if possible. Everyone has a reason for applied thrift and you've got to admit that it's a pretty good idea unless somebody does something too stingy altogether. For those who prosper when political candidates are throwing their money around for the purpose of getting votes it is said to be an extremely lean year. The total amount of money spent by candidates in the recent State primaries is not an overwhelming figure when you come to realize that never in the history of the State were so many men and women seeking to be chosen candidates of their parties.

The candidate "with barrels of jack" did not, for some unaccountable reason (maybe you can account for it) make his appearance. You'll find as you glance over the primary returns that a number of very prominent men were nominated and afterwards proudly declared that they hadn't spent a cent. It is probably something else besides pride that made them feel good under the circumstances for what provides a bigger thrill than the knowledge you have saved money where you thought sure you'd have to loosen up.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Doctrine of Atonement" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, October 16.

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Therefore if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new. And all things are of God, who hath reconciled us to himself by Jesus Christ, and hath given to us the ministry of reconciliation" (II Corinthians 5:17,18).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes a passage from the Christian Science textbook: "Science and Health", by Mary Baker Eddy.

Kiwanis Club

Russia's next generation, now being educated under the Soviet System upon a philosophy that is fundamentally atheistic and thoroughly materialistic, will furnish the next big world problem in the opinion of the Rev. Louis J. Gallagher, S.J., President of Boston College. This menace must be met, he declared, by the determination of American colleges to carry forward their policy of liberal education based on sound Christian philosophy.

Fr. Gallagher, speaking at the regular weekly meeting of the Newton Kiwanis club in the Charles River Country club on Tuesday, pointed out the dangers that loom ahead because of the extraordinary program of education which has been progressing almost since the beginning of the Soviet power in Russia sixteen years ago. Fr. Gallagher sketched the history of today in the schools of this vast Northern nation than ever before and the philosophy of that educational system is directly opposite that in America and the rest of the world.

"Russia, richest of all the nations of the world in natural resources—Russia, who held the military control of the world from Napoleon's time until the beginning of the World War—Russia, who now claims economic control of the world, today presents the greatest menace of all in her educational program," declared Father Gallagher. "Our next generation will have to face that menace and the American colleges must prepare them for it."

In beginning his address on the influence of American College life, Fr. Gallagher sketched the history of higher education in this country from Pre-Revolutionary days up to the present time and explained in a most interesting manner of the increase in college curricula. He pointed out that there has never been developed in this country a standard college or the standardization of courses for particular degrees, and according to his opinion it is "perhaps just as well that there isn't a standard" for independence takes the place of standardization. There is one characteristic, which is common to all American colleges, he said, denominational as well as non-denominational, and that he described as "a spirit that springs from the Constitution of the United States, a spirit of which our flag is a symbol."

This same spirit, emanating from the American colleges, characterizes the American public, he said, and may be greatly responsible for the calm manner in which the men and women of this country have taken the depression. "It is surprising," said the speaker, "how very little violence has been created here by the depression. Our people have been very calm about the whole thing. There was a time when people used to study more extensively the causes of such trouble, but now they seem to be giving more careful and calm study to correcting the trouble. After all a man overboard is not so much concerned about how he got into the water as he is about how he is going to get out."

On the subject of economic troubles, Father Gallagher expressed the belief that the United States is headed toward prosperity now and the spirit of Americans, in his opinion, will bring about greater prosperity than ever before. It was at this point that he explained the dangers that lie ahead and in detail, based on personal experiences in Russia, told of the plans which the Soviet government is vigorously pushing in the vast and populous nation of the North.

Charles A. Mahoney presided at the Kiwanis meeting and the speaker was introduced by William M. Cahill of the Newton Telephone Company. The weekly club prize was won by Chief Michael T. Hughes of the Newton Police department. The club program committee announced that Congressman Robert Luce will be the speaker at the November 1st meeting. He will be introduced by Mayor Sinclair Weeks.

Newton Ctr. Has New Music Club

Newton Centre boasts a new musical organization in the "Ne Plus Ultra", a club of young girls of high school age, many of whom were in the operetta "Penny Buns and Roses", last June, under direction of Mrs. John A. Russell, who will act as Counselor for the new group. The club is limited to 25, and the full quota of contraltos has been made up, so that only applications from sopranos can be considered. Officers of the "Ne Plus Ultra" are: Ruth Stephenson, Pres.; Claudia Bassett, Vice-Pres.; Betty Marvin, Treas.; Dorothy Chapman, Rec. Sec.; Dorothy Peterson, Cor. Sec.; Barbara Wilson, Librarian; Peggy Mansfield, Chairman Scenic and Art Committee. The club has affiliated with the National Federation of Music Clubs of America, and will also join Gil Hamlin's "New England Community Chorus."

SAILS FOR CHINESE MISSION

Miss Mary Louise McClure, sister of Miss Helen A. McClure, 26 Kingston road, Newton Highlands, and of Arthur McClure, 27 Orange street, Woburn, sailed on October 6 to her work under the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions in Fenchow, North China, where she is principal of the Woman's Bible School.

Miss McClure was born in Waltham, Mass., and was educated in the Newton High School and at Oberlin College. The school of which she is principal trains Chinese women for Christian work among their own people. These women come from all walks of life, but the majority live in the isolated country areas.

Miss McClure has made many trips into the Chinese country sections. One such came at night over a lonely mountain pass on a pack mule, which felt its way along a narrow, rocky trail through a howling spring blizzard. She also had the unique experience of parleying with a bandit leader to save a Chinese town from looting and destruction. With her associates carrying gifts of the frightened Chinese villagers, namely, a horse, a pig, many pounds of flour, $150 in coin and nearly as much silver, together with wedding ornaments and a large bowl of opium, Miss McClure bargained with the bandits in their own hide-out and succeeded in saving the village from attack.

Miss McClure is the special missionary representative of the Young People's of New England, the Middle Atlantic states, and Florida.

Have You A Good Voice?

IF NOT, WHY NOT?

A good voice is everyone's birthright, but through neglect or misunderstanding of how to use the voice, it may soon become a poor interpretation of the individual. On the stage, platform, radio broadcasting, or every-day conversation the voice is of first importance, transmitting the essence of mind, through speech, so as to produce the most satisfactory results.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

Edited by EMMA D. COOLIDGE

COMING EVENTS

West Newton Women's Educational Club

The fifty-third year of the West Newton Women's Educational Club, under the guiding hand of its president, Mrs. D. Earle Brackett, promises to be one of unusual interest and activity.

Plans are well under way for raising the funds necessary to carry on the work of the Club. A rummage sale, a play, and a dinner are the projects which Mrs. Edgar P. Hay, chairman of the Finance committee, is sponsoring to take care of the budget.

Several departments of the Club have already announced particularly interesting programs for the year.

The American Home department, under the direction of Mrs. Alfred E. Thayer, has planned for six luncheons and a course of demonstration for home-makers.

The Education committee, of which Mrs. Henry L. Goodman is chairman, is arranging for Classes in Personality, Parliamentary Law, and Current Events.

The Mothercraft and Child Welfare committee, Mrs. Roy A. Stinson, chairman, has plans for monthly meetings for the purpose of discussing children, and of learning from competent persons how to understand, feed, and clothe them, and to develop their growth.

The Travel Class, with Mrs. Gilbert R. Jones as leader will study "Africa" this year.

In the past two or three years the Club has donated one hundred reference books to the library of the Levi F. Warren Junior High School, and it is hoped that the collection may be added to this year. Also, a scholarship will be awarded in accordance with the usual custom.

The Book Club, which Mrs. E. A. Dockstader has formed, is anticipating a course of six lectures by Mrs. Harold C. Bond.

The Junior Club, too, is well launched for another successful year, with Miss Kate Black as president.

Among the events planned for the Women's Club, October 25th is to be "Presidents' Day". The seventy-five invitations which have been issued include the names of Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole, president of the General Federation; Mrs. Frank P. Bennett, president of the State Federation; Mrs. Sheldon E. James, twelfth District director; and Mrs. Samuel N. Bramen, president of the Newton Federation.

The program will be given by Club talent, and will include solos and duets by Mrs. George N. Abbott and Miss Marion Gurney; violin selections by Miss Irene Forte, accompanied by Mrs. G. Howard Frost; and readings by Mrs. E. A. Dockstader.

The tea and social hour will be in charge of the Hospitality committee, of which Mrs. Raymond R. Forte is chairman.

Mrs. George H. Jackson has charge of the Rummage Sale which the Club is to have on Thursday, October 20th, in a vacant store in the old post-office building.

The Travel Class of the Women's Club is to "journey" through Africa this year, under the leadership of Mrs. Gilbert R. Jones.

The meetings are to be held on the second and fourth Mondays of each month, in the homes of the members. Mrs. Louis A. Bacon, of 354 Waltham street, will be the hostess for the first meeting, which is scheduled for October 17th. Mrs. Bacon will be assisted by Mrs. Starr Burdick.

Waban Woman's Club

Under the auspices of the Art committee of the Waban Woman's Club most interesting classes are being formed pertaining to dressmaking, the branches to be studied being remodeling and the art of proportion, color, and texture. These classes are in charge of Mrs. Llewellyn A. Marr and Mrs. Robert S. Chase.

The regular meeting of the Club will be held Tuesday, the 18th, at 2:30 p. m., in the Congregational Parish House, with an illustrated lecture on "The Viking Empire" by Howard Brenton MacDonald, F.R.G.S. Mr. MacDonald has been twice around the globe, travelled to within 571 miles of the North Pole, has visited Scandinavia four times, and crossed the United States nine times. He will bring to the Club something of the history and romance of the Vikings against a beautiful panorama of Iceland, Spitzbergen, and the fjords of Norway, Oslo, Visby, Stockholm, and Copenhagen.

The girl scouts of Newton Highlands will be the guests of the Club at this meeting.

The Community Service committee of the Club in conjunction with St. Paul's Parish Women's Auxiliary, the Women's Associates of the Congregational Church, the Ladies Aid of the Methodist Church, and the Girl Scout Leaders will hold an all-day sewing meeting for the Newton Hospital, in the Workshop, on Monday, October 17th at 9:30 a. m. Miss Bertha Allen, Superintendent of the Newton Hospital will speak at 11:30. A box luncheon will be enjoyed at noon.

Newtonville Woman's Club

A course of six lectures by Alice Dixon Bond is being sponsored by the Ways and Means committee of the Newtonville Woman's Club. The first lecture of the series will be given on Wednesday the 19th, at 10:00 a. m., at the Club House. These lectures include book reviews of the latest and best books of the season, and at each meeting there will be a complete review of the best book of the month.

Alice Dixon Bond, as a lecturer and interpreter of modern literature, needs no formal introduction to Newtonville audiences. Mrs. Bond has appeared several times before the Club presenting her Book Reviews and personal interviews with authors. Her charming manner and vivacious personality enter so decidedly into her interpretations that her audience is entertained and amused, while at the same time the best work of the month is discussed with that deep literary insight for which Mrs. Bond is noted.

The Course is offered to Club members and to the public for $2.50 for the series, any single tickets may be obtained at 75 cents from Mrs. Constance Kemper, W. N. 1355-W, or from any member of the Ways and Means committee. There will be one lecture a month from October 19th through March, the dates of the successive lectures to be announced later.

The Scholarship Bridge which has become a part of the program of the activities of the Educational committee, will this year be given at the Club House, on Friday, October 21st, at 2:00 p. m. The proceeds from this Card Party and also from the Food Sale which is to precede the bridge, will be added to the sum which the Club gives yearly to philanthropies.

During the afternoon, Mrs. F. Spencer Arend has offered to give instruction to any players desiring help in Contract Bridge. Mrs. Arend's ability as a teacher of Contract is well-known, and this is an opportunity to receive help from an experienced teacher and authority.

Mrs. Frederick L. Edmonds has charge of the arrangements for the afternoon and is being assisted by members of the Educational committee. This will be a dessert bridge and there is a prize for each table. The tickets are $1.00, which includes the instruction in Contract, and may be obtained from Mrs. Edmonds, N. N. 2730-M, or from any member of the Educational committee.

Classes are being formed in French and German; elementary, conversational and advanced courses are offered. The elementary course emphasizes instruction in pronunciation and vocabulary building. The aim of the conversational group is to develop a practical speaking knowledge of the language studied. The advanced class is planned to give practice in both speaking and writing. Special attention will be paid to idiomatic expressions and sentence structure. Those who desire this instruction should apply for enrollment to Mrs. J. Ernest Gibson, N. N. 2277-J.

The Book Clubs that were so much enjoyed last year are being formed again this year. Mrs. Leroy W. Lealand, W. N. 2671, will be pleased to enroll any who care to join.

The Community Service Club of West Newton is president, opens a season of unusual interest on October 19th, at 2:30 p. m., in the Second Church, West Newton.

Owing to political engagements, Senator David I. Walsh has been obliged to cancel his appointment to speak before the Club at this meeting. The Club, however, is most fortunate in being able to secure a speaker for that afternoon Stanley Ross Fisher, whose subject will be "What Is Happening in China, and Why?"

Mr. Fisher has come to be known as an international authority on this interesting subject and his lecture carries one into the very heart of China. It outlines the history of China's achievements in the past in the realms of government, religion, education, architecture, and the cultural arts, and then analyzes the social, political, and economic revolution through which that great country is passing today. Following the program, tea will be served under the direction of Mrs. G. F. Earnshaw.

The Community Service Club again will sponsor a Course of ten lectures on Current Events by Mrs. Claude W. Gilson. Each year an enthusiastic group welcomes Mrs. Gilson's return from abroad, where her frequent visits and many contacts assure her audience of first-hand information concerning world events, so many of which particularly claim interest and attention at the present time. Her talks add much to, and help materially in, understanding the front-page news of the newspapers.

Mrs. Francis Newhall is in charge of this Course of lectures, and non-members of the Club are privileged to avail themselves of the opportunity to hear Mrs. Gilson.

The Club has also arranged to renew the series of Book Talks by Mrs. Alice Dixon Bond, which proved a delightful innovation in the Club activities last year. Mrs. Ernest H. Dockstader is chairman of the Book Talks.

French Classes, under a competent teacher of French, will be renewed, and are under the direction of Mrs. Edward Payson Drew.

The Club Chorus, under the leadership of Mrs. Marion Kingsbury, which gave pleasure last year to those who joined, and to the Club, will be among this year's activities.

Mrs. Clifford M. Brewer is in charge of the formation of the chorus.

These classes are not limited to Club members.

Newton Federation

The first meeting of the Executive Board of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs will be held October 24th at 10 o'clock at the main Library in Newton. In accordance with the vote at the Annual Meeting on May 2nd last, the basis of representation for the voting body of the Federation has been changed from that formerly observed. The members forming the Executive Board include the officers, directors, and chairmen of committees of the Federation and the presidents of the Federated Clubs of the Associate Organizations. This new arrangement follows the plan of the State Federation. The delegates from the Clubs composing the Federation will have voting power at the regular Federation meetings, of which there are three during the Club Year, i.e., the Fall, the Midyear, and the Annual meetings, the Clubs having delegates on a pro rata basis. All clubwomen are urged to attend these three meetings, but the voting body has been restricted to the Executive Board and delegates. It is anticipated that with the smaller group there will be closer co-operation leading to broader results.

Mrs. Victor P. Ratsburg, the new chairman of the Program committee, is busy with plans for the Fall meeting, to be held November 14th, when the forenoon and afternoon sessions will be separated by the luncheon period, for which luncheon Mrs. C. H. Lippincott, chairman, and her Social committee again will cater.

New England Conference

Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, the 18th through the 20th, are the three days of interest at Whitefield, New Hampshire, for the Annual Conference of New England State Federations of Women's Clubs. The outstanding social event of the period is the dinner given on Tuesday evening to Grace Morrison Poole, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, at the Mountain View House, which hotel, in the midst of mountain grandeur, is the brilliant and beautiful setting for the fall gathering of many hundreds of New England women.

State Federation

RADIO. The program for the broadcast of the 15th was given in full in this Column last week, reminder only being necessary that this may be heard over WBZ, from 11:30 to 12 o'clock Saturday morning.

At the same time on Saturday, the 22nd, the State chairman of Legislation, Mrs. Harriet Russell Hart, will speak to the timely topic "Why We Have Political Parties". This should be most entertaining. Mrs. Robert Parmenter, chairman of the Division of Conservation of Natural Resources, will give a talk to the clever title "Nature's Bargain Counter". Music will be furnished by Mr. Howard D. Harrington, Concert Tenor, accompanied by Mr. Edwin Biltchiff.

PERSONALS. Mrs. Frank P. Bennett, the new State president, and Mrs. Frank H. Stewart, of Newton Centre, whose work in the field of art for the Federation has made her so well-known, have been chosen to represent the State Federation on the National Economy League, organized to assist in reducing the cost of government.

Clubwomen of Massachusetts have almost completely furnished the room at General Federation Headquarters at Washington which will be occupied by Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole, of Brockton, General Federation president. The gift was made possible from a surplus left from the campaign fund, and the remaining sum has been transferred to Mrs. Frederick S. Davis, State Federation treasurer, to be known as the Grace Morrison Poole Fund, and to be spent at the discretion of the Executive Board for the comfort and happiness of Mrs. Poole during her term of office.

Mrs. George A. Mellon, of Lawrence, vice-chairman of Club Institutes, has recently been appointed as chairman of this department of club work. Mrs. Mellon succeeds Mrs. Thomas J. Walker, first vice-president of the State Federation.

Mrs. Carl Weber Illig, Jr., of Onset, is the newly-appointed chairman of the Division of Public Health in the General Federation of Women's Clubs. The other chairman from Massachusetts is Mrs. Fred L. Pickett, chairman of the Department of Education.

The fall reception which was to have been given in honor of Mrs. Bennett, State president, at Amherst, has been postponed until spring. Mrs. May Dickinson Kimball has planned the event to be held at her Baggs-Dickinson Tavern.

MANUAL. In a soft sage green and gold cover, the State Federation manual for the year 1932-33 has made its annual appearance, and is particularly beautiful. Before touching upon state affairs, it brings a keen and thoughtful greeting from the General Federation president, Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole, together with her picture, a departure in manual arrangement. The book contains a complete list of the 391 clubs in the State, four city Federations of which Newton is honored in having one, and six affiliated organizations, with a total membership of approximately 137,000 women. The usual information regarding State Divisions and Districts and annual reports is also included.

This year the editing of the manual was directed by Mrs. Bennett, State president; Mrs. Edward M. Cox, recording secretary; Mrs. Hazel H. Al-

Moths in Winter - -

Yes, it's true! Moths flourish in Fall as well as Spring. Government research proves what many people have suspected from sad experience.

At this time of year, they are a special threat to sport clothes . . . flannel trousers . . . top coats . . . and other apparel you will not wear again until warm weather comes.

All clothing should be put away or stored only after a thorough cleaning.

New Mode Cleansing is an inexpensive way to make sure of this protection.

RECENT EVENTS

West Newton Junior Educational Club

The West Newton Junior Educational Club held its first meeting of the season in the Community Room of the West Newton Library on Tuesday Evening, October 4th. The members feel very privileged to be able to hold their meetings for the following year in such an attractive and cheery place, and they feel very much indebted to Mrs. Victor Ratzburg, their advisor, for securing the room for them. Miss Kate Black, the president for the ensuing year, informed the Club that the dance planned for Halloween has had to be cancelled.

Miss Black introduced the speaker, Miss Harriet L. Parsons, from the Massachusetts Society of Mental Hygiene, who spoke on "Our Mental Health". Miss Parsons' charming personality and pleasing way of talking made her talk very interesting and humorous. The next meeting will be held on Tuesday, November first.

Nathan Fuller Chapter, D. R.

The October meeting of the Nathan Fuller Chapter, D. R., was held on the eleventh at the home of Mrs. Philip Horne, Barnes road, Newton. The Regent, Miss Barbara Estabrook, presided and the Corresponding Secretary read a letter thanking the chapter for sending Christmas cards to the children in the school at Nain, Labrador.

Mrs. Henry Cross told of the need for chairs at the Soldiers' and Sailors' Club in New York City and also for cigarettes for the veterans in the hospitals. The executive board's recommendations that the chapter give on chair for a room at the Soldiers' and Sailors' Club and a sum of money for cigarettes for the veterans were accepted.

The Regent reported that the money given by the Chapter to the Welfare Bureau was used to supply milk for a needy family in Newton. Of the twenty-one flags which the chapter purchased last year, seventeen were given to citizenship classes in the Newton High School and the remaining four to Mrs. Seaver's Americanization classes. The boxes which the members had been filling during the summer for the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children were collected.

Plans for an afternoon bridge party to be held at the Hunnewell Club in Newton on October twenty-first are well under way. Mrs. Walter MacAdam has on her committee Mrs. Leonard Abbott, Mrs. Henry Cross, Mrs. John H. Field, Jr., Mrs. Richard Lee, Mrs. G. Raymond Lehrer, and Mrs. John Merrill. The members were asked to save silk stockings to be collected at the December meeting for the veterans in the hospitals.

Tea was then served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Thomas Cleveland and Mrs. Fred Gilroy.

Big Truck Sinks In Cave-In Due To Heavy Rain

Necessitates Traffic Detour on Walnut Street

One of those freight-car size trucks which are using public highways sank through the surface of Walnut street, Newtonville yesterday afternoon and blocked traffic for several hours. The big truck, owned by Fletcher Brothers of Medford, driven by Russell Fletcher, and loaded with groceries, broke through the surface between Mill street and Dexter road. It went down four feet into the ground and made a hole 8 feet wide and 13 feet long. John Plantedose, 17, of 27 Cook street, Nonantum, a telegraph messenger, who was riding behind the truck on his bicycle, narrowly escaped death. He managed to leap out of the way as the truck settled into the hole, but his bicycle was crushed. Street Department employees placed wooden horses to detour traffic from Walnut street and several policemen were sent to the scene.

Carl Smith of Goffstown, New Hampshire, while detouring onto Mill street, hit the traffic signal at the corner of Walnut street and demolished it. Trucks of the Street Department carried the groceries from the big moored truck to the Crafts street yard. The load on the truck was weighed there by Inspector King of the Newton police department and Edward Cannon, superintendent of the Sewer Division. It was found to weigh 9 tons, and a charge of overloading may be brought against the driver of the truck. A power shovel and crane owned by the Street Department extricated the truck from the hole.

Coleman Brothers Not Prosecuted In Wage Dispute

Case Against Turnpike Contractors Is Dropped

In the Newton court yesterday the case against Coleman brothers, contractors building the Worcester turnpike in this city, and who were accused of violating the State law by paying less than prevailing wages to their employees, was dropped. On the request of Herbert Gould of the State Department of Labor, who was the complainant, Judge Bacon dismissed the case. Gould told the court that Coleman Brothers had reached a satisfactory agreement with the State officials on the matter of the wages. There were four counts against the contractors.

Newton Hospital Establishes New Medical Service

Accepts Junior Interns From Tufts Medical College

Friends of the Newton Hospital will be pleased to learn that institution's participation in the Tufts College Medical School Junior Intern Service.

Several years ago under the able leadership of Dean Rushmore, a small group of senior medical students at Tufts were sent to various suburban hospitals to receive a part of their instruction in medicine and surgery. In the old days medical education was largely a matter of apprenticeship—an untrained lad the apprentice, a general practitioner his instructor or preceptor. Dean Rushmore felt that the best way to teach a student to be a general practitioner was to have him study under one. Carrying on the work of Dr. Rushmore, Dean Stearns has enlarged the field, adding more hospitals and sending his entire fourth year class out into the fields of the general practitioner.

Each of the eighteen hospitals now affiliated with Tufts for Junior Intern Service has its preceptor, a member of the staff, whose duty it is to supervise and instruct the assigned students. The Newton Hospital has eight students from Tufts during the school year, each for a period of two months. The students have as their preceptor, Dr. George L. West, dean of the staff, who as a teacher and leader is a constant inspiration to all who come in contact with him. Fortunately, indeed, is the Newton Hospital in having this contact with the teaching side of medicine, and fortunate the community in having for its doctors a group of men who are so eager to learn and to pass their knowledge on to others, a really great service.

New City Job Is Created by Mayor And Aldermen

Money Appropriated for Assistant Comptroller

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night a recommendation was received from Mayor Weeks asking that $400 be appropriated to provide for two months salary for an Assistant Comptroller of Accounts. The regular meeting of the Board had just adjourned when President Collins was informed that the Mayor had a very important recommendation to present to the Aldermen on which he desired immediate action. After a conference with Mayor Weeks, Alderman Ball, chairman of the Finance Committee told the Board, which was called to order for this purpose, that the Mayor desired this official to be on the job when the newly organized system will be put in operation at the new City Hall. Mr. Ball said that the salary of the new office has been placed at $200 per month and that the Civil Service Commission will be asked to certify names from which an appointment will be made. If a suitable person is not obtained through the Civil Service Commission, the Legislature will be asked to pass special Legislation which will enable someone to be appointed to this job. The office will be filled by a man who can pass the Civil Service test in accountancy.

Some months ago the Board of Aldermen, at the request of Mayor Weeks appropriated $5500 for survey and supervision by Stone & Webster of Boston in connection with the establishment of a Division of Billing and Typing at city hall. This survey was made by Allan Duff of Newtonville, who will assist in the installation of this new division by making recommendations until it is functioning regularly. This division will be part of the Accounting Department and under the direction of the Comptroller of Accounts. Clerks from various departments at City Hall will be transferred to the new division. They will do the billing and stenographic work for all the departments. Data of costs of work by the Street, Water and other departments will be obtained by clerks in those offices, but the bills will be made out by the Accounting Department. When a department head needs any typing to be done or dictation taken, he must obtain a memorandum or typewriter from the new division. It is supposed that this innovation will save the city considerable by eliminating extra clerical help.

Unemployed Put To Work on Playground

Forty-five unemployed men were given work on Monday at the Hawthorn street playground at Newtonville. The men were provided from the list furnished by the Relief Committee. An appropriation of $3000 for this work was made by the Aldermen on October 5.

CAPT. BEN TRIPP HONORED BY FELLOW FIREMEN

Capt. Benjamin Tripp of Engine 1 was honored Saturday evening at a gathering held in Engine 1 House at Newton Corner. In behalf of his former associates in this company and some of his friends, he was presented by Chief Randlett with a leather-covered easy chair and a smoker's stand. A bouquet of roses was presented for Mrs. Tripp.

Captain Tripp was born in Lemington, Maine, October 17, 1867, and came to Newton when a boy. Shortly after his arrival here he was appointed, on Sept. 15, 1884, a call fireman Hose 1 at Newton Corner. Later he became stoker on Engine 1, assistant Engineer Frank Judkins. On April 1, 1895, he was appointed a permanent member of the Fire Department and assigned to Engine 1, but for a few years he served as relief engineer when needed on the other steamers. He was promoted to Lieutenant on July 1, 1912, and made Captain on August 15, 1916. Captain Tripp owns property at Hiram, Me., and intends to spend much of his time there, residing at Newton during the Winter seasons.

Newton Citizens Club Seeking 5c Bus Fares

Want Lower Fares From Nonantum to Newton

The Newton Citizens Club will hold a barn dance on Halloween Night, Monday, October 31st at Columbia Hall, Nonantum. Prizes will be awarded for the best costumes. A committee headed by Dr. A. A. Amendola is in charge of this affair.

A committee of the club, composed of President John Finelli, James Dangel, Simon Grinspoon and Lawrence Mazzola, Jr. has been appointed to endeavor to secure 5c fares from Nonantum to Watertown and Newton Corner. President Hanson of the Middlesex & Boston Company and Alderman Hawkins, chairman of the Franchises Committee of the Newton Board of Aldermen, have been approached on this matter. It has been suggested by the committee that a 3 months trial be given this plan, and that if the Middlesex & Boston does not favor single 5c fares as suggested round trip tickets for 10c be sold.

On Wednesday night, November 2nd a non-partisan political rally will be held by the Newton Citizens Club at Columbia Hall. Invitations to speak have been sent to the candidates for Congress from the new 9th District, and to candidates for State offices. Already acceptances have been received from some of the prominent candidates and it is expected that an imposing array of speakers will address the meeting. The public is invited.

To Spend $3000 For Dedication Of City Hall

Aldermen Appropriate This Sum for Dedication Nov. 11

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night an appropriation of $3000 was made, on recommendation of Mayor Weeks to defray the cost of the dedication ceremonies at the new City Hall and War Memorial on November 11. Referring to this appropriation, Alderman Ball, chairman of the Finance Committee of the Aldermen said that at the dedication of these buildings it seems proper to hold fitting exercises, but, because of the hard times money will not be spent lavishly on the affair. He stated that the committee in charge of this event has arranged an extensive program, and the American Legion has raised some money to help in defraying the expenses, and he commented that $3000 is no an exorbitant amount for the city to spend. This amount, he continued, will pay for the invitations which are being sent out for the occasion, the cost of transporting military bodies that are to participate, providing of seats for the several thousands of spectators expected, lunches for invited guests and speakers, badges and policing of the grounds. There was no opposition to the appropriation on the part of any Alderman.

At the same meeting the Aldermen appropriated an additional $9452.21 for further work at the City Hall and War Memorial. Referring to an appropriation of $15,000 made some months ago, as a supplementary appropriation for the cost of the structures, Mr. Ball explained that out of this amount the salaries of three inspectors at the buildings had to be paid.

The Aldermen also voted to authorize expenditure of $1446.28, a balance on hand from the Soldiers' Bonus Fund returned to the city by the Commonwealth, for furnishing the War Memorial. Much of this sum will be used to defray the cost of a memorial book composed of metal plates which will contain photographs and names of Newton soldiers who lost their lives in the service of their country.

Over 100 absentee ballots will be cast at the coming election if all the applications filled out will be taken advantage of. Dedication Plans Of New City Hall Nearly Complete

Parade, Dedication, and Veteran Activities Features

The following details of the dedication ceremonies of the new City Hall and War Memorial Building on Armistice Day, November 11th, have been announced by the Mayor's office.

Plans for the dedication, tentatively arranged by a large number of Committees working under the direction of Mayor Weeks, provide for: 1—The parade; 2—The dedication, and 3—The Veteran activities, which include a Sousa Memorial Band and Drum Corps competition in the afternoon and a Military Ball in the evening.

General Daniel Needham of Newton, who will be Chief of Staff, is in charge of the parade plans. It is expected that 5,000 uniformed marchers will take part and that the formation will take place in Washington street, Newton, near the Fire Station, and in the streets leading off Washington street. The procession will be along Washington street to Newtonville square, through Walnut street to Commonwealth avenue, where the parade will rest at about 10:50, just east of the reviewing stand.

Exactly at 11:00 o'clock the aerial manoeuvres having been concluded, and it is expected that, in addition to the airplanes from the Boston and Springfield Airports, there will be a bombing squadron from Mineola, L. I.—a battery of artillery located in the circle in front of the War Memorial will fire a 21-gun salute, a selected band will play the Star Spangled Banner, and the flags will be run up on the staffs in front of the building. Actually, this will be the dedication.

Then the parade will proceed. It will file past grandstands erected on the reservations (these stands are now located on the High School football field and will be taken down and transported to Commonwealth ave. the day before the exercises) the parade will also pass the reviewing stand, which will be located opposite the grandstands, and on which will be located about 100 officials and guests. Military units such as the members of the regular Army, Navy, and Marine Corps, and visiting band and drum corps will march in a column down the avenue and march to Claffin field. Veteran organizations, which include the American Legion, Spanish War Veterans, auxiliaries, etc., will turn left and march to seats which will be placed in the circular drive in front of the hall, the parking space on the Homer street side, and the driveway in front of the municipal building.

When the parade has passed, the officials and invited guests will leave the reviewing stand and a special section of the grandstand and will take their places in Memorial Hall, and in the Aldermanic Chamber. The general public will have the seats vacated in the grandstand and the others not occupied formerly by the guests. It is expected that about 6,000 seats will be provided, half that number for the non-ticket holding public. The grounds will be roped off, and policed. Loud speaking apparatus will be placed on the outside of the building so that all outside as well as inside will be able to hear the program to follow.

The master of ceremonies to be selected, furnished by one of the radio broadcasting systems, which will also put the program on the air, will introduce the first speaker, and will tell those outside just what is going on inside. The speakers will include Mayor Weeks for the city, Governor Ely for the State; General Harbor for the Army; and United States Senator Moses for the National Government. In addition, there will be prayers before and after the general speaking, by the Presidents of two Newton Colleges—Boston College and Andover Newton Theological Seminary. It is expected that the speaking program will terminate about one o'clock.

While the speaking program is in progress, the military organizations will be holding a Military Ball in the evening at the Claffin field.

At the City Hall and War Memorial location, from 1:00 to 5:00 in the afternoon, there will be inspection of the War Memorial and Municipal Building. In the War Memorial, 40 members of the American Legion will act as official guides. In the municipal end of the building, there will be a large staff of guides recruited from the various city departments. During the same hours on Claffin field, there will be conducted the Sousa Memorial Band and Drum Corps Competition. It is expected that between 40 and 50 musical organizations from various parts of Massachusetts will compete for these prizes. An elaborate program is being arranged, and admittance to the series of contests is free to the public.

In the evening, at the State Armory in West Newton, military ball will be held, under the auspices of the veteran organizations. This will conclude the program which has been sketched above, but which is in the process of being worked out in detail by the Committees numbering several hundred.

Republican Club To Hold Big Rally At High School

Gov. Gardiner of Maine Heads List of Speakers

The Republican Club of Newton will hold a big rally at the high school auditorium next week Wednesday evening, Oct. 26th, at eight o'clock. As there will be speakers for the national ticket as well as for various state offices it is expected that many will attend. President Sydney Holden of the Republican Club will open the meeting and present Mayor Sinclair Weeks of Newton who will introduce the various speakers.

Hon. William Tudor Gardiner, Governor of Maine, heads the speakers and will make his only appearance in this state in behalf of the national ticket. He is regarded as one of the foremost speakers of the East. Congressman Robert Luce of Waltham, candidate for election from the new ninth district; Lt. Gov. William S. Youngman, candidate for Governor; Hon. Gaspar G. Bacon, President of the Mass. Senate and candidate for Lieutenant-governor; Attorney-General Joseph E. Warner, candidate for reelection; and Mrs. Paul M. Keene of Cambridge, writer and journalist, are among the other speakers.

150 City Employees Out of Work—40 More on Half Time

Last Saturday 150 men employed in the Newton Street Department were laid off. Forty more were placed on half time. From present indications, unless snow storms provide short periods of employment, these men will have no work until next spring. About 50 of them have engaged an attorney and have demanded a hearing. They will be accorded a hearing next Monday morning at City Hall by Street Commissioner Stuart.

which will have marched to Claffin field, will be fed in the Newton High School Cafeteria, after which they will be assigned to positions in the Stadium. That place also will be roped off and policed. The veteran organizations, which will be seated outside the building, during the speaking program will, immediately on conclusion of this program, have demanded an will march to Claffin field, where they will have luncheon in the High School Cafeteria. A group of distinguished guests, with the city officials, will go at this time to the Brae Burn Country Club for a municipal luncheon. Invitations will be issued for this event to a limited number by Mayor Weeks.

At the City Hall and War Memorial location, from 1:00 to 5:00 in the afternoon, there will be inspection of the War Memorial and Municipal Building. In the War Memorial, 40 members of the American Legion will act as official guides. Country Day Loses Country Day School lost to the strong Middlesex School last Saturday at Concord by a 31 to 14 score. The Newton school's two touchdowns came on long runs with Bill Schmidt intercepting a Middlesex pass to race 60 yards for a score and Brad Jenkins talking the other on a 40-yard romp at the end of a forward lateral pass play.

NEWTON DEFEATS QUINCY HIGH 25-0; SCORE EVERY PERIOD

Newton high defeated Quincy high at the Dickinson Memorial Stadium in Newtonville last Saturday, 25 to 0, scoring one touchdown in each period. With the first period three-quarters over Captain Warren Huston tossed a pass to Palmer York whose forty-yard run ended on the four-yard line when he was forced outside by Pease and Dahlquist, Quincy backs. Quincy put up a stubborn defense, but on the fourth down "Red" McCarthy plunged over for the first score. Early in the second period McCarthy intercepted a Quincy pass to give Newton the ball near the Newton 40-yard stripe. A mixed passing and rushing game for three first downs put Newton on Quincy's five-yard stripe. The rushing game was stopped by the Quincy defense and it took a short pass from Huston to York to put the ball over on fourth down. On the fourth play after the kickoff which opened the second half a "perfect" play brought the third score. Huston had returned the kickoff 18 yards to the Newton 38 and three line plays had netted nine and a half yards. Huston took the ball on an off-tackle slant and straight-ahead the only man who had a chance at him as he crossed the line of scrimmage as his interference made a big hole for him. Once in the Quincy backfield he cut back, eluded the secondary defense with the aid of the remainder of his interference, and had a clear field for a touchdown. It was a 53-yard run. The fourth touchdown was the result of a 40-yard run by York who intercepted a Quincy pass on the run and as his mates quickly blocked off the nearest Quincy players he was unobscured as he sped to the goal. Only one of the four tries for the point after touchdown was successful. On the first try Huston's kick was low. He made good on his second attempt. On the third, York, who made the attempt as Huston was regaining his breath after his long run, found his kick blocked by Quincy linemen. The fourth attempt, a pass from Flegg to Drowne which was completed, but Drowne stepped out side the field on the 1-yard line as he caught the ball and the point could not be allowed.

While the score was one-sided it does not indicate a true comparison of the ability of the two teams. Newton had possession of the ball but twice in the first period. The first time they had advanced the ball after the Quincy 40-yard line after receiving the kickoff and lost the ball on downs. The visitors immediately took possession of the oval again when Dahlquist intercepted Huston's pass to York. The second time came when Dahlquist fumbled when tackled after receiving a pass and Louis Miller fell on it on Quincy's 46-yard stripe. An incomplete pass and a line play by Huston preceded the pass to York which led to the first Newton score as described. Early in the second period Newton got possession of the ball again when McCarthy intercepted a Quincy pass. The orange and black then marched 53 yards for its second tally. This march opened with a pass from Huston to York for a 27-yard gain with York gathering in the ball on a pretty one-handed scoop. Kuleska blocked out a Quincy tackler to start York on his way. Huston next tossed a pass to Finberg who had a clear field ahead, but the pass was just beyond the reach of the Newton end. Turning to a rushing game Huston ripped off 13 yards through tackle for a first down on the Quincy 19-yard line. McCarthy gained five on a criss-cross and Huston planted the ball on the 5-yard line with a 9-yard romp for another first down. York hit the line for two yards and Huston was held for no gain by Eaton, Quincy end. York was stopped by quarterback Reilly but the score came on the next play when Huston tossed a short pass to York.

During the remainder of the period Newton had possession of the ball but twice. A Quincy advance was stopped near the Newton 40-yard mark and Huston received a kick on his 15-yard line to run it back about 5 yards. Two incomplete passes drew a five-yard penalty which was more than offset by a 10-yard gain by Huston. But it was fourth down, five yards to go and Huston had to kick. Newton took the ball on downs on the Quincy 45-yard stripe and two plays closed the half.

Quincy kicked off to Newton to open the second half and on the fourth play Huston got loose on his 53-yard romp. Newton kicked off following the touchdown and Quincy started a march which carried them from their 45-yard line, to Newton's 14-yard line where the orange and black took the ball on downs. Three plays gained but eight yards and Huston kicked. Those were the only two occasions when Newton had possession of the ball in the third period.

Shortly after the final period began the Newton line, led by Charlie Houghton, blocked a Quincy kick which Rich recovered for the home team on Quincy's 37 yard line. Three plays led to a first down but three more plays failed to gain materially and York punted, as Huston had been replaced by Flegg. A few plays later York intercepted a Quincy pass and scored the final Newton tally. Newton kicked off and had the ball but once more before the game ended. After Quincy received the kick-off they began a march which seemed almost certain to score against the Newton third-string players. Passes and rushes chalked up four consecutive first downs to take Quincy from their own 30-yard line to the Newton 7-yard line, a total of 63 yards. Here Newton held, however, for three downs and a Quincy pass on fourth down was incomplete and Newton put the ball in play on its 20-yard stripe. On the march Quincy completed four consecutive passes for gains of 9, 12, 17,

Town Team Wins
The Newton Town Team pinned an 18-6 defeat on the Ellsworth Club of Cambridge last Sunday afternoon at the Upper Falls playground. Two of the Newton scores came on long passes by Bill Annese and "Genny" Ingham to Mathies and Dedoming. Annese tallied the fifth touchdown on a 40-yard run off tackle. This Sunday afternoon the local outfit will meet the South Boston Okos at three o'clock on the Upper Falls playground.

and 10 yards. Putting the ball in play on the 20-yard line Newton gained eight yards in four plays, losing the ball on downs on their 23-yard line. Quincy had time for but two more plays before the game ended. The winning team had possession of the ball so little of the time and yet won by a large margin. Newton put the ball in play, with the exception of several kickoffs, but eight plays in the first period, sixteen in the second, eight in the third and twelve in the fourth, a total of 44 times. Newton made 5 first downs while Quincy chalked up 19, gaining considerably more than the home team. Newton attempted 15 passes and completed 5 for a total of 82 yards gain. Quincy tossed 29 passes and completed 16 for a total of 143 yards gain. Newton had one pass intercepted and Quincy two, while 9 of Newton's passes were incomplete as against 11 for the visitors.

NEWTON'S CHANCES AT STAKE TOMORROW

Newton's chances for the 1932 Suburban league title are decidedly at stake tomorrow afternoon when the orange and black of Newton High meets the red and blue of Somerville high at the Dickinson Stadium. Somerville in the past three years has claimed championship honors in the once famous circuit. The year previous the Dickerman coached clan tied for honors and this season is out to figure in its fifth straight title. Incidentally Somerville is playing its last series of Suburban league contests as on January first the school committee of that city has determined to sever its connections with the league which will carry on with four remaining members.

Somerville's desire to repeat in its final league competition is not one whit keener than the desire of Newton to upset the hopes of the red and blue standard bearers. And at present Newton looks to have the best chance of turning the tables. Primed for the game with this incentive the Newton team has been practicing the features in schoolboy football for the afternoon. The visitors come to Newton undefeated this season although having been tied by Medford and also holding Malden to a tie in the opener. Somerville has won the other two of its four games having defeated Waltham high 13 to 10 in a nip and tuck affair and subduing Cambridge Latin last Monday in the mud to the tune of 20 to 0.

Newton, on the other hand, has lost one, tied one and won two of its four games. Smarting under the 19 to 0 defeat from Arlington the Newton outfit turned back Cambridge Latin 6 to 0 to open the Suburban league season. Journeying to Everett the orange and black rose to its might to outplay the heavily favored Glidden team and come home with a scoreless tie. Last Saturday the Newton team showed a sparkling offense to run up a 25 to 0 margin over the visiting Quincy eleven. Tomorrow comes the second major test of the season.

An additional incentive to turning back the Somerville team lies in the fact that Newton has not scored on a Dickerman coached team since the game in 1928 and has not defeated Somerville since 1927 when Captain Romaine Cole and his mates turned in a 14 to 0 victory. The year previous the game resulted in a 7 to 7 tie. In 1929 Somerville was victorious 18 to 6, in 1929 by a score of 14 to 0 and for the past two seasons by scores of 7 to 0. Newton is eager to get back on the winning path in its meetings with Somerville.

The game is assuredly a toss-up and is quite likely to be more than a one sided affair. Newton has had indoor touchdowns game with the result hinging upon the strength of defense which the winner displays. Both teams have shown an offense that may bring an unexpected score while neither has consistently displayed a really strong defense.

Coach Sanborn has been handicapped this week by the wet weather in intense defensive work and tackling but has had indoor sessions in the gymnasium which have been aimed to develop the team as a unit on signals and assignments. Jack Murphy will return to the left end berth having recovered from an injury that handicapped him in the past two games. Kevorkian at tackle and Al Beyer at guard will make the left side of the Newton line almost impregnable. With Charlie Thompson fighting off a cold it is possible that Dick Francis will start at center, Tom Kinraide and Charlie Houghton will be at guard and tackle on the right side of the line. This spot will be just as strong as the left side. Ted Johnson is the likely starter at right end although Ed Grethe, Wheldon, and Bill Cusumano are still in the race for the opportunity. In the backfield Captain Huston will be supported by Palmer York, "Red" McCarthy and Bob Whitney. The first three named have borne the brunt of the offense. Whitney was one of the ranking backs early in the season but was put out of action by a knee injury. Fully recovered he has returned and with the experience gained on the intermediate varsity a year ago he is set to round out the Newton backfield in fine style. He replaces Louis Miller who has showed considerable promise in the past few games but who lacks the experience of Whitney.

SEPTEMBER HEALTH REPORT
The September report of the Newton Board of Health shows that 35 deaths occurred in this city during that month; 19 males and 16 females. The death rate was 6.16 per 1000 as compared with 6.54 for September 1931. Influenza caused 2 deaths, meningitis 1, cancer 5, cerebral hemorrhage 2, heart ailments 6, pneumonia 4. Communicable diseases reported included 11 cases of scarlet fever, measles 1, whooping cough 8, chicken pox 1. While some youngsters in the city may have had "swelled heads" last month, none of them had swollen jaws; at least from mumps. No case of that disease was reported.

Aldermen Meet

The Newton Board of Aldermen held a regular meeting on Monday night. All the members were present except Alderman Harte. The meeting was called to order at 8 o'clock and at 8:27 a recess was taken to allow the Finance Committee and Claims & Rules Committee to hold meetings. The meeting was again called to order at 9:11 and adjourned at 9:32. Then, as the Aldermen started to leave the hall, someone informed President Collins that Mayor Weeks, who was in the executive office desired to confer with the Finance Committee on a very important matter, and also desired the Board to take immediate action on it. So, the Board having adjourned, informally lingered in the hall until the committee had conferred with the Mayor and returned at 9:53. Then, the Board started a supplementary meeting which lasted three minutes. The important matter which the Mayor desired action on was the appropriation of $400 for the salary of an Assistant Comptroller, and by making this appropriation to provide for a two months' salary, the Aldermen followed the Mayor's lead in creating a new office at City Hall.

The first matter to come before the Aldermen at the first half of the meeting was a hearing called on the petition of the Edison Company for pole locations on Lowell avenue and Chestnut street. No one appeared to oppose the petition. The next item on the docket was a hearing on the petition of J. V. Monaghan's Sons for a permit to increase the gasoline storage capacity at 5 Auburn street, West Newton, by installing an additional 1,000 gallon tank there with a pump attached. As has been the case in past years when the numerous petitions of the Monaghans for gasoline permits on this corner of Washington and Auburn streets, as well as on the opposite corner, James J. Deffely of 7 Auburn street, was present to protest. Mr. Deffely called attention to the fact that the gasoline permit now possessed by the Monaghans at the locus specified is for private use only. Deffely stated that the permit now in force is ample to provide for the private needs of the Monaghans, and that if additional tank and pumps are allowed, they will be for the purpose of selling gasoline.

The last hearing announced was on a petition for a pump and sewer in Manor House road, Ward 6. This street with the high-toned name is between Morton street and Ashton avenue, Newton Centre.

The next business before the Aldermen was the drawing of jurors for service at sessions of the Middlesex Superior Court at Cambridge next month. Names drawn, the owners of which must serve at the criminal sessions were—Horace W. Orr, 258 Mill street; Mark L. Ball, 130 Dickerman road; Leo F. Sullivan, 35 Cypress street; David F. Hill, 46 Bemis street; L. C. Kepner, 76 Hyde avenue. Those drawn to serve as jurors at the civil sessions are—Phillip M. Horne, 9 Barnes road; Winslow E. Acker, 69 Elliot street; James O'Connor, 21 Hillside rd.; Carl H. Gove, 69 Alban road.

The License Committee recommended the granting of the following petitions—James Sawyer, permit to use the building on Rumford avenue at corner of Lexington street, West Newton, for a garage repair shop; Edison Company, pole locations on Cook street and Neshobe road; Nellie Baldwin, permit to erect a 3-car garage at 110 Middlesex road; A. C. Spechy, permit for a greenhouse at 62 Bourne street; Boston Garden Company, permit for a display booth at 555 Chestnut street; Community Service Stations, permit to install three 10,000 gallon tanks at 79 Needham street and to store and sell fuel oil therein and therefrom.

Alderman Ball asked that a separate vote be taken on the petition of the Community Service Stations. He was curious to know who the owners of this company are. Alderman Hawkins, couldn't give Mr. Ball the information desired, but referred him to chairman of the Licenses committee Alderman Farrell of the Licenses Committee, who is in the gasoline and oil business. Mr. Farrell said that the owners of this company are Paul Strang of Brighton and George Riley of Needham. Mr. Farrell went into a detailed explanation regarding transportation problems on gasoline and fuel oil and said that with diminished profits it is essential that persons dealing in these commodities save on freight costs. He said that the Community Service Stations had purchased land off Needham street, Upper Falls about a year ago and had been getting oil there in tank cars. The New Haven railroad company had raised the rates so the company in common with the Highland Oil Company, which also has a locus nearby, has been trucking its oil over the highways by tank trucks and trailers. To avoid a tax caused by trucking oil from Rhode Island and because the railroad is to lower freight rates, the Community Service Stations now desire to install the large tanks so that it can again obtain its oil via railroad tank cars. Mr. Farrell said that Fire Chief Randlett favors the permit as it will mean the discontinuance of a dump where many fires have occurred in recent years.

Alderman Ball inquired if the locus is near that of the Highland Oil Company, and if the company will only wholesale the oil? He received affirmative answers. Alderman Tempier favored the granting of the permit. He said that according to talk, common in Newton Highlands, a certain company is and has been trucking fuel oil to a residential zone location in that district and then retelling it about the city without having a permit to engage in such a business. The Board voted unanimously to grant the permit. At this time the first half of the meeting ended to enable the Finance Committee and the Claims Committee to hold meetings.

When the Board reconvened at 9:11 the following appropriations were made—additional appropriation for City Hall and War Memorial, $9452.21; for War Memorial building $1446.28 (this being the balance remaining on the War Bonus Fund); Public Buildings Department, rent and light, $74.65; Water Department, main in Manor House road, $1400; Street Department, sewer in Margaret road, $800; pension for Capt. Benjamin Tripp, retired from the First Department, $280.29; Executive Department, to defray expenses of dedication ceremonies at new City Hall and War Memorial on November 11.

The License Committee reported favorably on the petitions of Mary Sweeney for an additional garage at 389 Washington street, Newton; Harold Morrison for a 500 gallon tank to store gasoline for private use at 16 Lincoln road, Newton; Sebastian Caruso, permit for 3 pool tables at 1391 Washington street, West Newton.

President Collins of the Board announced that there will be a regular meeting of the Aldermen at the City Hall on October 31st. It will take on the nature of an "Auld Lang Syne" affair and it is proposed to invite to it all former members of city governments of Newton in past years. Mr. Collins also announced that it is probable that the Mayor will call a special meeting of the Aldermen on November 7th.

COLLECTION OF CHILDREN'S PORTRAITS AT BACHRACH STUDIO

A Salon of Children's Portraits was held at the Bachrach studio this week. The Salon was of great interest to the parents and their friends, for it gave an extremely comprehensive view of America's youth from babes of a few months to youths and maids in their teens. It was divided into two classes; one group consisting of babies up to and including six years; the other group of children from seven to thirteen years of age.

The first prize was a large, framed Etching, and the second prize was an Etching in a smaller size.

In the younger group, the first prize was awarded to Ann Giles of 30 Glendale road, Belmont; Second prize to Janet Ten Broeck of 110 Poplar street, Watertown, while Honorable Mention was given to Marilyn Chalmers of Warwick road, West Newton.

The first prize in the second group was won by Arthur L. Purvey of Watertown and the second prize by Katharine Darrow, Belmont, and Robert Gotton, Belmont was given honorable mention.

The judges were Miss Elizabeth Bartlett, Director of the Stevens Nursery School; Mrs. S. L. Sholey, well known in dramatic circles throughout the Newtons; Mr. Charles W. Dennis of Needham, widely known portrait painter.

West Newton Boy Rising Rapidly as Operatic Singer

Martorana Picked as Metropolitan and Jenney Soloist

Francis Martorana, son of Francis A. and Josephine Martorana of Cherry street, West Newton, is rapidly gaining recognition for the unusual qualities of his voice which promises success in the operatic field, toward which he has been striving earnestly for the past six years. On Monday he was the soloist at the Metropolitan Theatre in Boston for the Grand Chorus, a private organization, and he has signed as soloist with Walter Smith's Jenney Band, which will soon make a tour of the principal cities of New England.

Martorana, who is twenty-two years of age, has been studying for the past five years at the Frederick Lamb Studios in Boston, and is now a pupil of Estelle Lieblich of New York. He has recently been auditioned in Boston and New York and his voice pronounced clear and well modulated for radio work. Charles Hackett has remarked, "One of the few real Italian operatic tenors of American birth," and Professor Rosetti has reported most favorably on his voice.

Weeks Junior High

The Parent-Teacher Association has planned an interesting series of meetings for the year. On November 18 Superintendent Lund and Principal Car will address the Association; on January 17 the speaker will be Prof. Kirtley F. Mather; on March 17 there will be a presentation of club activities by the pupils; and on April 25 there will be a discussion of business and professional opportunities and of the relation of the relations of junior and senior high schools. There will also be two afternoon meetings at which interesting subjects will be discussed by the Association.

The Executive Committee in charge of the activities of the Association is as follows: Albert Minot Chandler, Frank F. Carr, Abner Bailey, Philip W. Dalrymple, Tressler W. Callahan, Miss Dorothy Sylvester, Mrs. J. Jarvis Preble, Mrs. Stanley P. Lovell, Mrs. Lawrence B. Chapman, Mrs. George W. Palmer, 3rd, Mrs. Grosvenor D. W. Marcy.

The Weeks Junior High School is about to take its initial step in school savings. At no better time can the boy and girl acquire the thrifty habit of saving than when in school by depositing his pennies, nickels, dimes, or quarters in the school bank. After depositing one dollar, the depositor goes to the Newton Centre Savings Bank where he obtains a real bank book. After he has three dollars in the bank, the money begins to draw interest.

During the past ten years 1700 of the accounts in the Newton Centre Savings Bank began as School Savings accounts. "The balances of these accounts amounted to a total of over $84,000." These tens of thousands of dollars have come in the pennies, nickels, dimes and quarters of Newton boys and girls from the ages of five to fifteen years.

On Wednesday, October 19th, the first student talent assembly of the year was presented before the student body. Walter Slocumb, Secretary of Room 317, presided, and, following the singing of "Hail, Our Junior High School," introduced the following participants: John Camp, Ernest Coughlin, Robert Peebles, Malcolm Hardy, Anson Piper, Ada Merriam, Chester Newey, Rosetta Warren, Priscilla Young, Elena Ciccone, Betty Manness, and Betty Fales. The selections rendered included instrumental, vocal, and piano solos and readings. The program proved of great interest and enjoyment to the student body.

The athletes of the school are now at work on soccer. Already this year's team, with Charles Callanan as Captain, has tied last year's team, 3-3. The varsity game with the F. A. Day team proved victorious for the Weeks team with a 2-0 score. Wednesday, October 19, a game is scheduled with the Bigelow School team. There are twenty-six home room teams in soccer. Mr. Chapman has charge of the eighth grade team; Mr. Pearson, the ninth grade; Mr. MacConnell, the seventh grade team. Each league plays two games a week. The varsity team plays one game a week.

Girl Scouts

Newton Girl Scouts still on the job report that an all-Newton poster contest of the senior troops is being held during Girl Scout week, October 30 to November 5. The posters are being judged on originality, appearance, and location.

Not to be outdone the junior troops are staging window displays in their villages. Don't miss them!

The judges are: Mrs. Ward I. Cornell, member of the Newton School Committee; Miss O'Brien, art director at the Week's Junior High School; and Miss Sally Stickney, Field Captain.

Troops 28, 10, 3, 27, 17, 8, 18, 21 and 32 are greeting new leaders. Many of these leaders are not new in Girl Scouting, but have transferred their troop affiliations. Troop 28 has Mrs. H. H. Ballard who was connected with Troop 10. Troop 3 greets Mrs. J. Cook who has transferred from Lieutenant to captain. Troop 27 welcomes Mrs. Ralph Emery who was connected with a troop in Newton Highlands for quite a while. Troop 17 has Miss Marcia Meyers who has been identified with the Bugle and Drum Corps. Troop 18 has Miss Adelaide Ball who has been a leader in Newton since 1917, but has transferred this year from Troop 8 to 18. Troop 32 is fortunate in securing Mrs. John MacNeil who, for a number of years, was a leader in Cambridge. Troop 10 has for its leader Miss Barbara Partridge who is a Newton Golden Eaglet and who has been registered with the organization for a good many years. Miss Elsa Badger of Troop 21 and Mrs. Marguerite Williams who will be captain of Troop 8 are greeted as new members of the organization.

Members of Troop 11 were invited to attend the meeting of the Woman's Club in Newton Highlands this week and are indebted to them for a delightful afternoon. Mrs. F. Sheldon, former Girl Scout Metropolitan Division Director and Newton captain, gave a most interesting talk. She said in part that what we need to help us on our way of life are more light houses on the way to show us the right path rather than rescuers after the storm to lead back those who have gone astray.

The program for the All-Newton Get-together on Wednesday, October 26, at the Episcopal Church in Newton Highlands will be for the morning session at 11:00, a talk on publicity, Brownies, and plans for winter which would include the Court of Awards, Winter Camping, Community Service Rally, and Bugle and Drum Corps. The afternoon session at 2:00 will be given over to talks on the following subjects: responsibility of the Council to the Captains and girls, Captains' responsibility to Council and girls, and what the organization's responsibilities to the community are. There will be a speaker of the organization who will outline the plans and program of the Community Chest Campaign. The Newton Girl Scout Council has joined the Community Chest.

CONCERT BY SINFONIETTA

A representative subscription list for the afternoon concert to be given by the Boston Sinfonietta on Sunday, November 13th, at 3 o'clock at the Newton High School Auditorium, to benefit the Stearns School Center, gives evidence of the widespread interest in this affair, arising under the management of Miss Lucy E. Cobb, Mrs. F. Ashley Day, Jr., Mrs. Frederick White, Mrs. Cecil W. George, Mrs. George W. Ayman, and Mrs. Carlo Montanari.

Mr. Fiedler's aggregation of prominent members of the Boston Symphony Orchestra was organized some seven years ago. The Sinfonietta has appeared with conspicuous success in many of New England's cities and towns, and his Esplanade Concerts have received praise from the critics and the public. At the local concert next month Mrs. Bernice Fisher Butler, formerly of the Boston Opera Company, will be the vocal soloist.

The Stearns School Center is an organization which at present is providing facilities for unemployed men, women, and girls in recreational lines and many are attracted to the clubs and classes which are offered by the head worker, Miss Helen Sandstrom and her staff of volunteers.

CHURCHES WILL OBSERVE HOSPITAL SUNDAY

The Newton Ministers' Association on October 8 voted to make the observance of Hospital Sunday an annual affair of the Newton churches. This day will be observed this year on next Sunday. Attention will be called to the local hospital and the opportunities for serving the sick under care at the institution.

The observance of the day is the opening feature of a comprehensive plan to make the churches more helpful to the Hospital. The Ministers' Association is preparing a little book which when published will be presented to each patient entering the institution.

Leading Newton Women on Y. W. C. A. Committee

The Boston Y. W. C. A. has appointed the following prominent women to represent the Newtons in its Budget Balancing Drive which will begin on October 24 and will extend to November 14:

Mrs. Henry I. Harriman, Mrs. Samuel Braham, Mrs. Harry H. Powers, Mrs. William Z. Ripley, Miss Helene Moore, Mrs. Steven B. Wilson, Mrs. Clarence C. Smith, Mrs. C. Clark Macomber, Mrs. B. Alden Thresher, Newton; Miss M. Louise Walworth, Mrs. Elizabeth Bartlett, Newton Centre; Miss Marjorie Fales, Mrs. Harold B. Canshaw, Mrs. John P. Correa, Jr., Mrs. Austin Decatur, West Newton; Mrs. Howard P. Converse, Auburndale; Mrs. T. Roger Covey, Mrs. Walter A. Hosley, Waban, and Mrs. William C. Brackett, Chestnut Hill, represent the Newton communities which have been closely associated with the Y. W. C. A. program.

In appealing to the people of this campaign the Committee explains that Clarendon Street is a social and recreational centre for the girls and young women of all Greater Boston, who are now flocking to its doors in greater numbers than ever before. No girl, of whom as high as 2,800 on a single evening visit the place, is ever turned away regardless of creed, race or financial condition. The doors stand open 24 hours every day and a large percentage of those seeking its advantages are from the great army of those who earn their own living.

Mrs. Harry H. Powers of Church street, Newton, was a hostess this week at a coffee held in the interest of the drive. She was assisted by Mrs. Henry I. Harriman and others.

COOPERATIVE NURSERY SCHOOL IN AUBURNDALE

A cooperative nursery school has been organized recently in Auburndale for children of pre-school age. The school is held four mornings a week in the Congregational Church and is sponsored by a committee of parents headed by Mrs. John De Bruyn-Kops and Mrs. Langdon Chandler. The teacher is Miss Adelaide Romaine Holcomb.

The daily program is largely supervised play, out-of-doors when the weather permits, music, stories, a mid-morning lunch and rest period. Those who are interested are cordially invited to visit the school. Miss Holcomb is a Vassar graduate and holds her master's degree in education.

Day Jr. High School

A true community spirit, typical of the school, pervaded the various activities during the week. Ruth Carter of the Junior Red Cross Club introduced Miss Maude Lewis of Washington at assembly. During the Junior Red Cross Club hour that came later in the day needles, scissors, paste and what-not were called into urgent service, inspired by the exhibition of handiwork of boys and girls from other countries and states, to cheer "shut ins."

Then too, a most cooperative response to the first Parents' Day of the year brought many interested mothers and fathers for constructive interviews. One boy's father wrote the playlet produced by the Seventh Grade Dramatic Club, another pupil's mother lent a hand to make the stage more professional, and an understanding parent joined the "Bulletin" group arranging a corridor exhibition.

Sponsored by the Daytonian Club, Margaret Club made known the plan for an insignia which will connote to all the spirit of this school. As a result of an all-school vote, the winged wheel for progress was announced over the school radio as the winner.

The well-known local author, Mr. Ernest Cobb, joined the teachers in faculty meeting this week for a timely discussion of his book "One Foot on the Ground." The teachers of English are hosts to the English department of the high schools at a symposium embracing mutual problems.

At school, October 27th, at 2:10, Sydney Bonnick, aerial photographer and pilot for the Forbes expedition, will give his illustrated talk on Labrador and the North Atlantic Coast from the air. His pictures are unusual, and his subject is thrilling.

MIDDLESEX COURT, M. C. O. F.

Middlesex Court, M. C. O. F., will hold its installation of officers on Tuesday night, October 25th, at Elks' Hall, Newton. The installation will be in charge of the new deputy of the court, Miss Catherine Countie of Roxbury. She will be assisted by the degree staff of St. Francis Court of Roxbury. The High Standing Committee will be represented by Mrs. Helen Galvin, High Chief Ranger, and William F. Barry of Roxbury, High Senior Conductor. An entertainment program has been arranged and dancing will be enjoyed.

LYDIA PARTRIDGE WHITING CHAPTER, D. A. R.

The first meeting of the Lydia Partridge Whiting Chapter D. A. R. for 1932-1933 will be at the home of Mrs. Chas. E. Beane, Pine Crest road, Newton Centre, and promises to be of unusual interest. Following the business meeting the program will be under the auspices of the "Americanism and Approved Schools" Committee, with Mrs. Esmond S. Rice, chairman.

There will be character readings by Florence Roberts-Krueger, and a talk in keeping with the subject of the day, by Mr. Arthur Grigorian from Urmia, Persia.

The chapter is starting its fall activities on Nov. 2 by giving its annual bridge party at Newton Highlands Woman's Club Workshop.

These parties have always given much pleasure and been largely attended. We feel sure that this will be no exception as the committee in charge are sparing no pains in their arrangements.

AN IMPROVED BALLOT

The ballot to be used at the coming election on November 8th will differ from that used in previous national elections. The voter does not directly cast his vote for President, but votes for a presidential elector. Massachusetts is entitled to seventeen electors who meet formally to cast the state's vote for the popular choice, after the official returns are tabulated. As there are six presidential tickets this year it would have necessitated the printing of 102 names on the ballot if the old system had been followed. An act of the legislature since the last presidential election has permitted the Secretary of State to improve the ballot to the extent that, as far as the presidential ticket is concerned, only the names of the candidates for president and vice president and their political designation will appear. Thus, Newton being a Republican stronghold, the majority of Newton voters will mark their cross at the right of "HOOVER and CURTIS, Republican," instead of having to hunt through the ballot for the group of Republican presidential electors. The change not only shortens the ballot and makes it easier for the voter, but will undoubtedly result in saving considerable time in counting the votes after the polls close. The improvement is due to the efforts of Sec. of State Frederic W. Cook, who is one of the ablest men ever to fill this position.

About Town

By Edw. H. Powers

The retirement of Captain Ben Tripp of Engine 1 removes from the service of the Newton Fire Department a man who has faithfully served for over 48 years. Ben Tripp was appointed a call fireman on old Hose 1 in 1884, shortly after he came to Newton from his home in Maine. There were two permanent firemen at the Newton fire house at that time, Frank Judkins, engineer of the Hunneman steam fire engine, and Frank Harrington, driver of the engine. The ornately decorated old Hunneman hose reel was driven by a call fireman. Among old timers who then were members of Engine 1 and Hose 1 were C. W. Boulton, Edward Lyons, John Horrigan, Frank Barrows, Oscar Chick, F. D. Graves and Horace Lindley. The call firemen received the modest salary of $75 per year, and if they missed attending fires, fines were imposed on them. During his nearly half century of service Mr. Tripp saw the Newton Fire Department evolve from a call department to a permanent one, and from horse drawn apparatus to motors.

The Newton Board of Aldermen at the meeting on Monday night, upon recommendation by Mayor Weeks, unanimously voted to appropriate $3000 to defray the cost of the dedication ceremonies at the new City Hall and War Memorial Building on November 11th. Alderman Ball, chairman of the Finance Committee of the Aldermen, in referring to this appropriation at the meeting, naively remarked that because of the hard times, money would not be spent lavishly on the dedication. Just what amount would be considered lavish, it would be interesting to know.

The land where the new City Hall and War Memorial have been erected cost the taxpayers of Newton $21,532.27. For the erection of the City Hall $573,199.76 were appropriated; and for the erection of the War Memorial $233,347.38. On top of these huge sums $52,000 were appropriated for fixtures and furnishings in the two buildings, plus $12,665.62 for sidewalks around the site. And in addition another $9,452.21 was appropriated at the meeting on Monday night for finishing touches. This makes a total of $1,107,247.24 which the taxpayers of Newton have paid, or will pay for the imposing civic center in the geographical center of the city. We are not criticizing the expenditure of this vast sum. We could not, consistently. While we did not vote to seize this site for public purposes, we were one of the Aldermen who voted a couple of years ago to authorize the construction of the new City Hall and War Memorial. In fact, the writer was a member of the special committee on this project. Our purpose in quoting the figures given here is to show that the people of Newton have been placed under a heavy responsibility because of the purchase of the land and the erection of the buildings thereon. In the past couple of years economic conditions have gone from bad to worse and the ability of a large percentage of taxpayers to pay taxes has not increased. So, the action of the City Government of Newton in appropriating another $3000 for ostentatious dedication ceremonies isn't in line with the program of economy we hear so much about, nor will it, we believe, receive enthusiastic approval from the majority of taxpayers.

There is another reason why praise should not be lavished on the Aldermen for this $3000 appropriation. It is hardly necessary to state that in Newton are thousands of persons in distressed circumstances. Many of these are so destitute that they have been compelled to seek aid. Many more are actually suffering privations because they are too proud to ask for aid. Charitably inclined persons have been led to the belief of the city in distress. The city has had to appropriate large sums for relief and will have to appropriate much more. It is commonly admitted that the coming winter will witness more poverty than the preceding two winters; and certainly all too many of our citizens have been in need during the past two or three years. The $3000 appropriated for elaborate dedication ceremonies would go far in procuring necessities of life for the unemployed of Newton. Many times this amount must be paid by the taxpayers of Newton through the Welfare Department during the coming year. With times as they are, if the City Government of Newton has $3000 to spend, it should be appropriated for food, fuel and shelter for men, women and children in this city who are dependent on private charity and public relief. This is no time for stupendous display; even in connection with a $1,000,000 City Hall and War Memorial. This money could be better used in ameliorating the distress of Newton's needy, than in moving grandstands, paying transportation for military organizations, buying badges, providing lunches and furnishing a repast for the City Government and distinguished guests.

The Federico Contracting Company, which is laying the new water main along Boylston street for the City of Newton is paying laborers 30 cents an hour.

Sometimes we get the idea that persons of ordinary intelligence, or less, like myself, seem to sense things before the "big minds" of the nation realize what is what. It is quite sometime since we commented in this column that it would eventually be necessary for the Federal Government to take measures to save the railroads of this country from collapse due to the unfair competition created by buses and trucks; mostly trucks. And we also stated that such action would be necessary in order to protect the investments of banks and insurance companies. We read in the daily press recently that a commission has been appointed to study this problem; a commission comprised of men of national fame, including Ex-President Coolidge and Alfred E. Smith. Furthermore, the appointment of this commission was asked by the savings banks and insurance companies of this country. The highways of this country have become "truck roads" over which huge motor vehicles, as large as freight cars, rumble along to interfere with regular automobile traffic. Some of these trucks tow trailers equally huge, to further jeopardize the safety of the highways. While the railroad companies must pay heavy taxes, accord their employees good wages and working conditions, and bear the big expenses of providing and maintaining their railroads and freight yards, the big trucks use public highways as their routes and obstruct traffic in business sections of cities when they load and unload their freight. And the competition between them has become so bitter, that frequently the men who work on these trucks must work too many hours for wages far under the scale paid by railroads. Ordinary men, not graduates of business schools, of universities or statistical institutes, not captains of industry, not even sergeants of industry, have for years realized that what has happened in the transportation field, would occur.

When automobile owners of Massachusetts are heavily taxed for compulsory liability insurance why should the great majority of them have the safety of their lives and property jeopardized by laxity of State and municipal officials in permitting thousands of uninsured automobiles on the public highways? Why, also, should pedestrians be maimed and killed by irresponsible motorists operating uninsured motor vehicles? A letter in last week's GRAPHIC from a victim shows the result of this condition. With thousands of policemen being employed by cities and towns in this Commonwealth, what reason is there why they should not co-operate with the Registry of Motor Vehicles to force off the road automobiles which are being illegally operated? What reason is there why the owners of such automobiles are not punished? Insurance on cars is cancelled because of non-payment, or because of some other reason. The registration plates are supposed to be returned. They are not, and the cars continue to be operated on the highways. The type driving such cars, irresponsible and impetuous, run down pedestrians, or drive into other cars. The victims have no redress. What gluttons for punishment are the great American people. A little concerted action would end the rotten condition that now prevails.

The Democrats enlisted the services of Gene Tunney as campaign "orator." The Republicans have countered by putting Albie Booth of Yale and Lou Gehrig of the New York Yankees on the stump. Why don't the astute managers of the leading political parties endeavor to sign up the "Masked Marvel" as a spell binder? Truly this is a great country; and we have a wonderful political system. Prosperity will soon return.

Scores of beautiful shade trees along Boylston street have been ruined by the excavation of the trench for the water main which is being laid by a contractor for the City of Newton. A power shovel, used by the contractor tore up the roots of the trees. Most of the trees are elms, about 50 years old; the other trees damaged are maples.

Funny, isn't it, how slick foreigners like Krueger and the Insulls can come over to the United States and trim our big business men, expert financiers and the rest of the ultra astute Americans?

W. C. T. U.

The West Newton W. C. T. U. will meet with the Wellesley W. C. T. U. on Thursday, October 27, at 3 p. m., at the Village Congregational Church, Wellesley square. Mrs. Ivaneth M. Smith, contributing director of scientific temperance instruction, will speak on the Psychology of Drunkenness and there will be musical selections by Mrs. Enid Wilson. Tea and a social hour will follow.

Letters To The Editor

PROVEN QUALIFICATIONS

Newton Highlands,
October 20, 1932.

To the Editor:

Several months ago Mr. Harry W. Ball, alderman-at-large, from Ward Five, suggested to a group of Newton Highlands citizens that thought be given to who would succeed him as he did not intend to be a candidate for reelection.

Immediate consideration was given this matter and a great many people were asked their views, not only in Ward Five but throughout the city. Without exception there was one and only one name given in answer—Donald D. McKay.

The next move was to secure his consent, and this was not easily or quickly accomplished. For more than four weeks we pleaded with him before he agreed to be a candidate. Those who know him well will readily understand that it is not an office he would seek of his own choosing but only as a duty to his fellow citizens at their insistent request. Five times the required number of signatures to his nomination papers were secured in an incredibly short time.

Although the city election is almost two months away—December 6th—we wish to acquaint your readers with a partial sketch of Mr. McKay's proven qualifications. There seems to be no more concise method of so doing than to cite his past and present participations in those activities which are services to his neighbors and his community.

He now is:
A director of the Mayor's Relief Committee.
A trustee of the Newton Hospital (now serving his second five-year term).
A director of the Stone Institute and Newton Home for the Aged.

A trustee of the John C. Chaffin Educational Fund of the City of Newton.
Chairman of the trustees of the Newton Highlands Congregational Church.

A member of the Alumni Council of Amherst College.
A governor of the University Club of Boston.

A vice president and director of the Newton Community Chest.
And he has lately been named a vice-president and director of the Newton Community Chest.

The unselfish giving of his time and ability has not been spasmodic or of recent date only but goes back over the seventeen years he has resided in Newton. During this period he has been:

Treasurer and member of the Executive Committee of the Newton Highlands Improvement Association.
Superintendent of the Newton Highlands Congregational Sunday School.

Governor of the Charles River Country Club.
Secretary and member of the Board of Management Committee of the Boston Y. M. C. A.

President of the Men's Club of Newton Highlands.
Member of the Speakers' Committee of the Boston Chamber of Commerce.

Secretary and member of the Republican Ward and City Committee of the City of Newton.
Delegate to the Republican State Convention.

And member of innumerable local philanthropic and money-raising committees.
Mr. McKay has never had political ambitions, always preferring to work for the election of others who qualified through high-standing and integrity.

He is a graduate of Amherst College, class of 1909. His education was obtained partly on borrowed money and the aid of a scholarship, but in the greater degree by self-help. Although handicapped by not having the full quota of leisure, due to the necessity of working for his expenses, he participated in college activities, being captain of the swimming team, manager of the track team, a member of the dramatics cast, and a member of Scabab, the senior honorary society. His fraternity is Delta Upsilon and he is a permanent trustee of the Amherst Chapter.

Mr. McKay was not born with a silver spoon in his mouth but has earned his own way. The entire support of a mother and invalid father was his privilege, from 1909 until their deaths in 1917 and 1930. He therefore was compelled to forego enlistment in the war but gave unstintingly of his time and ability as chairman of the Newton Four Minute Men, a member of the New England Liberty Loan Committee, a member of the Newton Constabulary, and various other activities.

In 1913 he married Mabel Elizabeth Jones, daughter of Hon. Seward W. Jones. They reside at 46 Wood-cliff road, Newton Highlands and have one daughter who attends the Hyde School. Mr. McKay is engaged in investment banking occupying an executive position in the Boston office of the Chase Harris Forbes Corporation.

If Mr. McKay should be opposed for election we hope that this outline may enable those who do not know him personally to form an opinion of what may be expected of him as an alderman.

Respectfully,

JAMES KINGMAN.

October 20, 1932.

Recent Weddings

CLARK-BRIGHTMAN

A candle-light ceremony was an interesting feature of the pretty home wedding which united in marriage Saturday evening Miss Mabelle F. Brightman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert B. Brightman, 310 Derby street, West Newton, and Raymond F. Clark, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Clark of Dale street.

The wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George P. Davis, 44 Curve street, Piety Corner. Mrs. Davis is a cousin of the bride.

Rev. William Gunter, pastor of Immanuel Methodist Episcopal Church, in which the bride has been active, performed the ceremony for which the couple had as attendants Lewis H. Josselyn, and Miss Velma C. Clement, both of Waltham. Miss Brightman was given in marriage by her father.

John L. Clark, brother of the bridegroom, and Allen Wilson, Jr., Norman V. Bicknell, and Sargent S. Rowe were ushers.

Decorations at the home were doubly effective in their simplicity. Cut flowers were used with autumn leaves, the bright colors softened by the candle-light. The bridesmaids wearing pastel shaded frocks and carrying colonial bouquets, held ribbons which formed an aisle through which the bridal party passed.

The ribbon girls were Miss Lois Clark, sister of the bridegroom, Miss Mary McGowan, Miss Gladys Ratzburg, and Mrs. Evelyn Becker.

Miss Brightman was charming in a simply designed gown of bridal satin, with a tulle veil. She carried an old-fashioned bouquet of white mixed flowers, with roses and jasmine predominating. The maid of honor wore a becomingly styled frock of blue tulle and carried a colonial bouquet with pink prevailing.

The wedding march was played by Miss Miriam Hoagland at the piano, and Miss Priscilla Davis, violinist.

The bride attended Newton High School and Simmons college. She is now employed in the Newton Centre Library. Mr. Clark attended Stoneham High School and Northeastern University. He is employed by the Shell Oil Company.

Upon their return from a wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Clark will reside in Waltham.

ROURKE-O'REILLY

Miss Gertrude Louise O'Reilly of Boston became the bride of Henry Rourke of 340 Linwood avenue, Newtonville, on October 12th, at the Cathedral of the Holy Cross at ten o'clock. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Hotel Bradford.

The bride wore a gown of white satin and lace and she carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley.

Miss Mary Smith, of Newton, the maid of honor, wore a gown of pale blue, peach colored hat and shoes, and she carried a bouquet of Tullis roses.

Mr. Leo Rourke of Wellesley, brother of the groom, acted as best man.

Rotary Club

An explanation of the work and aims of the Newton Community Chest and the part that Rotarians can take in the first annual campaign for the Chest featured the regular Rotary Club luncheon last Monday at the Woodland Golf Club. The talk was given by Paul F. Bauder, campaign general chairman, and secretary of Newton Community Chest, Inc.

Mr. Bauder described the way in which the Newton Community Chest has been formed through the association of nearly a dozen social, welfare and character-building agencies of Newton, embracing all eleven villages of the city. He told of the growth in the United States of the Community Chest plan from its beginnings after the war until it has now reached some 400 cities of the country, and how the Association of Community Chests has been delegated by the President of the United States to direct and advise fund-raising in the present financial emergency.

Although Worcester, Springfield and other Massachusetts cities have for several years maintained successful Community Chests, he related, Newton is the first community of Greater Boston to take up the plan for the purpose of co-ordinating its social agencies and avoiding a continual series of campaigns for a dozen or more individual eleemosynary institutions of the city. For this reason, he said, the Newton campaign is doubly significant.

Telling of the plans for the campaign, he announced that it would take place in the latter half of November, and that there are to be over 1,000 workers scattered through every part of the city, who will see that none of the 15,000 homes in Newton is missed, and that every individual will have an opportunity to give for the whole group of agencies, and not be called on again by them for funds for a year.

The Community Chest, he said, had resulted in a tremendous increase in the number of donors to local charities wherever it had been employed, and also in a greater interest in giving for relief and human service.

A community chest, Mr. Bauder continued, is the simplified and ideal way to raise money for a variety of social welfare agencies with the least expense and bother to contributors and the greatest assurance that every dollar will be spent in the most efficient and money-saving way possible.

One thing that should be emphasized, Mr. Bauder said, is that the Newton Community Chest is not primarily a collection agency, on the job during the campaign, and then dormant till time to raise funds again. It is essentially a service agency for all social welfare agencies of Newton whether they are members of the Chest or not. It will be on the job the year 'round serving where it can be of service and advice on every subject having to do with social welfare.

Some of this advice, he said, will take the form of financial counsel through a budget committee made up of the following members: William D. Baker, chairman, Walter R. Anthony, Howard M. Biscoe, Albert M. Lyons, Leverage St. John and the president of the Newton Community Chest is Leon B. Rogers.

Mr. Bauder closed his talk with an appeal to the Rotarians individually to plan in the period of the campaign to co-operate fully not only by supplying workers for the team organization, but also in giving as generously as possible for the benefit of the needy in Newton.

RED CROSS STARTS FALL CLASSES

With the end of the summer has come the closing of the Red Cross Life Saving classes and with the fall season has come the opening of the First Aid classes and classes in Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick which will be continued by the Newton Chapter of the Red Cross throughout the winter.

Dr. Egon E. Kattwinkel of Auburn-dale is the Chapter advisor in connection with the First Aid work and Mrs. A. B. Root, Jr. of Waban is Chairman of the Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick Committee. Miss H. Margaret Norcross has charge of the organization and conduct of these classes.

The courses given are of the highest standard and are regulation Red Cross courses.

A person who completes a First Aid Course and receives a certificate will know how to apply simple bandages, stop bleeding, treat shock and give other necessary assistance between the time of an accident and the arrival of the doctor. Many lives have been saved throughout the country by the efforts of people who have had this simple but effective training in First Aid.

A person who completes a Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick Course and receives a certificate will know how to make a patient comfortable, count pulse and respiration, read a clinical thermometer, make sick bed, prepare a poultice and will know how to do many other things about the home and sick room that will mean comfort for the sick person and better home conditions in trying times.

Last year these classes were well attended and it is expected that the enrollments will be heavier during the coming season.

Information will be given gladly to any interested person or she will telephone Newton North 2717 to the Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross, 12 Austin street, Newtonville.

NEWTON CATHOLIC CLUB

There will be a series of Bridge and Whist parties held at the Newton Catholic Club Hall, the first one to be held on Tuesday evening, Oct. 25.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. Bentley

The question has been asked as to the difference between a debate and a joint debate. Easy: The latter is used when the challenger names the joint where the speakers are to meet.

Oddments

Out of the flood of things heard and seen in the course of a week only a few register. At least, that's the way I find it. Among those I remember are these:

That a good friend of mine, who holds an important office in the city of Newton, carries a green broadcast bag for books, newspapers, etc. So do I. He scorns a brief case. So do I. It's a satisfaction to have somebody you admire and respect share your views.

That the idea is prevalent in many homes that the radio should be going at all times. I cannot yet understand the young woman who tunes-in and then runs up stairs where she can't hear the broadcast.

That Spain is one of the places that invites the American tourist and gives him the best at the very lowest cost. All this, I found, when seasoned travelers showed me figures to prove that foreign tours are inexpensive and that you can practice economies abroad even more successfully than at home.

That the State has finally got around to reducing the size of the election ballot by at least one page, or fold. Instead of printing the names of Presidential electors, which consumed space, only the name of the candidates for President and Vice-President will appear. The ballot is bound to be much simpler more readily handled and more rapidly counted.

Some Know Everything

These are days they are giving away something for nothing. By "they" I mean the people who are certain of the outcome of the National election. Their opinions are distributed free of charge. All you have to do is listen. Friends, who otherwise make no pretense at powers of clairvoyance, are putting every bit of energy into the task of telling "he-it's all coming out." They decline to permit any contradiction. It has made me dizzy. Beginning with the man who says, "From what I hear, etc." to him who asserts, "Now take it from me, etc." what a we poor, uninitiated and uninformed to do.

Springing from all sorts of unexpected sources come words of prophecy. "I was at the movies the other night," says a Republican, "and couldn't help noticing the way the audience acted when they showed the picture of Roosevelt and Al Smith. No enthusiasm at all. Then they showed a picture of Hoover and the applause was tremendous. If that doesn't settle it my name is mud."

Next you encounter a Democrat who says, "I got this straight. Roosevelt has made good through the West and nothing can stop him. He'll be the next president, you mark my words." Just a slight difference of opinion. Well, wait until the next fellow comes along. "Say," he proceeds, "my wife has a sister out in Indiana and she has written my wife—the letter only came yesterday—that all through the middle West it's Hoover. They may be hard up and all that sort of thing, but they don't want to change. They're afraid things will be worse."

This creates a cloudy condition in your brain, but that is nothing compared with the fog that arises when you hear another man declare, "I know a man who has seen the figures on this big straw vote they're taking. He tells me that Hoover won't carry 10 states."

That having floated away on the air there comes this tidbit: "We might as well get ready to celebrate now. Hoover is going to get the women's vote all through the country. He's as good as re-elected now."

From this onward it is still a case of see-saw. One man has learned from a traveling man that the Whole South and West are solid for Roosevelt. Another man has been informed by an observing pilgrim that these same sections of the country are for Hoover and against the repeal of prohibition. Then there is the man who has figured from the vote four years ago, the man who has some "inside information" of "things that are going on that you and I don't know about" and the man who is confident because he has faith in the judgment of the people.

To these and all others we are compelled to listen. Maybe we are led into an argument. That is a mistake. There's only one thing to do after the prophet has finished. Make sure he has nothing further to add and then, as if acknowledging his mental superiority, say, "Well, perhaps you're right."

The Dividing Line

Continual criticism of one's own country, accompanied by praise for that of another flag, is a trifle tiresome and for that reason I should like to have it understood that this is not carving. However, after a study of the way gangsters and racketeers are handled the other side of the border line between United States and the Dominion of Canada I find that some of the knocks are justified.

In one volume devoted to our criminal laws and their administration I came across something that seemed to substantiate certain notions. An eminent jurist in Chicago points out that in Detroit there are "mobs" and "gunmen," together with more or less frequent killings, while directly across the line in Windsor, Ontario, nothing of the kind ever happens. The judge says that a notorious gunman and his "pal" were attending races in Windsor when something displeased the gunman. He started to draw his automatic, when his companion said, "Stop that stuff. Remember you're in Canada." Thereupon the revolver was replaced in the holster and nothing happened.

Dr. Booth To Begin Series Monday at Second Church

Dr. Edwin P. Booth of Boston University will begin his series of lectures on "Personalities of the Old Testament" next Monday evening, October 24, at 8:00 o'clock in the Parish House of the Second Church in Newton, West Newton. The subject of Dr. Booth's first lecture is "Adam—In the Morning of the World." PROF. EDWIN P. BOOTH

Dr. Booth is a well known lecturer and is widely acclaimed as an authority in the department of church history. His lectures, which are the result of the unique combination of historical accuracy and a personal interpretation, were sufficiently stimulating last year to command an audience of increasing numbers from week to week. His own dynamic personality transformed seemingly mundane historical data into vivid word pictures which inspired all his listeners. Dr. Booth's new series of eight lectures will begin next Monday evening, October 24, and will continue on the following consecutive evenings, closing on December 12.

Other subjects of Dr. Booth's lectures are as follows:

October 31, Abraham—The Covenant With Jehovah.

PRESENTS SOCIALIST SOLUTION FOR UNEMPLOYMENT

Mr. Alfred Baker Lewis, the Socialist candidate for governor, in speaking in N. A. Hall on Monday evening, outlined the program of the Socialist program for the solution of unemployment. He attributed the present depression to the fact that the amount of wages paid by industry had not kept pace with increased production. He said that from 1919 to 1929 production increased 38 percent and the number of workers actually decreased 3 percent. As a solution he advocated government operation of the great industries and lowering the old age pension limit and unemployment insurance.

Goings-on

Looks like a big year for Newton Country Day's football team. Go to it, Raas. Bids are out for the "Waban College Dances." First one to be Friday, the 28th. Let's make it a success. It's nice to have Janie and Stuart Parker back to Newton again. Keep the fire burning this winter for the skating crowd, Jane. Newton's Ann Stratton led a peppy Treasure Hunt the other night. Excitement reigns at Lasell Junior College. Where are the caps and gowns? Do the Juniors know? We wonder if Dorothy McKey caught her sister's bridal bouquet. Fran Chase carries off West Newton's Men's Singles championship. How did it seem to view the world from the top of Mt. Wachusett? Just ask Jan and crowd. It must be thrilling to receive telephone calls from Portland, Oregon. Laura Parcells thinks so, at any rate. Whispers of informal Halloween parties abroad. Watch those ghosts! Will Spylglass see any of Newton's young riders taking "blues" at the Boston Horse Show next week?

Tea Time

Mabel Peters and her cousin, Margaret Wilcox were given a tea at Brae Burn on Thursday last by Mrs. George E. Peters, Sr. Mary Cooper "came out" via a tea dance given at her home a short time ago. Sally Drew was in charge of the pourers.

Abroad

Waban's Margaret Mutch to visit relatives in Scotland while abroad this fall. William Callahan continues his studies at The Sorbonne. Be on the lookout for "snoops" and send them in. Here's looking at you! Natalie North.

Police News

A young woman who refused to pay her fare to a taxi driver after he had driven her from Boston to Commonwealth avenue, Chestnut Hill, was arrested Sunday night by Serg. Crowley. She had told the driver that she had relatives residing in a house near Boston College and asked him to throw pebbles at the window to arouse the occupants. The taxi man obeyed instructions, and aroused the wrath of the awakened persons as they disclaimed any knowledge of the fair passenger. The girl claimed to be only 18, but had the appearance of a more mature age. She told the police varying stories as to her identity. She stated that her name was Catherine Hart and her address in Brookline, New York. She also claimed to have been a student in the medical school of New York University. She was held on the charge of vagrancy while the police vainly tried to verify her statements. Her case was placed on file Wednesday morning and she went to Brighton to the home of a woman friend.

Philip Atkinson of Salisbury Road, Newton was fined $5 in the Newton court on Saturday for speeding.

John Verner of River Ridge Road, Wellesley, was fined $75 in the Newton Court last Friday for driving a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor. An ice truck driven by Verner on the preceding night crashed into a coal truck opposite 1844 Washington street, Auburndale. Verner received injuries in the crash and was taken to the Newton Hospital by a passing autoist, Joseph Bram of 416 Watertown street.

George A. Ballard of 1659 Washington street, West Newton, was fined $75 in the Newton court last Friday for driving while under the influence of liquor. He also was fined $5 for drunkenness. He appealed. According to testimony, after Ballard had been arrested on September 30th a lawyer friend of his called at police headquarters to see him and was himself arrested for drunkenness. A short time later, another lawyer, the brother of the first, came to police headquarters to see the prisoners, and he, too, was arrested for drunkenness. Richard Hoover, 123 Forest street, Watertown, was sentenced to serve 30 days in the Middlesex County prison last Friday when he was found guilty in the Newton court of driving a car while under the influence of liquor. He was convicted in 1927 of a similar offence.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

Edited by EMMA D. COOLIDGE

COMING EVENTS

Waban Woman's Club

On Monday, October 24th, at 2 o'clock, the Annual Pivot Bridge for the benefit of the Philanthropic Fund of the Waban Woman's Club will be held at the neighborhood Club House, Mrs. Herbert W. Smith and Mrs. Rohl C. Wignall are the chairmen in charge of the arrangements, and a most enjoyable afternoon is promised to all who attend. Following the usual custom the Waban Girl Scouts will sell candy.

Christian Era Study Club

The Christian Era Study Club will hold the second meeting of the season on Monday, October 24th. Miss Margaret Haskell, the president, will read a paper on "Dr. Anna Shaw." The meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Alfred L. Billings, of 22 Ware road.

Newtonville Woman's Club

The Garden Club of the Newtonville Woman's Club has arranged a program for the coming year which is very interesting. The meetings will be held at 10 o'clock, on the fourth Thursday of each month, at the homes of the members. The Conservation chairman, Mrs. Percy B. Howard, whose telephone number is N. N. 0828, will be glad to give any further information concerning these meetings.

Newton Community Club

On Thursday, October 27th, at 2:30 o'clock, the Newton Community Club will have for its speaker, Dr. Lothrop Stoddard. His subject will be "World Affairs of Today."

There will be, also, two open meetings on the evenings of November 2nd and 9th, at 8 o'clock at the Underwood School, when everyone who is interested is invited to hear the same speaker.

Dr. Stoddard is a well-known lecturer and author, and is one of the world's authorities on the great problems of politics, race and immigration.

Great interest is manifested in his utterances on relations between politics and finance. His extensive travel has brought him into acquaintance with many of the world's greatest personalities.

For that reason there will be few who are given the opportunity to hear Dr. Stoddard who will fail to do so.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

The opening fall meeting of the Newton Centre Woman's Club will be held on Friday afternoon, October 28th. Mrs. John F. Capron, the president, will call the short business meeting to order promptly at 2 p.m., and then will follow announcements of the Club chairmen. Members are looking forward with interest to the report which Mrs. Capron will present, of her visit to the General Federation Convention at Seattle, last June.

At 3 p.m. a real musical treat is in store for those who attend, as the Countess Electra Rosanska, Prima-donna of the San Carlo Opera Company, and celebrated Dramatic Soprano, will sing. Countess Rosanska has given recitals in the larger cities of America and Europe, and it was she who sang "The Star Spangled Banner" before Congress, and introduced the bill which made the song our National Anthem.

Sharing honors with the Soprano will be Mrs. Moses H. Gulesian, noted Composer-Pianist, and long a favorite of Newton music lovers. Mrs. Gulesian was the composer of the musical score of the opera "Marina" which was so enthusiastically received in Boston last season.

The Club is most fortunate at this same time to have secured Mr. John Metz, Violinist, who is well-known as an artist of distinction. Mr. Metz received his early training at the Amsterdam Conservatory under Louis Zimmerman, and at Brussels Conservatory with Alfred Marchot, later coming to America to study composition with Ernest Bloch.

Following the musicale tea will be served, with Mrs. John F. Capron, chairman of the Hospitality committee, and Mrs. Ralph E. Houghton, acting as tea hostesses. The tea table will be attractively decorated with fall flowers and lighted tapers, and presided over, as pourers, by Mrs. James Watson, a very active Club worker, and Mrs. Harry C. Gibson.

An attractive feature of the fall season for the Club will be the International Dinner and Lecture on November 2nd, at 6:45 p.m. "Tariffs and Their Effects Upon International Relationships" will be the topic of the evening.

The Dramatic committee announces a most interesting program for the season beginning with a series of Play Readings on Monday afternoon, November 7th, at 2 p.m.

The Club Chorus began work on October 5th, under the efficient leadership of Madame Apolline Blair. Child Classes of sight reading and singing, will be conducted by Mrs. Blair on Saturdays, from 12 to 12:30 o'clock, beginning October 29th.

RECENT EVENTS

Newton Community Club

Members of the Newton Community Club and their guests had a most enjoyable afternoon at the first fall meeting on Thursday, October 13th.

The president, Mrs. Daniel M. Goodridge, most graciously extended greetings to all, and presided at the very brief business meeting.

Mrs. Peter Turchon, chairman of the Music committee, had charge of the musicale and presented a program of marked interest and distinction.

S. J. Lebowitz, First Violin of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, Yves Chardon, Cellist, and Cyrus Ullian, Pianist, rendered selections of modern, classical and dramatic music, which were a real treat to all music lovers. Perhaps the audience most enjoyed the marked artistry of the three musicians, and such selections as Dvorak's "Slavonic Dance," and Albeniz' "Tango," both arranged by Kreisler for the violin, appealed as especially lovely in harmony and song.

Following the Musicale, there was a reception to the president, and to new officers of the Club. The new directors appointed are Mrs. John T. Alden, Mrs. Willard Cross, Mrs. Henry I. Harriman, and Mrs. Emmah L. Crosse. Directors for Junior Membership are Mrs. Louis J. Hunter, Mrs. Harold Moore. Newly appointed chairmen are: Dramatics, Mrs. George Pratt Maxim; Christmas Sale, Miss Marian Drury; Education, Mrs. Stephen B. Wilson; House, Mrs. Le Roy Guion; Membership, Mrs. Emma F. King; Public Health, Mrs. Kenneth Backman; Press and Publicity, Mrs. Florence G. Morse; and Nominating committee, Mrs. L. M. Brockway.

Ten was served by the Social committee, of which Mrs. Ralph M. Peterson is chairman. A pleasing feature was the fact that four former presidents of the Club were the pourers, namely, Mrs. Franklin E. Smith, Mrs. Edward M. Keach, Mrs. Harry W. Fitts and Mrs. Henry P. Curtiss.

Newtonville Woman's Club

The first in the series of lectures on Every-Day Law, by Miss Lisette F. Henderson, LL.B., was given Thursday the 13th, at 10:30 a.m., at the home of Mrs. Percy E. Woodward under the sponsorship of the Legislative committee of the Newtonville Woman's Club. This course is designed to enable women to understand more fully matters connected with their own home and business relations, and it deals with the fundamental principles of law in that connection. This first lecture regarding the ownership of real property was clear and most instructive, bringing out in a general way many points of interest to property owners. Opportunity was given for questions, and the group of sixteen women attending expressed enthusiasm and pleasure in the way the lecturer handled her subject.

The first six lectures will be given on successive Thursdays, and the seventh on December 8th, at the same place and hour. Tickets for the Course or for single lectures may be obtained from Mrs. Charles E. Beatty, N. N. 2755-W.

The Newton Centre Junior Woman's Club has planned a very active and full season under the leadership of its president, Miss Martha P. Wright. The opening meeting was held Wednesday afternoon, October 19th at 3 p.m. Business was followed by a Tea to the new members.

STATE FEDERATION

RADIO. Listening-in groups, and many other clubwomen of the State are making a habit of absorbing the Saturday programs given from 11:30 to 12 noon over WBZ, by the State Federation Radio Director, Mrs. Charles L. Fuller of Brockton. There are many surprising and interesting bits developing the theme of Personality in this "Clinic" which stresses this power of individuality through every department of the Federation, from art and music to the home and health, and on to citizenship and public service.

In the latter fields may be listed the two immediate programs for the 22nd and 29th of October. While the program for the former date has already been given in detail, there is the reminder of its timeliness in the discussion by Mrs. Harriet Russell Hart, chairman of Legislation, of Why We Have Political Parties. On this date, too, there will be a Conversation topic, "Nature's Bargain Counter," which captures the imagination, as to its subject matter.

On Saturday, the 29th, Miss Marion C. Nichols, chairman of the Division of Civil Service and Citizenship Training, will present the subject "How To Go About Getting a Civil Service Job." Mrs. E. J. James, of Shrewsbury, will be the speaker. On this date, too, there will be a Conversation topic, "Nature's Bargain Counter," which captures the imagination, as to its subject matter.

On Saturday, the 29th, Miss Marion C. Nichols, chairman of the Division of Civil Service and Citizenship Training, will present the subject "How To Go About Getting a Civil Service Job." Mrs. E. J. James, of Shrewsbury, will be the speaker. On this date, too, there will be a Conversation topic, "Nature's Bargain Counter," which captures the imagination, as to its subject matter.

ART LECTURES. Four lectures to be given at the Boston Art Museum, on permanent and current exhibitions, are being arranged by the Art Division, of which Mrs. Roy C. Baker is chairman. Informal discussion periods, after the lecture, will be an additional feature of value.

The first lecture will be given on Sunday, October 23rd, at 2 p.m., when Miss Marion Doane, Supervisor of the Instructions at the Museum, will be the speaker, and Mrs. Mary Parkman Sayward, senior instructor, will give an illustrated lecture on "The Orientation of the Museum." Tea will be served in Tapestry Hall, with special guests attending. Tickets for the series may be procured from Mrs. Herbert Stevens, 247 Myrtle street, Arlington. The proceeds will go to the Museum Educational Fund as a State Federation scholarship. Other lectures will be given on November 16th, January 18th, 1933, and February 15th.

FALL MEETING. Framingham's State Federation of Women's Clubs was indicative of the genuine background of this attractive old co-subsistent greeting to the Massachusetts town. Townsmen expressed their pride and interest in the event of the coming of nearly 1500 clubwomen of Massachusetts by placing along the sidewalks the ever-inspiring upright American flag, in the dignified and beautiful Memorial Building, the simple charm of Nevins Auditorium was a fitting background to the more gala decorations of flowers upon the platform. Every officer, chairman, or distinguished guest among them, too, wore the delightful badge of their position, a bouquet that caught and held the eye.

The greetings brought by Mr. Chas. A. Potter, chairman of the Selectmen, and by Mrs. Burr Jay Merriam, president of the Hostess Club, carried forward in the same substantial spirit the welcome of an old New England town. This reaction to the opening of the Convention on Friday morning, the 14th, the first meeting over which the new State president, Mrs. Frank P. Bennett, has presided,—and she looked altogether lovely in her costume of French blue, with her bouquet of prevailing pink—is, perhaps, the one most keenly felt in recalling the events of the day.

"I was told quite a number of years ago by a gentleman in Boston who has made a good deal of study of names of towns and genealogy," said Mr. Potter, "that the name of Framingham, England, from which our town takes its name, was originally Framlingham. Be that as it may, we want you to feel that this is a friendly town and that you are among friends while you are here." Then, to prove his assertion, he added with a dry sense of humor: "We do not want you to feel that because we have so many policemen on duty around this building and in the streets near here that we are anticipating any trouble from this gathering. It is simply our attempt to do everything that is humanly possible for your convenience in handling traffic and assisting you in parking your cars." This was rewarded by the deserved laughter, and then he commented upon the town's resources, cultural and spiritual, and its history, with interesting information.

Mrs. Merriam, in her greetings, revealed the interesting fact that the Framingham Woman's Club had been organized four years previous to the State Federation of Women's Clubs, 1889, and brought out that it has the proud history that one of its members figured prominently in the organization of the State Federation, namely, Miss Ella Fisk, a sister of Mrs. E. M. White (who was seated upon the platform), who had served as director under the administration of Julia Ward Howe.

Mrs. Merriam also pointed out that it was in Framingham—at the Plymouth Church, on February 22, 1862—that Julia Ward Howe's "Battle Hymn of the Republic" was first sung in public.

At the conclusion of her greetings, Mrs. Merriam was presented with a large basket of beautiful flowers.

Mrs. Bennett, in her gracious response to these greetings, took opportunity to bring out the fact that Mrs. Merriam came from her own home district, being a past president of the Marblehead Woman's Club, in which district Mrs. Bennett was a director at that time.

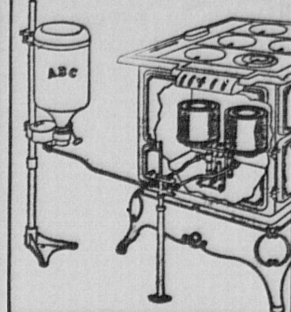

The president stated that economy and simplicity had been chosen as the slogan for this year, asking the clubs to take these as their watchword. While no club is expected to give up its Presidents' Day, or its entertaining in fear of overtaxing its budget, it is urged that simple refreshments, if any; home talent entertainment, and no elaborate flower decorations or gifts, be the tribute paid to officers.

The picture of the attitude of Framingham would not be complete, or given the appreciation it deserves, if it were not added here, that the editor of the Framingham News, not only placed a headline on the Friday edition which was given over to the report of the day—Framingham Welcomes State Federation of Women's Clubs—but opened his Editorial Column in a splendid message of greeting and approval. Merchants, too, whose excellent stores were visited by admiring clubwomen during the lunch hour, showed a friendly and interested attitude toward these visitors quite apart from desire to sell.

Only the high lights of the day can, unfortunately be summed up here. A complete program, as topics and speakers appeared, was given in this Column on October 7th. The speaker, who quite "stole the show" by his force of presentation, his belief in his subject, and the information he had to impart on a topic of real interest to every thinking citizen, was Carl P. Dennett, of the National Economy League—a League with which many clubwomen are already affiliated as members, and which Mrs. Bennett earnestly recommended that clubwomen join and assist—who so aroused desire to hear more, that the president—quite without precedent—yielded to the demanding applause, and requested the speaker to continue beyond his allotted time. Mr. Dennett pointed out the injustice of paying to a small percentage of the population the billions demanded in bonus, which had been figured to be due in 1945, with interest accumulated to that time. He showed, more, the actual danger to the country's financial standing, should impulsive and ignorant leaders in this matter prevail. His information as to government costs, and his statement that the turning point of the depression was reached last July, presented three obstacles to recovery as political uncertainty, unemployment, and taxation.

Reports of the General Federation Biennial held at Seattle in June by four clubwomen, brought out, besides the many business reports and accomplishments of divisions which have already been reported at length in this Column, and other newspapers

Fifty Years Ago
In Newton

From the Newton GRAPHIC, October 21, 1882

Newton Items

A few enterprising young men are arranging for a set of Germans to be held this Winter at their residences.

W. O. Edmonds, Jr., has recovered from the severe injuries received in a recent game on the Harvard football team.

A lady from Newton Lower Falls stepped off a moving train at this station the other day and was thrown violently to the platform. Luckily she escaped serious injury.

The Channing Sunday School have just begun the use of a new hymn-book "The Chapter" and are making rapid improvement in singing under Mr. Coulston's instruction.

Mrs. Dr. Field, who has been a long time sufferer from hay-fever has found at Montpelier, Vt., the past summer the same relief from that disease which she found at Montpelier, Vt., in former years.

The flag station at the Centre street crossing has been moved back about 6 feet to make room for one of the two extra tracks, which are to be laid as far as Newton this Fall. The St. James street bridge is the only obstruction east of the Newton depot still to be removed. The steam-shovel has cut through about three-quarters of the length of the hill above Brackett's coal yard, and will finish in a few days.

Newtonville Items

The Street Commissioners will give a hearing next Friday to persons interested in the extension of Murray street. (Murray street is now Lowell avenue.)

Fayette Shaw has plans for a new house to be erected at the corner of Harvard street and Newtonville avenue. M. J. Brown of Boston is the architect.

Mr. Paine is to erect two cottages at "Nonantum Village," North Falmouth. The present cottages there are owned by N. S. Bryant, H. J. Preston, Gardner Wadleigh, W. S. Cushman, and H. A. Mansfield. Newtonville claims the honor of discovering this location; the first house having been erected by a party of yachtsmen from this place.

West Newton Items

A neat wooden block built by J. E. Gammons is going up on Washington street opposite Waltham street.

The commodious brick block now being erected at the corner of Washington and Cherry streets by James H. Nickerson is nearly completed and will soon be ready for occupancy. It contains stores, tenements, public library rooms, photograph salon, and a hall 48 feet square which will be let for entertainments.

Quite an amusing incident occurred on Monday, when a judge, presumably clothed in the majesty of the law, set forth from the Hub to hold court at West Newton, but by some freak of fortune the train proved to be a westward bound express and he was carried several miles beyond his destination. There, some considerate person was induced to supply a conveyance, and in the mud and rain he was hurried back to West Newton, and, let us hope, arrived not too agitated to temper justice with mercy.

Among the advertisements in the GRAPHIC 50 years ago were—W. H. Fullerton, Newton Branch Grocery and Tea House featuring Mason's Preserve Jars; Fitchburg Railroad Company, excursion to Hoosac Tunnel, Oct. 26 and 28, fare $2; Horses for sale at Loudholm Farm, Cabot street, Newton, by W. One of the Club's own members, Miss Nellie Osborne, gave a very interesting talk on her trip this past summer to the National Convention of the Federation of Women's Clubs, at Seattle. Miss Osborne's sister, Miss Florence Osborne, accompanied her to Seattle. The account of the many acquaintances made, the worthwhile programs attended, and the interesting places visited, together with the fine spirit of all who attended the convention, was told in a very entertaining manner. The Club felt fortunate indeed in being represented by two of its members.

Miss Osborne's travel talk was supplemented by pictures, which were shown by a representative from the Canadian National Railway.

The evening's program was most enjoyable and worthwhile.

this auditorium, she said, was made to resemble a huge tent, enclosing unsightly supports of this building which seated nearly 14,000 people; yellow, green, and red strips of canvas, a foot wide, being sewn together; and here and there where electric bulbs must give light, were imitations of colorful Japanese lanterns enclosing them. A green velvet panel on either side of the huge stage gave grandeur from floor to ceiling. And, a sight to thrill the heart, in the right-hand panel was a twelve-foot cut-out of George Washington, painted in silver; and in the left-hand panel, a companion piece of Martha Washington. And from the main auditorium, day and night, a spotlight played upon these two pictures giving the effect of daguerotypes. And to complete the perfect whole, in breathtaking charm, in this year of the Bicentennial of the first president, across the back-drop of the stage was a masterly painting of Mount Vernon.

Mrs. A. Melville Graves, of Longmeadow, reporting Afternoon Sessions, in a word picture of that beautiful country, caught the imagination of all to visualize 'Sunday afternoon, one of unparalleled beauty of sunny skies and balmy breezes; Mt. Rainier, snow-crowned, standing in majestic grandeur; the Plymouth Congregational Church where a Memorial Service conducted by Mrs. Sipple paid tribute to two former presidents of the Federation; and Seattle's gardens; one of them, on Mrs. Gilbert Duffy's estate, fourteen miles away, to which they were driven after this service, set like a jewel—roses and rhododendrons, pines, arbutus, Douglas fir, mosses, rock-gardens—its sloping ground looking off over the blue-green waters of Puget Sound.

Mrs. George H. Hall of Lynn, describing Evening Sessions, spoke of the hours from eight to twelve nightly as being continuous feasts: of the inner woman; of speeches and toasts; of mind, in excellent speakers; of music; and the eye, with Mrs. Sipple in pale blue or pink; with Mrs. Poole usually in white; with Mrs. Lawson, always in white; and with forty-eight State presidents, in lovely evening gowns, carrying gorgeous flowers, whom Mrs. Sipple called her debutantes.

A chairman of the General Federation, Mrs. Laura Waples McMullen, of the Department of International Relations, gave a resume of conditions in Manchuria, describing the Japanese and Chinese as affected by the customs and conditions in which their womanhood are placed.

The luncheon period saw merry parties and groups gathered in the two dining halls provided by the Hostess Club, the banquet hall of the Memorial Building and the Parish House of Grace Church nearby. Officers and prominent Clubwomen, carrying their flowers, grouped upon the steps and were photographed by newspapermen or others, amidst gaiety and interest of onlookers.

In the afternoon, new Clubs were taken into membership, one of them being the Mothercraft Club of Massachusetts, organized at the Hotel Vendome, Boston, on October 7th, with a membership of 135, sponsoring the teaching of mothercraft in the public and private schools and in strengthening general interest in mothercraft; with Mrs. May Bliss Dickinson Kimball quite appropriately as president.

There is no doubt that the world is at one of the most complete and uncontrollable attacks of St. Vitus dance that it has ever experienced.

This startling statement opened an equally startling address by Dr. Clarence Cook Little speaker of the afternoon, director of the Roscoe B. Jackson Memorial Laboratory, Bar Harbor, Maine, and a well-known educator and economist. He declared "that the lack of interest in this year's election, was to some extent caused by the calibre of the vice-presidential candidates; most of us knowing several score of men who in our opinion are distinctly better fitted to hold that high office." He further declared that "compared with communists, certain ex-service men calling themselves Americans should be branded by all those worthy of that name as the true menace to our country as its real traitors."

Newton clubwomen may be glad to know that this city was well-represented by delegates and clubwomen, many presidents of clubs being noted among them, at this Fall Meeting.

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

On Monday evening, October 17th, the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club held its second meeting of the year in the Club Rooms of the Emerson School.

One of the Club's own members, Miss Nellie Osborne, gave a very interesting talk on her trip this past summer to the National Convention of the Federation of Women's Clubs, at Seattle. Miss Osborne's sister, Miss Florence Osborne, accompanied her to Seattle. The account of the many acquaintances made, the worthwhile programs attended, and the interesting places visited, together with the fine spirit of all who attended the convention, was told in a very entertaining manner. The Club felt fortunate indeed in being represented by two of its members.

Miss Osborne's travel talk was supplemented by pictures, which were shown by a representative from the Canadian National Railway.

The evening's program was most enjoyable and worthwhile.

Woman's Club of Newton Highlands

Due to serious illness Mr. Howard Brenton MacDonald, P.R.G.S., was not with the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands at the meeting on Tuesday afternoon, October 18th, in the Congregational Parish House, Adele House, a member of the faculty of Leland Powers School, hastened home from New York to fill in, and very artistically read "Captain Drew on Leave", by Hubert Henry Davis.

Cubbing For Younger Boys Going Ahead In Newton—6 Packs Formed

Norumbega Council of Boy Scouts Completes Year's Experiment—Cubs Hold Palava

A youngster of nine, ten, or eleven, wearing a uniform and cap of blue and gold, with a neckerchief of the same hues, is seen tearing down the street after the close of school. He is a Cub, a member of the younger boy organization of the Boy Scouts of America, which is the newest branch of that organization. For many years, there has been Cubbing, called the Wolf Cubs, in England and other parts of the world, started by the same man who created the Boy Scout Program, Robert Baden-Powell. The Wolf Cubs are based on several of Kipling's books, which are not as commonly read by the youngsters of this country as in England.

About three or four years ago, the Laura Spellman Rockefeller Foundation gave a large sum of money to the Boy Scouts of America to conduct research into a younger boy program for that organization, because the calls from mothers and fathers had been so insistent.

are Wolf, Bear and Lion ranks. There are minimum requirements for each of those ranks and for the boy whose interests are keen and activities somewhat diversified and for those who are faster, each rank has a Bronze, Gold and Silver "lateral spread", so-called.

Activities for the minimum ranks consist of all sorts of crafts and features which make a strong appeal to boys of that age. To secure the Bronze, Gold or Silver awards in each rank, the activities require more skill and more intensive work and study. Outdoor work consists of "tramping", picnic suppers of a simple nature cooked in the open, and the like, BUT Cubs do not go for over-night hikes. Great care is taken to keep away from major things Scouts do, for the purpose of Cubbing is to train for better Scouts with an even keener edge.

Norumbega Council, now a member of the Newton Community Chest, Inc.,

A CUB PALAVA

The National Council of the Boy Scouts assigned an expert in boy psychology as well as one with practical experience with boys, and a competent staff, to build such a program. Over 14,000 educators and leaders of younger boy groups were consulted and the outcome of two years of investigation and study and advice from those thousands of experts resulted in the U. S. Cub program.

The American program is not Junior Scouting, nor are the boys "Cub Scouts"; they are Cubs. The program, based on the tradition and finer characteristics of the American Indian, does not in the least resemble Scouting; it is completely adapted to the psychology and urges of boys nine, ten and eleven years of age. The only part of the Scout program involved directly in it comes during the last six months, when a Cub studies the Tenderfoot requirements, that he may be ready for that test when he can become a Scout at the age of twelve.

The Cub Packs, for such the larger groups are called, are led by Cubbers (men) called Akela, the old Indian Chief of the Tribe. When a Cub first enters he holds the rank of Bob Cat; the next ranks, in order, at the ages of 9, 10 and 11 respectively.

was authorized by the National Council, because of its high standing, to start working with the Cub program from its inception. Because there was no background of experience, it was deemed wise by the then-Cub Committee of the Council, headed by Mr. D. G. Robbins, chairman, to start in a small way and only in answer to a demand from a group of parents who would form the necessary Committee and assume the work and responsibility attendant upon a Pack's work.

One Pack was started, then another, with backing of fathers and mothers of prospective Packs, until now there are six Cub Packs in Newton.

The Council Cub Division Committee, now consisting of Mr. Carl Redmond, chairman; Mrs. F. D. Goode, Dr. Henry Marble, Messrs. H. D. Ames of the American Legion and James Walton, Scoutmaster of Troop 7B, West Newton, continues the policy adopted when Cubbing was initiated in allowing Cub Packs to start; that is, demand must come from parents who are interested in Cubbing and they agree to undertake responsibility of informing parents, forming the necessary Pack Committee, see the ages of 9, 10 and 11 respectively.

More Demands To Transport School Pupils

The problem of transportation for pupils in the public schools of Newton seems to increase rather than decrease as more sections of the city are provided with schools, and distances to be travelled grow less. The School Committee has been endeavoring for some time to find a solution to the problem of providing transportation for several pupils who reside in Oak Hill and who attend the Weeks Junior High School. This matter came before the committee at its meeting on Monday night, and as an added attraction came a petition from a citizen whose children attend the Ward School at Chestnut Hill, that transportation be furnished by the city for pupils who attend this school and who have to cross Commonwealth avenue or Beacon street, because of residing south of these two thoroughfares. The committee tabled this request, but took recognition of the hazards faced by the children in crossing the two streets named by voting to request that policemen be stationed at the intersections of Hammond street at Beacon street and Commonwealth avenue to protect the pupils.

In the matter of transportation for pupils attending the Weeks School, and who reside at Oak Hill, Mrs. Cornell of the committee reported that conferences have been held with the Middlesex & Boston Company regarding the running of special busses to carry pupils who attend the High School, the Weeks School and the Ward School. Mrs. Cornell displayed a map showing the routing of such busses. She explained that the Middlesex & Boston Company agrees to run the busses provided that the city will contract to make up any deficit incurred in the operation of these busses. This phase caused the committee to refrain from taking immediate action. It was voted to instruct Supt. of Schools Lund to confer with the State Department of Education regarding the city's responsibility in the matter of furnishing free transportation for school pupils. It has been the practice of the school department of Newton to give free transportation to children in the lower six grades who live two miles or more from the school they attend.

Carl Mullen of Brookline street, Oak Hill, told the committee that his son, a pupil at the Weeks School, requires some means of transportation on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons, because the Mason School has no sessions at these times, and the bus which carries Mason School pupils does not run. Ralph King of Brookline street asked similar transportation for his daughter, who attends the Weeks School. They stated that there are seven pupils of the Weeks School who live in Oak Hill and who need such transportation. Mullen intimated that an appeal might be taken to the State Department of Education to compel the city to provide the asked for transportation.

Occupancy Of New City Hall On October 31

The new city hall will not be occupied until October 31st. It was originally planned to have the offices moved from the old city hall to the new building on October 17. The date was then postponed to October 24th, and then a second postponement was found necessary due to delay in the installation of furnishing. Moving experts have been transferring records and files from the old building to the new structure and the offices at the old City Hall have had a temporary appearance for the week.

MORE TRAFFIC PROBLEMS AT HIGH SCHOOL

In addition to closing Elm road to traffic for much of the day, as well as causing traffic delays on Walnut street, the traffic situation at the Newton High School now involves Kimball terrace, Newtonville. This short street runs from Otis street to Elm road. The School Committee has requested the Board of Aldermen to pass a traffic rule which will make Kimball terrace a one-way street on school days from 8 to 8:30 a. m., and from 2:10 to 2:45 p. m. Traffic during these periods will be prevented from entering the terrace from the Otis street end. The change is asked to end jams which have prevailed on Elm road and Kimball terrace.

Last Meeting at Old City Hall On November 7

Ex-Mayors and Former Aldermen Invited to Attend

The last meeting of the Board of Aldermen in the old city hall at West Newton will take place on Monday night, November 7. Invitations have been sent by Mayor Weeks to all living ex-Mayors and Aldermen to attend this meeting. This invitation says—"It seems eminently fitting that this meeting should take the form of a reunion of all living ex-members of the City Government and City Officers, and in a sense, a memorial of those who served the city in the old City Hall, who are now deceased."

"The happiest possible augury for the success of the City Government in the new City Hall will be the presence of yourself and your former colleagues in the old City Hall on the evening of November 7th."

The program will include an address "The Old City Hall" by Arthur W. Blakemore, and recollections and remarks by Judge James A. Lowell, Thomas W. White, Fred M. Blanchard and Mayor Weeks.

Aldermen Want To Continue To Serve

Nearly all of the Aldermen who are members of the present Board, and whose terms expire this year, desire to continue in the City Government. In Ward 1 Alderman-at-Large Gallagher will again be a candidate. He is serving his eighth year on the Board. Ward Alderman Sprout, who is serving his first year, will run again. He will have as an opponent Edward Vahey of Allison street, Nonantum, a lawyer. Alderman Collins of Ward 2, who is President of the Board and has been a member of it for the past 11 years, will run for reelection. So will Donald M. Hill who is in his initial year as Ward Alderman. In Ward 3 William F. Chase, who has served 3 years on the Board, will not be a candidate. Two candidates are in the field for his position—Maynard Hutchinson of Temple street, and Alfred Guzzi of Maple street. Bernard D. Farrell serving his first year as Ward Alderman will run again. In Ward 4 Charles B. Floyd, Alderman-at-Large for the past 4 years will come out for another term. So will Silvanus Smith who has been Ward Alderman for the past 4 years. Smith will be opposed by Dennis M. Cronin of 233 Auburn street, an attorney at law.

In Ward 5 Henry W. Ball, who has served on the Board for 10 years, will not run again. Candidates for this office are Donald D. McKay of Wood-cliff road, Newton Highlands, and William A. Davidson of Beethoven avenue, Waban. James R. Chandler of Ridge road, Waban, will again run for Ward Alderman. He is serving his third year now. In Ward 6 Sidney Holden, Ward Alderman for the past 3 years, will again be a candidate for reelection. In Ward 7 Frederick A. Hawkins, who has been Ward Alderman for the past 7 years, will again be a candidate. So will Philip S. Jamieson who has been Alderman-at-Large for the past 2 years. Jamieson will have an opponent in the person of Arthur H. Crane of Sunset road, Newton. It is more than probable that other candidates will run in the various wards, so while there will be no Mayoralty contest this year, some of the present Board who want to continue in office are not sure of returning.

Newton V.F.W. Elect Keefe Commander

The Klan of Keefe clashed at the election of Eugene J. Daley, Jr. Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars at West Newton on Monday night. The contestants for the office of Commander were John J. Keefe of Wiswall street, West Newton, who had held that office the past year, and David L. Keefe of 16 California street, Nonantum, who has been Senior Vice Commander the past year. The election was close and the Nonantum Keefe won, receiving 92 votes of the West Newton Keefe's 82 votes. Other officers elected were: Patrick Conney, Senior Vice Commander; Charles Marden, Junior Vice Commander; Joseph Arata, Quartermaster; Robert Murray, Chaplain; Bernard Feinstein, post surgeon; Hugh Boyd, advocate; Arthur L. Gaw, Officer of the Day; Ray Adams, James Dunn, Harry Purcell, Thomas Hurley, Joseph Kelly, delegates to county council. David Keefe the new Commander, served with C Company, 101st Infantry in France. He is a member of Engine 1 of the Newton Fire Department.

Perfect Plans For Newton's Community Chest

Campaign for Funds Opens on November 17

Plans for the Newton Community Chest campaign which starts on November 17, are rounding into form, according to Paul F. Bauder, campaign general chairman. Several meetings of the executive committee and other groups having the campaign in charge, have taken place, and the work is progressing favorably.

A feature of the campaign preparations is a full-size newspaper of four pages that will be issued on November 5. This will carry complete information about the campaign, together with articles and pictures telling of the service rendered by the agencies constituting the Community Chest. It will be distributed by the Boy Scouts, and it is planned to place a copy in every home in Newton. The distribution will take place on the date of issue.

Rev. Newton A. Merritt, Jr., pastor of Immanuel Baptist Church, Newton, is chairman of the committee on church co-operation. Through this committee, Sunday, Nov. 13, that before the opening of the Chest campaign, is to be designated as Newton Community Chest Sunday, and the ministers of Newton are urged to announce the campaign, and appeal to their congregations for full support of the movement to make the fourth winter of the depression less dreadful than is feared.

To date the organizations united in the Community Chest are the following: Newton Hospital, Mayor's Relief Committee, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, the Y. M. C. A., the Newton Welfare Bureau, the Newton Catholic Charitable Bureau, the Newton District Nursing Association, the Stearns School Centre, the West Newton Community Centre, the Newton Central Council and the All Newton Music School.

A meeting of the budget committee will be held tonight to consider the combined budgets of the agencies, following which it will be possible to announce the goal of the campaign. Members of the budget committee are William B. Baker, chairman; Walter R. Amesbury, Howard M. Biscoe, Albert M. Lyon, and Leverett Saltonstall.

The campaign for preliminary gifts, which will precede the general campaign, will begin next Thursday night, Nov. 3, with a dinner of the preliminary gift committee at which will be present all the workers of the committee, headed by Henry J. Nichols of West Newton, chairman of the committee. At that time there will be distributed an eight-page booklet, prepared by the Newton Community Chest, outlining the task that lies before it. The dinner will take place at the Brae Burn Club on Commonwealth avenue.

Christmas Seal Sale Not Part of Community Chest

The sale of Christmas Seals in Newton will be carried on as usual later in the fall under a special committee from the Federation of Women's Clubs of Newton. The annual drive being a part of a national and state project this charitable activity is not a member of the newly formed Community Chest of Newton. For 21 years the committee has conducted its annual sale of Christmas Seals as a part of the battle against tuberculosis. The campaign is carried on by mail under the direction of a chairman and committee for each of the villages of Newton.

After all expenses have been deducted and returns made to National and State Tuberculosis Leagues the remainder is turned over to the Newton Welfare Bureau as an entirely separate item. This money is spent only under the direction of the Health Committee.

TO SPEAK TO MOTHERS OF BOYS

The Women's Auxiliary to the Newton Y. M. C. A. will hold a meeting on Wednesday, Nov. 2nd at 3 p. m., at the home of Mrs. A. T. Sundborg at 19 Baldwin street, Newton. Mrs. Gertie S. Hasbrouck, widely known lecturer on Sex Character Education will speak on "Practical Facts for Mothers of Boys". Mrs. Wallace Wales will sing. Tea will be served. A cordial invitation to attend is extended to all mothers of boys.

Unemployed March On City Hall—Riot Starts And Police Arrest Eleven

Alleged Communist Leads Crowd in An Attempt to Force Entrance to Mayor's Office

Wednesday morning about 9 o'clock a crowd of men and women, numbering about 100 marched to City Hall. Many of the marchers were from the Nonantum section and others were from Newton, Newtonville and West Newton. They walked quietly along Watertown street from Nonantum and Newtonville under the lead of a young woman who later identified herself as Alice Ward, 32, of 50 East Newton street, Boston. The Newton police had been tipped off of a meeting held by members of this group at Nonantum the preceding night, and of the probable march on City Hall, so when the marchers arrived in front of the building they found Captain Seaver of the Newton police and several policemen on the steps to prevent them from entering the structure. The Ward woman demanded that she and her followers be permitted to enter and proceed to the Mayor's office to interview Mayor Weeks. She was told by Captain Seaver that the Mayor would not grant an interview to her or the crowd with her, but that he would see a committee from those comprising the gathering the following morning, as he had previously promised. Seaver advised the woman and those with her to disperse and return to their homes.

Leon B. Rogers, head of the Mayor's Relief Committee next addressed the crowd and stated that he would be glad to confer with any of them and discuss any individual case which might be presented. He also advised the crowd to disperse, as did Chief of Police Hughes and James Dempsey, the Mayor's secretary, who advised the demonstrators of the Mayor's agreement to meet a committee on Wednesday morning. The Ward woman harangued the crowd and insisted that the Mayor must grant an audience to them without delay. Urging the gathering to follow her into the Mayor's office she started to push by the police, together with some of the demonstrators. The police, headed by Chief Hughes and Captain Seaver obstructed their passage and at once a riot was in progress. A number of the mob started to struggle with the police and several fist fights ensued. The police refrained from using their clubs, and soon had the situation under control. Nine men and two women were taken into custody. Patrolmen Taffe and McDonough seized the Ward woman and she was carried struggling to police headquarters.

Filippo Pintabona, 52, of 86 Underwood avenue, West Newton, a building contractor, became engaged in a fist encounter with Patrolman Henry Loughlin, and while this lively scrap was in progress, Pintabona's wife, Mrs. Frances Pintabona, 45, sprang to her husband's aid and inflicted a severe scratch on Loughlin's face. She and her husband were arrested.

On October 18 a committee of four who represented the group which marched to City Hall on Wednesday and rioted, waited on Mayor Weeks

The others arrested included: John Sullo, 27, of 117 Chapel street, Nonantum; Lawrence Patuto, 22, of 89 Gardner street, Newton; Larry Visco, 19, of 253 Nevada street, Newtonville; Frank Salvucci, 21, of 19 Bridge street, Nonantum; Tomasso Conti, 53, of 10 Harold terrace, West Newton; James Marini, 22, of 13 Lengien road, Newton; Joseph Proia, 25, of 240 Adams street, Nonantum; Gerardo Salvucci, 26, of 89 Gardner street, Newton.

In the battle royal Patrolman Walsh, Dungan, McDonough and Jenkins, and Special Officers Feeley and Mullen were assaulted. Walsh and Dungan were kicked, McDonough and Jenkins were hit by flying fists, Mullen received a cut mouth when someone grabbed him by the lip, and an automobile driven by one of the rioters ran over the toes of Feeley's left foot.

When the riot seemed imminent Chief Hughes had all the policemen on duty notified to hasten to City Hall and in a short time a large force of police was at West Newton. After the arrests were made, the police scattered the crowd and drove the demonstrators out of West Newton square. The Ward woman sent word to the International Workingmen's Defence League in Boston and arrangements were made to bail the eleven arrested. Some were bailed by relatives in this city, and the group was released shortly before 6 o'clock on Wednesday evening.

The eleven defendants appeared for trial in the Newton court yesterday before Judge Bacon. All were represented by Attorney S. R. Remar, except Visco, whose lawyer was Solomon Rondlick. At the latter's request, Visco's trial was continued until November 3rd. Alice Ward was found guilty of inciting a riot and sentenced to serve 6 months in prison. She appealed. Judge Bacon commented that he believed the other defendants had been misguided and gave them suspended sentences in addition to fines. Marini, Frank Salvucci, Patuto, and Conti were each given two months suspended sentences for disturbing the peace, and fined $10 for loitering. Proia was given a suspended sentence of 3 months for interfering with an officer; Sullo, Pintabona and Mrs. Pintabona each was given a suspended sentence of 3 months for assaulting the police officers, and 2 months for disturbing the peace; Gerardo Salvucci was given a suspended sentence of 3 months for assault on a police officer, and a suspended sentence of 1 month for driving an automobile so as to endanger the public.

On October 18 a committee of four who represented the group which marched to City Hall on Wednesday and rioted, waited on Mayor Weeks

"The Command Performance" November 16

On November 16th the Newton Dramatic Club will open its season with a presentation of the brilliant and romantic melodrama "The Command Performance," at the Newton Centre Woman's Club House. It is the first of six performances to be presented by the Club this season.

This is the first performance of this play shot through with comedy and laughter in Greater Boston. The brilliant gold-trimmed military suits of red and white which the royal men will wear will be excellently matched by the gowns of newest modes furnished by an exclusive shop. As fit settings, the two palace scenes will be set up with rare brocades and furniture. The Vagabond King is the motif of the plot incorporated in the opening scene where a group of strolling actors are rehearsing the play. Robert Currier will portray the dual role of the swashbuckling actor and his double, the effete and bored Prince Alexis of Moldavia. Rosalind Harris who plays opposite him will be Princess Katerina of Wallachia. It is with great appreciation that the Club announces the part of the Queen of Wallachia will be acted by Baroness Von Tippelskirch, wife of the German consul. Mrs. Ellis Spear, Jr., will take the part of the Queen of Moldavia and Major Arthur Hitchcock will be her chancellor. Mr. Wm. Day-enport will play Masoch. Others in the cast are Samuel Fuller, Jr., Eugene Angert, John Hitchcock, Mrs. Melville Lanning, Mrs. Albert Muther, Martha Swail, Sumner Smith, Robert Reed, Elizabeth Follett, Spencer de Mille, Donald Jager, Walter Wagner, Wm. F. Warriner, Sewall Logan.

The play will be produced and coached by Mrs. Everett W. Varney, who gave to the Club last year the finished performances of "The Marquise."

Mrs. C. Peter Clark is chairman of the Membership Committee.

Dr. Booth's First Lecture Great Success

Will Lecture Next Monday Night on "Abraham"

Over two hundred people were present at The Second Church last Monday evening to hear Dr. Edwin P. Booth deliver his first lecture of the series on "Personalities of the Old Testament." The subject of his lecture was "Adam—In the Morning of the World." Dr. Booth delivered this lecture in his usual fine style, drawing extremely vivid word-pictures. His lecture included a brief description of the sources of material from which the first part of the Old Testament was derived. His audience was exceedingly attentive and responsive.

Next Monday evening at 8 o'clock, Dr. Booth will deliver the second in his series. His subject will be "Abraham—The Covenant with Jehovah." This lecture promises to be of unusual interest. The public is invited to take advantage of this rare opportunity to hear a gifted speaker portray one of the world's greatest leaders. The public is invited to attend this free lecture. Further information regarding this lecture, or the remaining lectures which are to follow, may be secured from Rev. Boynton Merrill, the minister of The Second Church, Mr. Carl E. Pickhardt, chairman of the committee on religious education, or Mr. Frank H. Grebe, the director of religious education of The Second Church.

Day Jr. High School

Supt. Lund was the speaker at the assembly of Day Junior High School on Wednesday. His inspiring address was greatly enjoyed by the pupils and the faculty. "The schools of Newton," said Mr. Lund, "afford the boys and girls of this city golden opportunities to practice the finest kind of citizenship. In planning programs, working together in clubs, traffic squads or in assisting in the publication of the school magazine they are learning their most important lessons."

Eighth and ninth grade girls' soccer teams are practicing Wednesdays and Thursdays. When teams are chosen next week, homeroom teams will be organized for an intra mural schedule.

Fall athletic activities are in full swing. The boys' playground presents a busy scene every afternoon. The new baskets which were erected this fall are used constantly, tag football attracts many, and the two soccer squads are much in evidence.

Rain interrupted our soccer schedule last week and a postponed game played Monday at Warren proved to be the best exhibition of soccer ever witnessed between the two schools. The final score was Warren 3, Day 2. Mr. Perrault of the Weeks Junior High refereed.

Our second team visited the Bigelow Tuesday. The game ended in a tie—Bigelow 1, Day 1.

The seventh grade round robin soccer series also started on Tuesday. Division D defeated B by a score of 1 to 0 in the first game, while division A and C tied with a score of 1 to 1 in the second game.

Day meets Bigelow's first team Wednesday at Cabot, when Mr. Penny of the Warren will referee.

THINK THINK THINK

THINK, Mr. Voter of your OWN interests, and of those of your neighbor. How will they be affected by the coming national election?

THINK, Mrs. Voter, of the welfare of your OWN dear ones and of the happiness of your OWN fireside. How will the outcome of the election touch them?

THINK, Miss Voter, of the problems confronting YOU in the immediate future. How are your opportunities involved in the presidential election?

Never in the history of this nation was CLEAR THINKING more important.

IN A great crisis, it is but natural that individual misfortune should, to considerable extent, cloud the mental vision of the average citizen.

The troubled affairs of our vast agricultural communities and our industrial life have affected the clear-seeing and plain-thinking of great numbers of our people.

As a nation, we are PREOCCUPIED!

And this upon the eve of an election, the outcome of which probably will have more far-reaching effect upon the future of the United States than any election in our history.

Sound thinking is imperative!

Sane action as a nation is vital!

Do not be misled by the appeal of the demagogue!

THINK before you vote!

THINK before it is too late!

THINK what it means to you and your dear ones!

THIS is an appeal to the THINKING people of America, on the farms, in the villages and towns and in the great metropolitan areas. All have been affected by the economic disturbance which has swept over the world during the last few years. All will as surely be affected by the action they are to take November 8 through their votes in the national election.

Calmly but resolutely, Herbert Hoover has combated, almost single handed, the devastating effects upon this country of the economic and political conflagration which has left so much ruin in its wake throughout the rest of the world.

He has stood steadfast, in the face of demagogic abuse on the part of rival political partisans. He has fearlessly protected the nation from exploitation at the hands of selfishly inspired politicians or ill-advised groups of citizens. He initiated measures to check the progress of the economic disturbance. His statesmanship saved America from destruction by saving Europe from complete collapse. He AVERTED GREATER DISASTER than has been visited upon our people.

His leadership has brought the country through the darkest stages of the trouble and we are now justified in the belief that the worst is over.

Shall we risk a change at the helm of government now?

THE candidate of the Democratic party has presented his case to the people. He has traveled up and down and across the continent. You have had an opportunity to see or hear him.

If you have been THINKING, you have observed that he has offered no logical program of government.

THINK WHILE THERE IS YET TIME!

Alfred Guzzi To Run Again For Alderman

Alfred R. Guzzi of 8 Mague place, West Newton, has announced his candidacy for the office of Alderman-at-Large from Ward 3. Guzzi was a candidate for this office last year. He gives as his qualifications that he has resided in Newton all his life and spends most of the 24 hours each day in this city, and so is thoroughly conversant with Newton and its needs. He further states that as a former employee of the Street Department, and as one who has attended nearly every aldermanic meeting for the past 6 years, he has practical knowledge of both the public works problems of the city, and of the procedure of the Board of Aldermen. Mr. Guzzi says, "If Newton citizens want better government, they should reject those Aldermen who only use Newton for a place to sleep in. The average class of people in Newton should have Aldermen in our New City Hall who will have the courage of their convictions, and represent their people in a fearless, impartial way."

The monthly meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held at the Newton Highlands Congregational Church, corner of Lincoln and Hartford streets on Thursday, Nov. 3rd at 2:30 p. m.

National Bank Offers Patrons New Service

The Newton National Bank announces an additional service for its depositors. Through arrangements with the Bank's Boston Correspondent, the National Shawmut Bank, depositors of the Newton National Bank may now handle all their banking transactions when they are in Boston, either at the main office of the National Shawmut Bank, 40 Water street, or at its various branches. This means that Newton National Bank depositors may use these banking offices exactly as they would use the Bank's Newton office.

OUR COMMUNISTIC DEMONSTRATION

It was with a feeling of incredulity that the majority of Newton citizens heard of the demonstration at City Hall on Wednesday morning. Such a thing was probably farthest from their thoughts. We are convinced that the demonstration does not represent the true feeling of many of those who figured in the "riot" with the exception of a few thoughtless souls who are to be pitied more than censured. But the chief lesson to be learned from the demonstration should drive home to every thinking citizen that no community is immune from communistic influence. The natural reaction in the minds of people everywhere might easily be "if things are like that in Newton, the Garden City, with all its wealth, what must conditions be elsewhere?" The thinking citizen knows that things are NOT as might be conceived.

The demands made by the leaders of the delegation which stormed City Hall are similar in many respects to the teachings of the Communist Party in this country. The planks which were enumerated are constantly being set forth in propaganda distributed to many youths of this country by Communistic organizations.

We trust that the local demonstration will not only drive home to Newton citizens the necessity of guarding against such teachings, but will give added impetus to the efforts of the newly formed Community Chest. The need for money for relief is obvious and essential though it is, it is but temporary. Such relief can never be put upon a permanent basis without having a harmful influence.

Newton must look to its worthwhile organizations, such as the Boy and Girl Scouts, the Stearns School Center, the Y. M. C. A. and the other agencies which are constantly seeking to train the younger generation in an understanding of and belief in the principles and traditions of our country.

COMPETENT TO SERVE

Attorney James P. Gallagher, whose appointment as Clerk of the District Court in Newton was recently announced, has the congratulations of his many friends. The new position to which the popular Newton attorney has succeeded is evidence of the accomplishments of perseverance and ambition. As a boy he worked for his living, as a young man he strove diligently that he might attend night school to study law. Since being admitted to the bar he has achieved success in his chosen profession. We believe he will make a competent and efficient Clerk of Courts.

AN IMPROVEMENT IS COMPLETED

On Monday of this week Boston bound travelers in automobiles or trolley cars evidenced with great appreciation the completion of an improvement of note. We refer to the opening of the new extension of the subway on Commonwealth Avenue and Beacon street this side of Governor's Square. The subway was begun in July of 1930 and was completed nine months ahead of the estimated date. The opening of the subway immeasurably relieves the heretofore congested conditions at this point where many lines of traffic converge.

CITY HALL NEWS

Mayor Sinclair Weeks today sent to the Board of Aldermen the re-appointment of George E. Stuart as Street Commissioner of the City of Newton for a period of one year, dating from October 19, 1932.

No parking restrictions in Kimball terrace, Newtonville, between the hours of 8:00 a. m. and 3:00 p. m. were today recommended by Mayor Sinclair Weeks to the Board of Aldermen.

Charles A. Mahoney, member of the Newton Retirement Board was re-appointed today by Mayor Weeks for the three year period commencing July 1, 1932.

For the care and maintenance of tubercular patients in Middlesex County for the year 1931, the City of Newton today paid over to the county the sum of $33,457. This amount, together with the annual county tax, which last year amounted to $211,732, was paid today when Mayor Weeks signed the warrants, which totalled more than $245,000.

About Town

By Edw. H. Powers

Judge Bacon tempered justice with mercy in suspending the sentences of the participants in the fracas at City Hall on Wednesday morning. The Judge said that these persons had been misguided and misled. Chief of Police Hughes believes that the judge's action should prove quite effective in preventing further demonstrations by any of the crowd who took part in Wednesday's affair, for with prison sentences hanging over them, those who were arrested for their attempt to rush City Hall will not be apt to engage in similar outbursts.

Some of the Boston papers which devoted much space to accounts of the riot at City Hall quoted Mayor Weeks as saying that families receiving aid from this city have been given at least $14 or $16 weekly. There is an error somewhere in this alleged news. The fact is that there are families obtaining aid from the Welfare Department of Newton which have been receiving but $12 weekly. Taxpayers of Newton who read that the minimum aid given to needy families by this city is $16 weekly would naturally think that Newton is unduly generous; and families who have been receiving $12 weekly would reasonably become dissatisfied if they read—and believed that $16 is the usual minimum.

At a meeting of the Cambridge Club last week Representative William B. Baker of West Newton talked on economies which can be effected in State expenditures. Among other things he suggested that the Civil Service laws be modified so that Mayors may have more leeway in reducing expenses. Baker was quoted in the press as saying that the insertion of a clause in the Civil Service law which would permit discharge of employees for just cause would help solve this problem. As a matter of fact such a clause now exists in this law. Section 43 of the Civil Service law reads, "every person holding office or employment in the classified service of the commonwealth, or of any county, city or town thereof, shall hold such office or employment and shall not be removed therefrom, lowered in rank or compensation or suspended, or without his consent transferred from such office or employment to any other, except for just cause and for reason specifically given him in writing within 24 hours after such removal, suspension, transfer, or lowering in rank or compensation."

The Civil Service law may have its drawbacks, but it should not be so weakened that there will be a reversion to conditions which existed in "the good old days."

We do not endorse in giving too much power to persons holding political office in the matter of removing civil service employees. As one who for many years was a civil service employee, we have first hand knowledge of the workings of this system. We would rather see some incompetent retained now and then, than have the law changed suddenly to permit the easier removal of incompetents, but with the result that more of this type would be able to squirm into public service. We know, from our contact with Mr. Baker that he is sincere in his views, but we believe that there are all too many politicians who would take advantage of power to remove alleged incompetent employees, just to make room for some Ward healer or sycophant who would crawl into a public job for the purpose of giving the least amount of service for the most compensation obtainable.

Karl Switzer introduced Miss Helen Barr, soprano, and Miss Sibyl Morse, pianist who are well-known radio musicians over the Columbia chain. Miss Barr, who is said to have one of the best voices for broadcasting, sang a number of semi-classical and popular songs. The entertainment was enthusiastically received.

A motion was passed by the members of the Club endorsing the effort of the newly formed Community Chest in co-ordinating local charitable organizations.

Announcement was made that Congressman Robert Luce would be the speaker at the meeting on Nov. 7th when the members of the club will also have their wives as guests.

and demanded a minimum relief of $12 weekly for families, plus the payment of rent, free medical attention, free hot lunches at school, and shoes for their children. On October 24 about a dozen persons of this group came to City Hall for a second conference with the Mayor. All of this party were not admitted, but the Mayor met the four who constituted the list of names of persons requiring assistance. Mr. Dempsey told them he would arrange another conference with Mayor Weeks for Thursday morning. Instead of waiting until Thursday, the crowd marched to City Hall on Wednesday morning and the riot ensued. Officials of the Mayor's Relief Committee stated that of the eleven persons arrested on Wednesday, only two had applied to the committee for relief.

CUBBING GOING AHEAD IN NEWTON

During a Cubmaster and other leadership training meeting place, an important part of the job is to secure Den Mothers. With that as a start, then the Pack is ready to start and, so experience in Newton has shown, it will continue to grow.

The Pack itself, as indicated above, is the larger group, in a way corresponding to a Scout Troop; the Den is the neighborhood group of youngsters who naturally play together. Cubbing is essentially a home and back-yard program, where the boys are kept in their natural home environment as the usual thing. The Den Mother works with the Denner who is the Cub himself who is a leader of a Den, in planning programs, providing parties and in general sees that the Den moves ahead and works and plays together smoothly and effectively. The Den Chief is a Scout, an older boy of First Class rank, who works directly with the Den, in teaching them Cubcraft and the various requirements which are essential to advancement.

Cub Packs Now in Newton

There are at present six Cub Packs in Newton, with whom the Council Cub Division is working with Mr. W. R. Speirs, the Scout Executive, who is known in Scout terms as the "Council Akelah".

Pack 20, affiliated with Troop 20, Center, has for its Committee, Mr. G. I. Engle, chairman, Messrs. Arthur Williamson, Harry R. Marshall and John A. Scott, Cub Master Carroll Hoffman and Assistant Cubmaster Louis Haffernell.

Pack 6, of Waban, feeding its members into Troops 9 and 10 of that village, with Committee consisting of Mr. E. W. Bartram, chairman, Messrs. Joseph Hyams, Thomas Covey, William Merrill White and Russell Harris. Cubmaster is William Bradford Gove.

Pack 3, Newton Centre, meeting at the Newton Centre Playground House on Saturday afternoon, with Committee of Otis Means, chairman, Dr. H. C. Marble, Messrs. William B. Ness, B. L. Brittain and Franklin Trube. Cubmaster is Mr. Donald Kitchen.

Pack 2, affiliated with Troop 7B, West Newton, meeting at the Davis School in that village, with Committee of Mr. H. J. Nodine, chairman, Messrs. Arthur Murphy, Edwin Benson, Robert Burns, Chester Redd, Louis Myers, Frederick Potter. Cubmaster is Mr. W. R. Speirs.

Pack 5, meeting at 139 Hancock street in that village. Scout Edmund Hawes of Troop 2, Auburndale, is acting Cubmaster. This Pack is the newest and is not yet registered, but will be soon.

Pack 1, affiliated with Grace Church, Newton, has for its Committee Mr. William Ford, chairman, and Messrs. James H. Mills and Lyon Earl. Cubmaster is Mr. Morrow. These six Cub Packs have a total membership of somewhat over 100 Cubs.

The Cubs held a Palava, as it is called at Scoutland, adjoining Norumbega Council's Ohio Reservation in Dover, at which about 100 Cubs and Cubbers were present. The program consisted of singing, the Grand Owl, a hike through the woods and ended with all cooking supper in the woods. This was the first Cub Palava, as such Cub get-togethers are called, ever held in New England.

At the present time, the Cub Division is conducting a Cubbers' Training Course at the Council Office, 259 Walnut street, Newtonville, where leaders and prospective leaders are learning Cub songs, games, crafts, principles of Cubbing and handling Cubs and the Cub organization.

The Cub program in Newton has successfully passed through the experimental stage and is ready for a controlled, steady growth.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. Bentley

AD 1 THING AND ANOTHER

The crispy weather has caused many of the hatless brigade to drop out of line and take cover.

Oddments

It happened that I was among the passengers of a Newton-bound trolley the other afternoon when, at the Arlington street subway station a man, rushing to get on, arrived as the doors were closed. Riled with passion, he drove his fist through the glass of the door and fled before he could be arrested. Lucky for the rolling stock of the Elevated that the rest of us are able to repress our emotions.

The many appeals to the "intelligence of the electorate" are becoming embarrassing. We know it means us—you and me—and the least we may do is to properly acknowledge the compliment. This, however, is impossible. Not that we haven't plenty of intelligence to spread around, but the law compels us to stick to one candidate.

Somebody has inquired, rather peevishly, it seems to me, "Now that they've got the new city hall in the centre of the city how are we going to get there if we don't possess automobiles?" Long ago I solved that problem. Ask the man who owns one.

Tons of Information

You've probably received through the mail a 35-page booklet, "Official Information to Voters." This isn't saying that you'll read it. That's for you to decide and before you toss the little booklet aside remember that thousands and thousands of dollars of the State's money has been spent to prepare it for you. Accent on the you, please, as the radio announcers would say.

"What's it all about?" you ask. There, there, you mustn't expect this column to give any such space to the deep and ponderous measures "submitted to voters under amendments to the constitution, article XLVIII; General provisions IV." Of course, if I were speaking off-hand I could say that you are going to have a chance to vote on three questions. The first is whether you want the State to legalize the practice of chiropractic. The second is whether you want to amend the State primary law and have conventions of the political parties in the Spring to pick out and endorse candidates to be voted for at the regular State primaries in the Fall. The third is whether Congress should abolish "Lame Duck" sessions. A "lame duck" is a member of Congress who has failed of reelection. Under the constitution he may attend the short session of Congress which is convened after he has been defeated. If the constitution were changed, as proposed, he would retire as soon as the votes are counted, as the late or December session would be abolished. Now, if anybody doesn't understand what I have tried to explain the time to ask questions is here and now for I have something else to say.

Very well, let us take up the work of getting this booklet before you. It is sent, if you like figures, to at least 1,800,000 registered voters. Every registered voter is supposed to get one. Yes, even those who registered during the final hours of the closing day of registration. The State even sends booklets out the day before election when some registrars of voters in this or that city or town are tardy in submitting the names of newly registered voters.

Did I tell you that all this is done by the Secretary of State's office? There a big staff of temporary clerks is doing the job. They start in July addressing envelopes, or at least preparing the lists of registered voters. And on and on until the eve of State election the first Tuesday after the second Monday in November (sounds like the title of a song) these booklets are being printed and mailed.

The mailing is quite a job itself. They stuff the mail pouches right in the State House. There are 2500 pouches or more crammed full. The system is an excellent one for the sacks are all sorted before they leave and there is nothing for the postoffice department to do but to ship them to the destination where carriers deliver them. All very thoughtful of the Secretary of State's office, if you ask the postoffice people.

You still may refuse to believe that there are people who read this booklet because it may appear to you as uninteresting, heavy, dry and technical. Well, people do write in and ask to have copies mailed them. I've seen the letters—bunches of them. No, I've never seen anybody studying the booklet. But then I can't keep track of everything.

It Happened in Newton

Let us first get the picture. It is morning, between 8 and 9 o'clock, and youngsters are on their way to school. Two of them, dainty mites of girlhood, are headed for the first grade in the Underwood School. They wore only socks which means their chubby legs are bare.

A dignified and kindly gentleman of slightly past middle life is beaming on the youngsters. It is a sight that pleases all of us and, as we would do, he smiles benignly. The bare legs of the two little girls catch his eye because the morning is a chilly one.

"Dear me," he says, with deep solicitude, "your little legs must be cold, aren't they?" Looking up, one of the pert little misses inquires, snappishly, "Is your face cold?"

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Everlasting Punishment" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, October 30.

The Golden Text is: "Woe to the rebellious children, saith the Lord, that take counsel, but not of me; and that cover with a covering, but not of my spirit, that they may add sin to sin" (Isaiah 30:1).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "My son, despise not the chastening of the Lord; neither be weary of his correction: for whom the Lord loveth he correcteth; even as a father the son in whom he delighteth" (Proverbs 3:11,12).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Do you ask wisdom to be merciful and not to punish sin? Then 'ye ask amiss.' Without punishment, sin would multiply. Jesus' prayer, 'Forgive us our debts,' specified also the terms of forgiveness. When forgiving the adulterous woman he said, 'Go, and sin no more.' A magistrate sometimes remits the penalty, but this may be no moral benefit to the criminal, and at best, it only saves the criminal from one form of punishment. The moral law, which has the right to acquit or condemn, always demands restitution before mortals can 'go up higher'" (p. 10).

Kiwanis Club

Rev. Bullock, who formerly was pastor of the Centenary Methodist Church of Auburn, recently returned from a European trip and on Tuesday related his experiences to the members of the Newton Kiwanis Club at the weekly meeting of that organization in the Charles River Country Club.

"During my visits to many cities and towns of England," the speaker said, "I met and talked with young men 25 years old who have never yet had a job and I have mingled with men 45 and 50 years old who haven't worked in 10 years. The spirit of these men is entirely gone. They are utterly demoralized. They have no hope of getting work and never expect to work again. If you think unemployment conditions here are dark you should have seen conditions in Cornwall, as I saw them, where 1700 men are walking the streets of this small town."

Rev. Bullock spoke at length on the English dole system, which he explained, is in reality the nickname for the unemployment insurance inaugurated by Lloyd George during the war. The folks over there, he said, refer to the dole as "going on Lloyd George." The British never expected this unemployment insurance would demand so much from the nation, but in Rev. Bullock's opinion it has saved the country from revolution. It is not at all uncommon for men and their families to live contentedly on the dole, much better off than they would be if only the head of the family was working. Out of the dole they still pay on the insurance for their wives and children, thus receiving income from three or four doles, where formerly there was only one source, the income from the father's wages. In addition to those entitled to the dole, the poor of the cities and towns are taken care of as paupers by the governments of those communities.

Taxation in England was explained by the speaker, who declared that Americans in comparison have little cause to complain. "You don't know what taxation is here," he said. "In England there is a 25 per cent income tax. For them the war is not yet over. In their daily life can still be seen the scars of the Great World War. It is great to go speeding across the Atlantic ocean to visit foreign lands to see how the other fellow is getting on, he concluded, "but it is finer, I tell you, to come back where the sky is full of sunlight and the flag is full of stars."

Weeks Junior High

On every Thursday the pupils of the school take part in the activity of some club. Thirty-four teachers act as sponsors of these clubs which are thirty in number. Among the new clubs which have been added this fall are: The Camper, Debating, Puzzle, Railroad, Travel and Typewriting Clubs. In each club business is carried on according to parliamentary order.

The Railroad Club has adopted a system of promotions as a special incentive for the members. Starting with the position of conductor, "the railroad crew" is promoted by a point system through the many offices to the rank of master mechanic. A miniature railroad system is being installed in the club room. The Travel Club has obtained circulars from different travel bureaus. Each club member is making a notebook on some tour. Mr. Carr has taken motion pictures of the Sports Club and the Hiking Club. It is his hope to obtain as many of these pictures as possible and show these reels to the pupils at various times.

The Student Council and Student Patrol presented a program before the students on Wednesday. The problems of the Council and the Patrol together with a presentation of facts concerning school citizenship, sportsmanship, and spirit were delivered by Jane Dealy, Harvey Cibul, William Bradley, Betty Tobin, Jane Nathanson, and Charles Callahan. A piano solo by Leslie White and an instrumental trio composed of Anson Piper, Maurice Reidy, and Ernest Coughlan added a musical touch to the program. "Rah, Rah for Weeks" rang forth as an appropriate close of this enthusiastic program.

One of the most important features in the athletic program is the organization of the Girls' Athletic Association, popularly known as the G.A.A. Every girl is invited to become a member of this organization which will control after school activity in sports. The following officers have been elected: President, Elena Ciccone; Vice President, Jeannette Moses; Secretary, Rosetta Warren; Treasurer, Anne Livingston. These girls, with the help of representatives from each of the three classes, form a board which is at present drawing up a constitution.

Hockey and soccer are the major activities now being carried on after school. A varsity soccer team has been selected, and for their first game they will play the alumnae of the Weeks Junior High now attending the Senior High. The manager, Betty Marvin, is arranging for games with the Warren Day and Bigelow Junior High Schools.

NEWTON BOY COMPOSES SONG

Newton D. Baker Warns Community Chest

Says Idleness of Youth Is Dangerous

Newton D. Baker, former secretary of war, and chairman of the Welfare and Relief Mobilization of 1932, has issued a warning in a statement received today at the headquarters of the Newton Community Chest, against reduction of constructive work for boys and girls. Mr. Baker based his warning on a report on delinquency prevention and youth programs submitted by national social service agencies co-operating in the mobilization.

Among other things in the report, it is shown that today 200,000 young people, mostly under 20 years, are wandering about the country seeking to find a foothold somewhere; that 100 cities report a 30 per cent increase in attendance in 1,000 recreational centers; and that boys' clubs announce thousands of boys unable to get work are returning to them for education and recreation.

In his comment on the report, Mr. Baker said: "Any community which does not at this time guard the interests of its boys and girls and unemployed men and women is committing a mistake for which it is bound to pay later. The question before us today is how best to maintain those things which are essential to civic and industrial well-being with the funds at our disposal. The past has shown us that crime, ill-health, and loss of morale are expensive."

"We spend millions each year on police courts and prisons. Experience should have taught us by this time the value and economy of reinforcing essential services. It is not a question of whether or not as citizens or a community we can afford a character-building and recreational program at this time, but rather whether we can afford to get along without one. Youth cannot wait for a return of better days. Courage, morale and wise guidance are needed today for all ages, as they have seldom been in the history of the country."

RECENT EVENTS

Community Service Club of West Newton

In spite of inclement weather, a goodly number of members and guests attended the opening meeting of the Community Service Club of West Newton, on October 19th, in the Second Church.

Mrs. Frank S. Tower, the new president, extended a gracious message of greeting to Club members, old and new, with the hope of a season of activity and cooperation.

Mrs. Tower called attention to the concert on November 13th, in the Newton High School, by the Fiedler Sinfonietta, for the benefit of the Stearns School Centre.

Mr. P. F. Bander, secretary of the Newton Community Chest, spoke briefly of the aims, hopes, and operation of that activity.

The speaker for the afternoon was Stanley Ross Fisher, well-known both in the East and the West as a lecturer on current events and international relations; and known in England for his summer preaching at City Temple, Westminster Chapel, and other London churches, and for distinguished service during war years. During the peace conference, and after, he served as co-pastor of the American Church in Paris. Recently he has travelled over large sections of China and was a member of the Fact-Finding Commission under the Rockefeller Foundation, composed of ten American educators, physicians, sociologists, and economists, together with Chinese educators and interpreters, making a full and impartial survey of social, political, educational and religious conditions in China. His statements, therefore, carried weight from knowledge and experience.

The final report of this commission is due and will be awaited with interest. Among other things will be the results of the investigation as to what has been done by American missionaries and with American money.

Mr. Fisher believes that it is important to understand the people of the Orient, especially of China, because it is the oldest contemporary civilization; authentic history of China dating back 5,500 years; and having much to give, not only of artistic and literary worth, but also of religious.

The first impression in China, he stated, was of the awful suffering which makes it commonplace to see people in public places piteously begging for food, and where in two provinces alone 5,000,000 people literary starved to death. He expressed great admiration for the change in twenty-five years from a Feudal Empire, which other nations have taken hundreds of years to accomplish; and he pled for patience with China, and for help in whatever directions are possible.

Following the program, Miss Nella J. Pearson and Mrs. R. F. Koops presided at a charmingly decorated table, where refreshments were served under the direction of a committee headed by Mrs. G. F. Earnshaw.

Newton Federation

On Monday, October 24th, at 10 a. m., the Executive Board of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs held its first meeting for the 1932-1933 season at the Newton Library. The Board voted last spring to change its time of meeting from afternoon to forenoon, which eliminated the Library of the Technical High School from their use.

After the reading of reports of the last meeting, Mrs. Samuel N. Braman, president, introduced some of the new members of the Board, and then called attention to some changes which have occurred in the personnel since the printing of the new Year Book. Regret was expressed regarding the resignation of Mrs. Raymond Green, as chairman of the Education committee, who has been replaced by Mrs. Maynard Hutchinson. Mrs. Hutchinson served for nine years on the School committee. The president expressed regret that the data concerning the Mothers' Rest Association was inadvertently omitted in the printing of the Year Book, and supplied a list of the officers.

Mrs. Arthur W. Lane, of Auburndale, chairman of the Civic or Community Service committee, spoke of the status of her committee's work in its care of the Community Clothing Chest. This work is to be carried on much the same as last year, and the committee is awaiting the removal of the city hall officials from the old building at which time the Clothing Chest will occupy the basement.

The committee has arranged its schedule so that the Clubs will assume responsibility as follows: Tuesday, Community Service Club of West Newton; Mrs. Benjamin G. Rae, chairman; West Newton Women's Educational Club, Mrs. Ethel P. Leach, chairman; and Social Science Club, Mrs. F. Marsena Butts, chairman; Wednesday, Newton Community Club, Mrs. Harry M. Weber, chairman; Waban Woman's Club, Mrs. E. W. Bartram, chairman; and Auburndale Woman's Club, Mrs. Joseph C. McCarron, chairman; Thursday, Woman's Club of Newton Highlands, Mrs. T. Jarvis Preble, chairman; Newtonville Woman's Club, Inc., Mrs. Edmund L. Decker, chairman; and Newton Centre Woman's Club, Mrs. James E. Doliver, chairman. The remaining members of this committee will be on call to serve when needed.

Too much emphasis cannot be put upon the need for clothing for the present and coming winter seasons. The Federation voted to appropriate a sum of money for the purchase of yarn so that the splendid work of last year in knitting sweaters may be duplicated this fall and winter. Miss Miriam Drury, 334 Franklin street, Newton, N. Y. N. 3380-M, will be glad to give information and to furnish wool for this use.

The Legislative committee, headed by Mrs. Charles E. Valentine, will also include committee work on International Relations.

Mrs. Valentine intends to plan an opportunity when Clubwomen may visit and inspect the new City Hall.

The Program committee, represented by Mrs. Victor P. Ratzburg, announces a most interesting program for the Fall meeting to be held November 14th, at the Second Congregational Church, West Newton. All Clubwomen are urged to save that date. For officers and chairmen of committees of Clubs, there will be two sessions; for all Clubwomen there will be an afternoon session, with prominent speakers. WOMEN'S CLUBS ing, the new ruling of the Federation regarding voting will be practised for the first time, and a plan has been worked out, which was explained by Mrs. J. Earle Parker, a vice-president, whereby the delegates, who will all have voting power, will receive delegates' tickets signed by the secretaries of their own Clubs and issued by them. The Luncheon tickets for this Fall Meeting have been sent to the different Clubs, and members are requested to reserve them as early as possible to facilitate the work of Mrs. C. H. Lippincott and her committee.

Mrs. Braman called attention to the request of the Red Cross for a Year Book from each Club.

At the close of this business meeting, Mrs. Frank H. Stewart, of the Newton Centre Club, a director of the Federation, and who is a member of the Massachusetts Committee, spoke informally regarding the National Economy League, asking that the different Clubs interest themselves in this movement. The Newton quota is 12,000 signatures with or without money contribution. The week of November 20th to 27th has been set as the membership week, when Mr. Raymond Cabot, of Newtonville, will direct the work for the 9th Congressional District. It is hoped that the entire voting list will enroll.

Mrs. Paul E. Ellicker, a new director in the Federation, will have the Federation alliance with the League under her supervision. This movement and the furtherance of the new Community Chest are to have the hearty endorsement of the Federation.

As many as possible to stimulate interest in these two most worthwhile projects.

Concerning the Newton Community Chest, which will be in shape to function in the near future, Mr. Paul Bauder, secretary of that organization and chairman of the Campaign Committee, explained many of the details of its formation, and bespoke the efforts of the Federation in its behalf. Organized with such a fine personnel, this institution, new for Newton, is expected to care for the needs of the community efficiently.

Mr. Bauder stressed the fact, which was not always evident, that not only the charitable organizations are in this combination, but also the groups interested in character-building, and which influence the morale of future citizens. This new Community Chest will carry on a program of work for so many years ably managed by the Central Council, and may, perhaps, be classed as a clearing house for Newton's philanthropies. Their campaign will run from November 17th to 30th.

Mrs. Hutchinson, of Newton Highlands, is the leader in the Federation for operation in this work, and is also chairman of the Speakers' Bureau.

With these two big objectives and many lesser ones, toward which the Federation bends its efforts, the Club Year is shown to be an extremely busy and interesting one.

Auburndale Woman's Club
